MAYOR WEAVER GETS A SETBACK

Supreme Bench Sends Gas Political Fight Back to the Lower Court.

GREAT MASS MEETING HELD

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Press Building, PHILADELPHIA, PA., May 26.

Chief Justice Mitchell of the supreme court tonight made an order that the records in the political gas case be returned to common pleas court for final determination. This means Judge Ralston of common pleas court No. 5 is given jurisdiction to dissolve or make permanent his injunction against Mayor Weaver and Directors Potter and Acker.

An anti-gas lease demonstration was held tonight at the Academy of Music. Supplementary to this was the action of the Schuylkill county members of the state senate and house of representatives who at an informal meeting decided to ask Gov. Pennypacker to call a special session of the legislature to "rip" Mayor Weaver out of office, the delegation offering to serve during the special session without compensation.

As an excuse for this peculiar action the Schuylkill members assert they believe a business proposition, i. e. the gas lease, should not be made a political issue, and they further affirm if it is made an issue they wish to be recorded in sympathy with the Republican city organization as against the movement controlled by the Wanamaker interests. This is the substance of a report submitted this afternoon by the Schuylkill leaders to Senator Boies Penrose.

Both Sides Claim the Votes.

Israel W. Durham and Senator Boies Penrose had an all-day session at the latter's offices in the Arcade building. Ex-Directors Smyth and Costello were present. Nearly every ward leader and councilman saw Mr. Durham. No statements for publication were made. The proxy information was that Mr. Durham was trying to hold intact his councilmanic strength; that he was making every effort to hold solid enough votes to override the mayor's veto when it is transmitted to councils next Thursday.

Mayor Weaver's friends claim they made many converts today. Eight common councilmen, they say, have agreed to support the mayor. Sixteen more are needed. In the select branch a gain of seven is claimed. Ten more are required.

The organization gives no figures. It says it has the votes and intimates certain members claimed by Mayor Weaver will not support him when the hour of action arrives. This may be true, but predictions, at this time, are valueless. Much depends upon the action of Judge Ralston next Monday. If he makes permanent the injunction it will give new courage to the organization. An appeal from his decision to the supreme court will be possible, but a decision in the higher tribunal would hardly be handed down until after Thursday, when the gas lease will be finally disposed of so far as councils are concerned.

Impeachment Papers Drawn.

Impeachment rumors, rife last night, did not assume substantial shape today. That the organization is willing to accept this dernier resort no one doubts, but it is evidently waiting until all other measures fail. Upon the highest authority it may be stated the papers in such a proceeding have been prepared and will be filed if the necessity arises. Should Judge Ralston Monday make permanent his injunction it is not probable an effort to impeach the mayor will be made in the immediate future. With Directors Acker and Potter restrained from exercising control of the departments of public works and public safety, and prevented from making wholesale dismissals of men friendly to the Republican organization, there will be no reason to force Mayor Weaver from office.

Officially the only anti-organization today was an action of Director of Public Works Acker in ordering a withdrawal of the advertisements for street cleaning bids. The bids were to be received and opened June 1. Senator George Vare and his brother have had these contracts for several years. Politically, the Vares are

BARNSDALL BUYS M'BRIDE GUSHER

It Is Believed He Will Fight Jennings Brothers for Schlegel Lease.

CONSIDERATION IS $190,000

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

BUTLER, May 26.—McBride, McCool & Co. this afternoon sold their gusher on the Dr. O. K. Waldron farm and the leases composing their other holdings in the field to the Southern Oil Co., of which Theodore N. Barnsdall of Pittsburgh is the president and principal stockholder. The consideration is said to be $190,000. Michael Finnegan of Pittsburgh, who owned three-eighths of the property, refused to sell for a time, but finally was induced to part with half his share, retaining three-sixteenths.

The leases with the well are 40 acres on the Waldron, 20 on the Lemmon, 40 on the Hartung, 80 on the Duffy, and 22 on the Gideon Schlaegel heirs farm, for which a lease was also executed by them to the Jennings Brothers after the big well came in, and which the Jennings' now hold under a guard of 30 armed men. Since the big well was struck 17 days ago it has cleared its owners, above the cost of drilling and the eighth royalty paid to Dr. Waldron, at least $22,000, which makes McBride's profit on his fourth interest in the venture amount to $53,000. Peter F. McCool, who also owned a fourth, makes as much. Under the terms of the sale McBride, McCool & Co. are to complete the rig started on the Lemmon farm. Their well on the Hartung farm is now down several hundred feet.

Barnsdall is known among oil men as an aggressive operator, and is reported to have said several days ago that if he were in McBride, McCool & Co.'s place, he would take possession of the Schlaegel heirs' lease, and it is probable that he and his men will enter on the lease, which the Jennings Brothers are also claiming. Such a move will be met with armed resistance and blood is almost sure to flow. The lease to McBride, McCool & Co. was executed several days before the big well was struck by one of the Schlaegel heirs, who held a power of attorney from the rest. Two of the heirs also signed it individually. After the well was struck, it is claimed, it was discovered that the power of attorney controlled only the surface, and all the heirs then joined in a lease to the Jennings Brothers. McBride claims his lease was given in good faith and all the heirs considered themselves bound. The gusher is reported as averaging 45 barrels an hour today. There are now 11 wells drilling in the field.

ANOTHER ARREST PROBABLE.

It Is Now Claimed That Man Bought Poison, Which Was Administered to Blackshire.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., May 26.—(Special.)—Another turn has been taken in the sensational Blackshire murder case from Calhoun county. In addition to Mrs. Blackshire, who is accused of hiring Lewis Hendricks and "Bud" McCloskey to kill her husband, and these two men, all of whom are in jail, it is now said there was another accomplice. A man who is a friend of Mrs. Blackshire and who it is alleged wanted the husband out of the way, will probably be arrested. It is now said Blackshire had been poisoned and was absolutely helpless when he was killed.

The man suspected came to Parkersburg a few days before the murder and bought some poison. Finding that it was too slow in its effect, the shooting is said to have been arranged.

Act on W. C. Jutte's Death.

CINCINNATI, May 26.—(Special.)—The Cincinnati chamber of commerce today passed resolutions on the death of W. C. Jutte, the coal man of Pittsburgh. Mr. Jutte was a member of the chamber for many years.

STOCKHOLM, May 26.—King Oscar today resumed the reins of government after his recent illness, during which Crown Prince Gustave acted as regent.

ERIE MAY OBTAIN TERMINAL ROADS

In connection with the reorganization of the "Consolidated Terminal Railroad Company" and the "Monongahela & Streets Run Railroad Company," now under way, rumors of a plan of the Erie railroad to enter Pittsburgh on its own tracks have been revived.

The purchase of the property of the Tree of Life congregation in Ross street and other recent real estate purchases in the same vicinity have been connected up with an Erie deal in rumors among real estate men for some little time past.

It is stated that by the time of the expiration of the Erie-Lake Shore-Pittsburgh & Lake Erie traffic contract, the Erie could have a line of its own operating into Pittsburgh. It is said that only three years more of this contract remain.

A meeting will be held on June 6 to organize a new corporation to take over the two terminal railroads which were recently bought at sheriff's sale by J. B. Van Wagener. Mr. Van Wagener and others, whose names appear in the advertisement, are employes of the Kuhn interests, and it is generally believed that the latter are back of the new deal, so far as the terminal roads are concerned. The meeting is to be held at the office of the American Waterworks and Guarantee Company.

These roads possess valuable franchises, very similar to the ones which let the Wabash into Pittsburgh. They were promoted some time ago by W. E. Tustin, the real estate man, and a well-known Pittsburgh engineer had charge of the locations. The route passes up Streets run to a tunnel under the Mt. Lebanon summit and then takes a direct course for McKees Rocks.

Surveys made repeatedly provide for a railroad on the side-hill above the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie tracks from McKees Rocks to Youngstown. This survey was made once for the West Side Belt line while it was still independent.

It is known that President F. D. Underwood has set his eye on Pittsburgh as one of the cities which the Erie must reach directly. Changed conditions have come about since the tripartite agreement was made, and it is doubtful if the Erie could secure the renewal of the contract. The Big Four is ready at any time to build to Youngstown to connect directly with the Lake Erie.

SECRETARY SHAW IS NOT DISCUSSING PRESIDENCY

DES MOINES, IA., May 26.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, who was the guest of the Bankers club today at a luncheon, repeated his declaration that government finances were in no danger. "No one is authorized to say that I will be a candidate for the presidency," said the secretary, in answer to a question. "It is a subject which I do not care even to discuss."

COUNTY MAY BUY CHURCH

COURTHOUSE ANNEX

Scheme Is to Erect a Hall of Records and 10-Story Office Building.

COULD USE MORE GROUND

Allegheny county, through Commissioner James Evans, yesterday made an offer of $250,000 for the Third United Presbyterian church property in Diamond street, near Ross. The ground is needed for the erection of a 10-story annex to the court house.

The county has abandoned the plan of purchasing the Fourth Avenue Baptist church property. The congregation asked $800,000 for the holding, and the price was considered prohibitive by the commissioners. After the abandonment of the scheme to take in the square bounded by Diamond and Ross streets, Fourth avenue and Maloney alley, it was decided to secure the Third United Presbyterian church site, if it could be gotten at a reasonable price.

The commissioners have been dickering with the church officials for some time. The county owns the old university building, with a frontage in Diamond of 100 feet and a depth of 115. The church property is 96x115. With this plot, practically 200x115 feet, the county could erect a hall of records and office building large enough to care for the needs of the county for years to come.

Offer of $250,000.

The negotiations for the church are being conducted by Attorney Marshall Johnston. The congregation made a proposal to sell its property for $460,000. Commissioner Evans refused to consider the price. After careful consideration of the question, the county yesterday decided it would give $250,000 for the plot. This is over $2,500 a foot front, and is as high as the county will go. If it is necessary to make the purchase by condemnation proceedings, the commissioners are of the opinion that the property can be gotten for less than $250,000. About five years ago, when the church was partially destroyed by fire, the county dickered for the purchase of the site. It could then have been bought for $150,000. An increase of $100,000 is considered an extremely large advance. There was a sale yesterday in Fourth avenue near Ross street of a property, which brought $1,200 a foot front. The last sale in the business section of Diamond, below Wood street, was for $4,500 a foot front. The church people have not indicated what they would do with the $250,000 offer.

May Purchase Maloney Property.

The county has been giving some attention to the Maloney, Marshall and the Ehrenstrom properties, which occupy a plot with a frontage of 121 feet in Diamond street and extend back along Grant street and Maloney alley a depth of 115 feet. The piece is held at about $1,000,000. M. F. Maloney is the principal owner. The price is considered entirely too high and is said to be based upon the worth of the property with the hump removed. The commissioners cannot see why they should pay the excessive price and believe that if effort is made to secure the ground by condemnation proceedings the value would be figured on the present worth of the property and not what it would bring if the court house hill is cut away. By the purchasing of this plot the county would have a depth of 115 feet in Diamond street, the full length of the court house. Should this additional purchase be made, it is not probable that a 10-story building would be erected. The annex could then be made to conform to the architecture of the main structure.

Hall of Records.

Mr. Evans says that the hall of records and additional offices are needed to relieve the congestion in the court house. With a site 200x115 feet, he says a 10-story building could be erected which would care for the needs of the county for many years to come. The structure would be connected with the court house by an overhead passage.

Mr. Evans is of the opinion the street car tracks could be taken off Diamond street, the cars going along Fourth avenue and up Ross street. This would remove much of the noise and would allow the use of the first floor of the court house for court rooms. It is his plan to remove nearly all of the offices to the new building. While he has not figured on the total cost of the purchase of the ground and the erection of the building, Mr. Evans is of the opinion the expenditure would not exceed $1,000,000.

CHINESE SHIPS PREPARE TO FIGHT

Demand Is Made That Russian Vessels Leave Shanghai Within 24 Hours.

FLEET OFF SADDLE ISLANDS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

TOKYO, May 27.—(Noon.)—It is rumored here that the Japanese and Russian fleets under Vice Admiral Togo and Vice Admiral Rojestvensky have engaged in the Korean straits.

LONDON, May 27.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Express says: "All the Chinese cruisers in these waters cleared for action today and the Taotai went to the Russian consulate and demanded that the Russian ships leave within 24 hours."

Cabling from Shanghai, the correspondent of the Daily Mail says he believes the vessels of the Russian Baltic squadron off Saddle Islands have proceeded on their voyage and gives a rumor that the main Russian fleet is in the neighborhood of Fuchan (province of Shantung.)

SHANGHAI, May 27.—There are indications that Rear Admiral Rojestvensky has divided his fleet. Seventeen vessels of the Baltic fleet were anchored at Saddle Island yesterday, but left last night. It is believed they coaled there, and from that point will proceed north. The Saddle Islands are a group of 25 small islands, situated about 60 miles southeast of Shanghai.

The Chinese authorities ordered the vessels of the Russian volunteer fleet which were anchored off Woosung to leave within 24 hours. The Russians thus far have entirely ignored the order.

LONDON, May 27.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Express says: "All the Chinese cruisers in these waters cleared for action today, and the taotai went to the Russian consulate and demanded the Russian ships leave within 24 hours."

Cabling from Shanghai, the correspondent of the Daily Mail says he believes the vessels of the Russian Baltic squadron off Saddle Islands have proceeded on their voyage, and gives a rumor that the main Russian fleet is in the neighborhood of Fuchan, province of Shangtung. The correspondent says President Roosevelt has wired the viceroy and taotai commending their steps to preserve Chinese neutrality.

The correspondent of the Standard at Shanghai says that the Russian transports now at Woosung were convoyed by the cruisers Rion and Smolensk.

TSINGTAU, May 26.—The whole Russian fleet is assembled near Woosung, and the German squadron at Tsingtau is preparing for eventualities.

This is in all probability a magnified version of the dispatch from Shanghai yesterday saying it was credibly reported there that certain Russian vessels had arrived at the mouth of the Yangtse river yesterday afternoon. There is no doubt if the entire Russian fleet really had assembled off Woosung, such important news would have been flashed from Shanghai which is only 11 miles south of that place.

LAST TRIBUTE TO DEAN.

At His Funeral Monday Addresses Will Be Made by Chief Justice Mitchell and Others.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, May 26.—(Special.)—The funeral services of the late supreme court justice John Dean will be held at his late home here on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Immediately prior to the funeral the bar association will hold a memorial service at the court house. Addresses will be delivered by Chief Justice James T. Mitchell of the supreme court and other prominent lawyers of the state.

A special train will arrive here from Philadelphia Monday at noon, conveying the supreme court justices and other public men.

PAYS $81,375 FOR CUP.

J. Pierpont Morgan Buys Sixteenth Century Drinking Vessel at Remarkable Price.

LONDON, May 26.—A small sixteenth century drinking cup, carved out of rock crystal and mounted and enameled with gold, was sold at auction here this afternoon for the remarkable price of $81,375.

It was stated the cup was purchased for J. Pierpont Morgan of New York. It belonged to John Gabbitas of London, who placed the reserve price at only $25,000. There has been much discussion as to its authenticity, but the British museum has pronounced it genuine.

Received Church Reports.

WASHINGTON, IA., May 26.—At today's session of the general assembly of the United Presbyterian church reports of colleges, seminaries and foreign missions were read.

VOTES DOWN PRAYER BOOK

General Assembly Staves Off Matter Until Its Next Meeting.

IS WARMLY DEBATED

Many Clergymen Will Use the Service Despite Fact It Is Unauthorized.

PRINCETON INN IS CENSURED

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM The Rev. S. S. Gilson, Staff Correspondent.

WINONA LAKE, IND., May 26.—The book of "forms and ceremonies" was under fire today for over two hours in the Presbyterian general assembly, and was recommitted for a final hearing next year. All kinds of motions were made, amendments and substitutes offered, points of order raised, and half a hundred speeches made, while the air was hazy with the words "Episcopalian, ritualistic, ceremonial and liturgic." But in the end the action was unanimous.

The Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dyke made every possible effort to have the book adopted, simply for "voluntary use," and have the assembly order the latter words to be printed on the title page of the book.

Before the assembly met this afternoon a hundred commissioners climbed over seats and tables to get at the stated clerk's desk, where a man appeared with an armful of the Van Dyke prayer books. Several young ministers in the pushing crowd said they would take the book home and use them, no matter what action the assembly might take. The demand has completely exhausted the large edition.

Pleads for His Books.

Dr. Van Dyke, chairman of the committee on forms of service, who presented the prayer book and who was largely instrumental in compiling it, said:

"I hate rituals and forms of ceremonies, but we have here a voluntary service for those who want it, for the common democracy in the Presbyterian church. I cannot bear to have it called even a liturgy. If I wanted to commit suicide I would use some other way than trying to compose a liturgy for the Presbyterian church. But 1,000 Presbyterian ministers have written to the committee for a book of worship. Go into a Presbyterian church today and you do not know what is coming next. Of course you know the collection is not coming first." (Laughter.)

A motion by a commissioner to approve the report started the opposition. Amid a babel of voices James H. Wiley of Minneapolis was recognized, and declared vehemently the committee had overstepped the bounds of its authority.

Harlan Defends Ritual.

Then came a storm of applause when Justice John M. Harlan began a defense of the committee's work.

"There are men who cannot pray in public or private, and if such man wants to use a written prayer, why not let him do it? There are written prayers in the Bible, so it recognizes them."

Some speakers were on the floor to about only a sentence for or against the prayer book, and there was a deep rumble of men's voices as commissioners talked with each other while others were trying to get in brief speeches. Most of the gray-haired commissioners who spoke were against the book of prayers, while a majority of the young men were for it.

Finally, Justice Harlan offered a substitute motion to send the question back to an enlarged committee, the report to be published and distributed among the churches for a test, and the next assembly to pass on the report. This was carried.

How the Book Was Made.

Dr. Van Dyke's report on the prayer book, said in part:

We found it necessary in some cases to abbreviate or to amend certain forms in order to bring them into closer harmony with the living faith and the practical needs of our churches. For example, the spirit of mission, the evangelistic impulse, the interest in civic and social welfare and temperance, the desire for the triumph of the kingdom of Christ, demanded a clearer and stronger expression than we could find in the historic liturgies. It is to be noted that "prayers for our country," as we found them, were evidently adaptations of ancient prayers in which a fundamental distinction between "the rulers" and "the people" was taken for granted. It seemed to us needful to write new prayers recognizing God's goodness to our country in establishing the commonwealth according to the people's will and giving us officers whose authority is a public trust.

It was pointed out to us that the proportion of prayers beginning with the address "Almighty God" was too large; the words became monotonous; they emphasized unduly a single attribute of the divine nature. The changes necessary to correct this fault have been made. We were asked also to add a number of prayers suitable for use in family worship, and to prepare a brief form which could be used by a company of Christians desirous to worship together where there was no church service or an minister present. Both of these additions have been made.

What the Book Contains.

The book as now submitted contains forms and services for the following occasions:

Morning and evening worship on the Lord's day.

Public worship on land or sea (where there are no regular church ordinances).

The Lord's Supper.

The baptism of infants.

The baptism of adults.

The reception of those baptized in infancy, to the Lord's Supper.

The solemnization of marriage.

The burial of the dead.

The ordination of a minister.

The sacramental services embody, in the addresses, prayers and rubrics, the instructions given in the Westminster directory for worship and the amended directory for worship of our own church. Passages from the confession of faith, the larger catechism and John Knox's book of common order are carefully wrought into the service.

The Westminster directory and our own directory for worship, combined and arranged, offer full material for a simple, dignified, beautiful and truthful marriage service. It seemed to the committee, after long study and careful labor, far better to use this material than to attempt an alteration of the marriage service in the Protestant Episcopal book of common prayer.

Princeton Inn Censured.

The permanent committee on temperance, located in Pittsburgh, had its annual hearing today and the leading address was made by William C. Lilley, chairman and treasurer of the committee, who was commended by the assembly for giving his time and money to the work. Prof. Charles E. Scanlon of Pittsburgh thrilled the assembly with his eloquence and announced that W. W. Smith of Poughkeepsie had furnished the money to put another agent in the field.

The Rev. Alvord Kelly of Chester presbytery severely censured the "Princeton Inn." A blanket resolution was offered by the committee, but Mr. Kelly insisted on the passage of a more specific resolution, to prohibit students under care of presbyteries from drinking at a certain institution where he said he had seen the students drink and get drunk. His resolution was adopted unanimously, prohibiting students from drinking at a public or private resort.

Prof. Scanlon said the Presbyterian board of publication had not obeyed the general assembly request to furnish temperance literature. It had not furnished one page.

Dr. Matthews said "that damnable drug, Peruna, has 76 per cent of alcohol," and queek medicines were put under the ban in a resolution.

Tobacco is Condemned.

A resolution to discourage "the use of tobacco in all forms, and especially the manufacture and sale of cigarettes," was carried by an immense majority after a hot discussion.

The report of the finance committee was adopted, showing the expenses for the general assembly last year at Buffalo to have been $34,525, with receipts of equal amount. The trustees of the general assembly holds $964,000 in securities.

In the report on church alliance, Stated Clerk W. H. Roberts said the Presbyterian church in the United States for years has been in secret correspondence with the Presbyterian church made up of 2,000,000 native Russians, who have finally won their religious freedom.

The Rev. Dr. Robert N. Russell of Pittsburgh passed the day here attending the annual meeting of the management of Winona church. He then went to Washington, Ia., to attend the meeting of the United Presbyterian assembly and report on the semi-centennial celebration, which is raising $2,000,000. Over 200 commissioners left for home tonight, and the assembly will adjourn tomorrow.

The Rev. Dr. John A. Marquis of California, left for Pittsburgh to preach on Sunday in the vacant church at Beaver. The Rev. Dr. James D. Moffat reported on the meeting of the Evangelical alliance in Liverpool, which he had attended. The following committee was appointed to consult with the presbyters of Washington on the erection of the new church planned by Justice John N. Harlan: Justice Harlan, the Rev. Dr. F. L. Patton, the Rev. Dr. H. C. Minton, the Rev. Dr. John Balcom Shaw, John C. Kennedy and John H. Converse.

MR. HAY TO CONTINUE VACATION UNTIL FALL

Prof. Groedel So Advises—He Declines Invitation of the Kaiser and King Edward.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BAD NAUHEIM, May 26.—Secretary Hay has finished the course of baths here and will start tomorrow for Paris, where Mrs. Hay awaits him. Prof. Groedel is quite satisfied with the effects of the baths on Mr. Hay, but he has advised him to abstain from all official work for several months, such a course being usually necessary after this course of treatment. Secretary Hay expects, therefore, to spend the summer at his country home and to remain there until the autumn.

Emperor William invited Mr. Hay to come to Wiesbaden and visit him, but the secretary declined upon the advice of his physician. King Edward also invited Mr. Hay to an audience, but this invitation also was declined.

During his visits to London and Paris Secretary Hay will remain very quiet and will make no formal official calls. The call of King Leopold of Belgium upon him, Thursday, took the secretary completely by surprise, as the visit was not announced beforehand.

BIG FREIGHTER BUILDING FOR PITTSBURGH INTERESTS

DETROIT, MICH., May 26.—Announcement was made here today of a contract for another large freighter secured by the Great Lakes Engineering works—a 10,000-ton vessel, 550 feet long and costing $425,000. She is to be delivered next spring to Harvey H. Brown & Co., of Cleveland and W. P. Snyder & Co., of Pittsburgh.

Young Man a Victim of a Train.

BELLEVILLE, W. VA., May 26.—(Special.)—The body of a young man, aged about 18, was found on the Baltimore & Ohio tracks here this morning, both legs and an arm being cut off. It is thought that he tried to board the train and was thrown under. In his pocket was a letter ready to mail, addressed to William Williams, Marietta, O., and signed "J. B. Leon, Coal Run, Washington county, O."

TEAMSTERS AGAIN BEGIN RIOTING

AIR RIFLES ARE BEING USED

CHICAGO, May 26.—Trouble broke out afresh today in the Teamsters' strike, and grew in violence throughout the day until tonight general rioting was prevalent in the lumber yards. Lumber wagons returning from making deliveries were attacked by crowds, armed with clubs, sling-shots and bricks, accompanied by jeering women and excited children.

At Archer avenue and Loomis street, two trucks which appeared with one policeman on each, were bombarded with stones and air rifles. A bullet from one of these weapons wounded Policeman James Fitzpatrick in the hand. The policemen drew revolvers and fired over the heads of the rioters, holding them at bay until the drivers reached their yards.

A patrol wagon and a detail of policemen were sent to protect other lumber wagons on the way home. The policemen were forced several times to jump from the wagon and charge the mobs before the streets could be sufficiently cleared to enable them to reach the lumber yards.

Assailant Brought to Bay.

In West Thirty-third street a special policeman pointed out a man who was wearing a union button and throwing bricks, as the man who had fired the shot which wounded Policeman Fitzpatrick.

"Get that man," ordered Lieut. Mooney, springing from his seat on the front of the patrol wagon. "Don't shoot him," he added, as two officers drew revolvers and started in pursuit. The man ran into a vacant lot and the officers opened fire, shooting into the ground. The man stopped and was arrested. He gave his name as Otto Topen and said he was a union teamster. A large, keen knife was taken from him.

Report today said the teamsters were planning to join the employers in a request for troops. President Shea denied he proposed such a move. Said he:

"I don't want to see troops here and if they come it will be because the employers want to do what the mine owners did when the troops were called in Pennsylvania during the strike and the coal miners were shot down."

The strike today spread in a small degree throughout the building trades. No movement is on foot looking toward a settlement. State's Attorney Healey announces he will turn the grand jury into a strike investigating body to probe all phases of the struggle.

Gigantic Strike Threatens.

The blacklist established by the Chicago express companies against their teamsters has created a panic among their employers in other cities, and a gigantic strike is threatened. Advices from express drivers in many places, received by the Chicago strike officials, say they are ready at any time to strike.

Fifty picked men will be sent to various cities to acquaint the drivers of the situation in Chicago. Some of these left tonight and others will go tomorrow. James B. Barry, business agent of the Railways Express Drivers and Conductors' union, and Thomas Hughes, business agent of the Sand, Lime and Cement Teamsters' union, left tonight for New York, ostensibly to secure funds to carry on the strike.

It is understood that for several weeks President Shea has had organizers at work in all large cities. Seventy-five per cent of his employes of the railway express companies are organized, and many of them have urged President Shea to permit them to strike in sympathy with the Chicago blacklisted drivers.

Vice President Fairbanks made an attempt today to secure concessions from the express companies, at the request of the Federation of Labor officials. The vice president afterward declared his efforts had been futile.

MRS. GENEVIEVE PHIPPS IN A NEW YORK HOSPITAL

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 26.—Mrs. Genevieve Chandler Phipps, former wife of Lawrence C. Phipps of Pittsburgh, is in the General Memorial hospital in this city recovering from an operation for the removal of a malignant growth in her neck. The operation was performed less than a week ago by Dr. Coe, assisted by several other surgeons. The growth, it is said, was not cancerous.

Announcement today that "she is resting comfortably" was the first information Mrs. Phipps' friends had that she had undergone the operation.

The operation was entirely successful, and it was said tonight that within a few days she would be able to leave the hospital and return to the Hotel Manhattan, where she makes her home when in this city.

PHELPS IS PRESIDENT.

Virginia Man Is Elected by the United Commercial Travelers' Grand Council.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., May 26.—(Special.)—The United Commercial Travelers grand council selected Washington, D. C., as the meeting place next year.

These officers were chosen: T. J. Phelps, Roanoke, Va., senior councilor; J. T. Morgan, Louisville, Ky., past senior councilor; E. O. Heible, Parkersburg, junior councilor; W. E. Connell, Charleston, conductor; W. T. Shepherd, Richmond, Va., page; E. B. Woody, Bluefield, sentinel; S. C. Mechling, Clarksburg, and J. L. Reed, Covington, Ky., members of executive committee. A parade was participated in by more than 500 members.

RESUME WORK ON PIPE LINE.

Prairie Oil & Gas Company Will Complete Operations in Kansas Which Were Suddenly Stopped.

INDEPENDENCE, KAS., May 26.—The Prairie Oil and Gas Company, which last January strung pipe for an eight-inch auxiliary pipe line from Bartlesville to the storage tanks in Kansas, and upon which line it discontinued work under the famous "shut-down" order, has resumed the work of construction, and a gang of men is laying the line from Bartlesville to Caney. It will be completed in a few weeks.

The Standard Oil Company is taking nearly 7,000 barrels of oil a day more from Kansas producers this month than it has since the last legislature adjourned. The production is so large, however, that only a part of the oil can be handled.

Spirited Primaries Today.

BUTLER, May 26.—The Republican county primaries will be held tomorrow. A spirited contest is on between two factions for control of the convention on Monday. John A. Gilliland of Summit and Harry Bricker of Penn township, have withdrawn as candidates for county auditor. The candidates for sheriff are John B. Caldwell, Alexander Campbell, A. O. Hepler, John T. Martin, David Sanderson and John H. Tebay.

To Pave All Unpaved Streets.

At a special meeting of Bellevue borough council last night provisions were made for the grading and paving of almost every unpaved street in the borough. Eighty thousand dollars' worth of bonds were sold to N. W. Halsey & Company, bankers, of New York, at a premium of $2,560. The borough tax rate for the ensuing year was fixed at 11 mills.

Paul Cambon Dines Mr. Choate.

LONDON, May 26.—Paul Cambon, the French ambassador, entertained at dinner tonight Mr. Choate, the retiring ambassador of the United States and L. Polo y Bernabe, the Spanish ambassador to Great Britain. The guests included Foreign Minister Lansdowne and Mrs. and Miss Choate.

WEAVER GETS BACKSET

very strong. It is conceded they control from six to ten wards. Weaver's action today is defined as a move to force the Vare brothers to desert Durham. They say they will not do so. If they did it would be a serious matter for the reason that at this time the Vares hold the balance of power.

A Popular Outburst.

The mass meeting at the Academy of Music was so largely attended that an overflow meeting was held in the hall of the Young Men's Christian association and another in Broad street, in front of the Academy of Music. W. W. Justice, a wool merchant, presided at the Academy meeting, and the principal address was by Charles Emory Smith, former postmaster general of the United States. Mr. Smith, before beginning his speech, announced word had just reached him that 150 citizens had called on a councilman in an outlying ward and demanded of him to pledge his vote against the lease, which he did. After Mr. Smith concluded his address another message came that a councilman in the Twenty-eighth ward had also pledged himself tonight to go along with the mayor. Mr. Smith, in his address said:

Mr. Smith spoke in part as follows:

The question of defeating the gas steal and redeeming the city is above all narrow partisanship. The attempt has been made by the plunderers to shield their raid under the name of the party organization and now that they stand trembling before the storm of popular wrath, they seek to defend themselves and hold their quaking and deserting followers under the pie that the party organization is at stake.

I deny the right of the conspirators who are banded together to gag and plunder our fair city to speak in a party name. The black flag of piracy is not the flag of Republicanism. It is not the lustrous flag of Abraham Lincoln and Ulysses S. Grant, and William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt. This attempt to cloak the foulest robbery under the mantle of party loyalty is an unholy desecration, and it is the highest duty of free men to repudiate the crime and rescue the city from the thraldom.

In such a crisis, where the highest interests of the city are at stake, where the support of a mayor who has boldly stood forth as a public champion is involved, and where your rights and honor constitute the issue, you are justified in saying to your representatives, "You cannot safely betray us. We demand you shall stand with the people against the plunderers. We shall observe the law. We shall respect the restraints of an orderly community. But if you persist in trying to bind us in the grasp of bandits we shall show you how self-respecting and self-defending men can deal with you. Make your choice."

Warned of Sudden Move.

William T. Tilden, secretary of the meeting, and also secretary of the committee of nine, made a speech in which he warned the people to watch for a shrewd move upon the part of the Republican organization. He said:

You are thinking councils will not meet until next Thursday. I warn you and want you to prepare for a meeting of councils next Monday. I have my own authority that calls for a special meeting of councils may go out late Saturday night or Sunday. You won't know it until you read it in the newspapers. The organization is desperate and wants to pass the lease before all the councilmen weaken.

I ask you, men and women, be prepared. The moment you hear the news become minute men, go peacefully to City hall and stay there and demand your rights.

A letter written by Mr. Justice, chairman of the meeting, was read in which he suggested the raising of $1,250,000 to carry on an extensive campaign against the organization and pledging himself to contribute liberally to the fund.

Amid tremendous cheering the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, by the citizens of Philadelphia in this town meeting assembled, That the hour has now struck when the people of Philadelphia, with the voice as of one man, demand that henceforth the will of the people shall be supreme, and be it further

Resolved, That we heartily commend the courage, fidelity and good common sense of John Weaver, mayor of Philadelphia, in removing from office men who have openly trampled on the rights of people whose servants they are and who have shamelessly obeyed the commands of irresponsible and self-seeking bosses.

Resolved, That we, citizens of Philadelphia, without regard to party or politics, do here by before God and man, pledge our life, liberty and sacred honor to the complete overthrow of despotic methods in municipal affairs and the restoration of the American principles for which our fathers fought, and which shall ever be our glory while we remain worthy to be called their children.

In the Y. M. C. A. halt addresses were made by a half dozen prominent citizens, including Charles Emery Smith. The resolutions adopted at the Academy meeting were read and adopted with a rousing cheer.

In Broad street three citizens were sent out to address the crowd from a barouche. Mayor Weaver's name was cheered every time it was mentioned. The outdoor meeting closed with the singing of "Nearer, My God To Thee," and "My Country 'Tis of Thee."

The struggle to hold or win councilmen is growing so hot that many of the "city fathers" have expressed the wish they had never been elected to the legislative body. They declare they owe all their success in life to the organization and that it would be an extreme act of disloyalty to go back on their leaders in a time of trouble. On the other hand, the pressure brought to bear by neighbors and other constituents and even business associates to abandon the organization and uphold the mayor is so great they do not know what they shall do. Some of the councilmen are pursued even into the privacy of their homes, and delegations are calling on them at all hours of the day and night.

Family Turns Against Him.

The first man to be won over today came to the mayor's office with a delegation of constituents. He was Charles E. Connell, of common council. He was with the mayor about 10 minutes. When he left the office he was asked if he was going to vote against the lease, and with considerable show of feeling, he said:

"My God, what else is there for me to do? If I do not vote against the lease I will be run out of my ward. I cannot help myself. Even my own family are pleading with me to join the mayor, and I had to yield."

Mayor Weaver enjoyed his usual midday "ovation." He walked to the Union league and several hundred boys cheered him as he passed. He returned in a cab, riding with his hat in his hand and smilingly waved to the youngsters who kept pace with his spirited steed. The demonstration was quieting of a fiasco, but the meeting tonight at the Academy furnished food for reflection.

There has been talk to the effect that the U. G. I. company would withdraw its gas proposition. One cannot see what could be gained by this. Mayor Weaver will certainly attach his veto before returning it to councils, with a broadside explanation of "reasons" which would rob such a move of profit to the organization. So it's a case of "sink or swim."

The gas proposition must go through or fail for want of votes. Afterward the legal and political issues must be fought out.

TAFT SPEAKS ON PANAMA POLICY

Further Explains Why Purchases of Supplies Will Be Made in Open Market.

CHICAGO STRIKERS SCORED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, May 26.—The celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Cincinnati Commercial club closed tonight with a banquet, at which the speakers discussed vital questions of the day. The cities represented were Boston, Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati. Secretary of War Taft made the principal speech of the evening. Other speakers were President Lucius Tuttle of the Boston & Maine railway; Franklin MacVeagh of Chicago, and Melville E. Ingalls of Cincinnati, president of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroad.

Secretary Taft spoke on "Policy and Practice," saying:

If the Panama canal were inside the territory of the United States of course all material used on the canal could pay duty or be bought in the United States, but as the construction of the canal is a number of days' journey from the tariff wall of the United States, it presents exactly the same case as is presented in the case of the Philippine islands.

Now, if congress wants to pay more than France was willing to pay, then they are welcome to do so, but in the absence of a rule we feel we must carry out the rule that applies. That law requires that prices and quality being the same, we must buy American goods. In the absence of a rule we feel bound by our trust to build as cheaply as possible.

We submitted the question to congress on this line, asking congress to lay down a rule. If there is no rule we must build as a business man would build. There is no question of protection or free trade; it is merely our duty under the law as it stands. If the rule or law is changed, then we must change.

Mr. McVeagh, in speaking on "Labor Unions," said in part:

You may question an appearance of impartiality toward labor unions by a Chicago man lately escaped from a state of terrorism and a general mix-up of brickbats, lumps of coal, glass bottles, stones, brass knuckles and the rest of the familiar equipment of disorder and slugging incident to Chicago strikes.

The present strike is unique as a finished example, being an unprecedented combination of every mistake and every abuse which unionism has so far evolved. They struck for the garment workers, but only when the latter had long lost their cause. They struck only such houses as to their knowledge had never seen a garment worker in their employ.

It was not merely a sympathetic strike, and sympathetic by pretense, but it immediately became also a reckless criminal boycott. It broke every contract it could lay its hands upon—and as nonchalantly and almost as frequently as the leaders took a drink.

It has picketed, not legitimately, or in self-defense, but maliciously and to terrorize. It has slugged at every turn and at every distance.

It disregarded the courts, both state and federal, and loudly resented any legal restraint. It has driven the unwilling union men from their jobs, denied non-union men the right to work and the employers the right even to attempt to do business. It encouraged hideous strikes of children.

It has done everything it could find to do that would forfeit the good will of the public, and it has raised up against itself a nearly unanimous public opinion from ocean to ocean. The initial blunder of the oligarchy was the taking it for granted that the employers would have no scruples against buying immunity, or would have no principles of self-defense for which they would fight. It is unsafe to count upon the pusillanimity of peaceful American citizens.

STORE IS DYNAMITED.

Avengers Cause a Fire Which Destroys $20,000 Worth of Property.

STROUDSBURG, May 26.—(Special.)—Almost disastrous fire broke out early this morning in the store of Councilman Hiram Kistler, at Main and Third streets, and which before being conquered entailed a loss of fully $20,000, with insurance of only about half that amount. The fire from the Kistler building spread rapidly and consumed adjoining property.

There is little doubt that the store was dynamited for revenge on Mr. Kistler. Of late he has taken an active part in trying to stop the petty burglaries here. He shot a burglar several years ago, and friends of the dead man declared they would square accounts.

JUDGE PARKER SPEAKS BEFORE CHICAGO LAWYERS

Pennsylvanian Dies Suddenly.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—James E. Hellman, a wealthy manufacturer of Keating, Pa., died suddenly here tonight, while making a visit to the Washington College for Girls, where his daughter May, who is a member of the graduating class, is a student. The cause of death apparently was heart failure. Mr. Hellman was about 50 years old, and had come to Washington with another daughter.

MEADVILLE, May 26.—(Special.)—At the Prohibition county convention here today a full county ticket was nominated as follows: Sheriff, A. R. Bullock; prothonotary, E. T. Wasson; treasurer, A. P. Cooley; register and recorder, D. M. Morrison; clerk of courts, J. W. C. Yates; commissioners, G. W. H. Hummer, Thompson Carr; auditors, Grant Hopkins, G. B. Conover; district attorney, Samuel Grumbine. A. B. Kerr of Titusville was elected chairman.

HEAD OF ROTHSCHILD FAMILY PASSES AWAY

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

PARIS, May 26.—Baron Alphonse de Rothschild, head of the French branch of the banking house bearing the name of Rothschild and governor of the Bank of France, died this morning from acute bronchitis aggravated by gout. He was born in 1827, and will be succeeded as head of the house by Baron Lambert de Rothschild of Brussels. The funeral will be most simple, according to the rule of the house, with plain coffin without mourning tributes.

Besides the colossal task of financing the indemnity which France paid to Germany after the Franco-German war of 1870-71, Baron Alphonse actively carried on relations with other governments. In Italy these included both the government and the vatican finances. The house also has large interests in Spain, largely controls Austria's railroad development and held considerable parts of all the old Russian loan issues but not a controlling interest in the new Russian loans. The large industrial interests of the house in Russia include the petroleum field of Baku. The house has also had considerable dealings with American securities through the Belmonts, J. Pierpont Morgan and John W. Gates, including Louisville & Nashville, and the Atlantic Coast line transactions, and also has extensive interests in mines in California.

Baron Alphonse was a member of the Academy of Fine Arts, a member of the French institute and a commander of the Legion of Honor. He leaves two children, Baron Edouard and Baroness Beatrix. He has two surviving brothers, Baron Gustave and Baron Edmond.

MISTCHENKO'S COSSACKS MAKE A DARING RAID

Capture Entire Japanese Company of 234 Men and Five Officers, and Disperse Chinese Bandits.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, May 26.—A dispatch from Lieut.-Gen. Linevitch to the emperor dated May 25, says a cavalry detachment commanded by Lieut.-Gen. Mistchenko, while engaged May 17 in repulsing the enemy to the southward, approached Sinlountchouan. Squadrons of the vanguard succeeded in reaching the Fakoman road May 18, where they burned a store and depot and destroyed the telegraph for a considerable distance. Large bands of Chinese bandits encountered by the detachment were partly annihilated and partly dispersed.

The main body arrived at the Fakoman-Shifudzy road May 19 and found the heights south of Fakoman occupied by a large Japanese force with machine guns. The Russians attacked and annihilated two Japanese companies, and captured another company with all of its officers and two machine guns.

The Russians seized a road on the right bank of the Liao river and dispersed near Shifudzy a large convoy with rice, tinned food and fruits, destroyed the telegraph line and took several prisoners and 100 horses. On the return journey the Russians dispersed several bands of Chinese bandits. The prisoners taken number 5 officers and 234 men.

CANAL COMPANY CHARTERED.

Ohio Branch of Ohio River and Lake Erie Project Is Incorporated.

COLUMBUS, O., May 26.—The Ohio River and Lake Erie Ship Canal Company of Cleveland was incorporated yesterday with $10,000 capital by Frank H. Robinson, Ralph W. Tourneau, Peter Grob, P. P. Smayle and C. M. Hartley. The company propose to construct a ship canal connecting Lake Erie with the Ohio river, beginning at the city of Ashtabula and running through Ashtabula, Trumbull and Mahoning counties to the point where the Mahoning river strikes the Pennsylvania line.

This company is the sister one of the Lake Erie and Ohio River Ship Canal Company, chartered recently in Pennsylvania, and its canal will connect with that of the latter. The charter was obtained through the law firm of Lang & Cassidy of Cleveland. Mr. Cassidy is the secretary of the rivers and harbors committee of the national house of representatives, and during his recent visit to Pittsburgh with that committee was in consultation with the officers of the Lake Erie and Ohio River Ship Canal Company. George M. Lehman, chief engineer of the Pennsylvania Company, holds the same position with the Ohio company.

DOUGLAS HAS HAD ENOUGH OF OFFICE

BOSTON, May 26.—(Special.)—Gov. William L. Douglas announced late last evening, just before the prorogation of the general court, that he will not again be a candidate for governor. He said: "I have no taste for office-holding, much preferring my business and quiet home life."

Railroad Men Injured.

WARREN, PA., May 26.—(Special.)—An open switch allowed a fast eastbound freight train to crash into another freight standing on a siding at Pittfield this morning. Six cars and the engine of the fast train were wrecked. Engineer Alfred White and Fireman Berry, both of Erie, were seriously injured and were brought to the Warren Emergency hospital.

TROOPS QUELL WARSAW RIOTS

Stop Destruction of Disorderly Houses in Which Christians Joined Jews.

THREE MORE DIE; 19 WOUNDED

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

WARSAW, May 26.—After nearly 48 hours of mob law the authorities this afternoon interfered, patrols of infantry and Cossacks speedily dispersing the rioters who were engaged in the demolition of disorderly houses. In two instances the troops fired on the crowd, wounding three persons. Fifty arrests were made, after which order was restored. Nineteen persons were injured in to-day's disorders and at the hospitals there were three deaths of persons who received injuries in the rioting of Wednesday night. Six thousand troops came to Warsaw today from their summer encampment. Martial law was proclaimed late tonight.

The Jews and Christians joined forces this morning. They not only wrecked disorderly houses but private apartments, where women have been living under the protection of aristocratic personages. Occupants of the premises attacked fled and went in hiding. The authorities remained indifferent until tonight. Cossacks and gendarmes looked on as amused spectators during the day, and the police were not to be seen.

It was announced today that the Coronation day service will be held in the private chapel of the castle tomorrow, instead of in the cathedral, as is usually the case. The change, it is understood, was due to reports that another bomb attack on Gov.-Gen. Maximovitch has been planned to take place while he is on his way to or from the cathedral. Anonymous proclamations have been circulated warning the people to keep off the principal streets between 10 o'clock in the morning and 2 o'clock in the afternoon tomorrow.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 26.—The council of the empire has increased the appropriation for public education by $625,000.

Private reports from Zhitomir, province of Volhynia, say the tension between the Jews and Christians is increasing and that both sides are arming. The Ignatieff commission for the revision of exceptional laws designed for safeguarding public order has pronounced against a continuance of the minor state of siege, which is annually declared in many Russian cities.

"Wets" Carry Struthers, Ohio.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 26.—(Special.)—After one of the hardest fights the Anti-Saloon league has ever made in this state, the village of Struthers went "wet" today by a vote of 286 to 206. This is the first time in 17 years the village has admitted saloons.

DECISION AGAINST MUTUALIZATION

The Equitable Life Assurance Society Is Enjoined from Carrying Out Plan.

MUST WAIT TRIAL OF SUIT

NEW YORK, May 26.—Justice Maddox in the supreme court in Brooklyn today handed down a decision in the suit of Franklin B. Lord against the Equitable Life Assurance society, enjoining the society from carrying out the mutualization plan. Under the decision no plan of mutualization can be carried through until the trial of the action next fall, unless a higher court reverses Justice Maddox. The motion for an injunction is granted with limitations. The court says:

"The motion is granted but limited to the filing and effectuation of such proposed amended charter, for it appears that such contemplated amendment has been adopted and executed by the board of directors."

The court's decision, after reciting the provisions of the amended charter, which give the policyholders the right to vote continuous, says:

"To deprive an owner of property of any one of its essential attributes is depriving him of his property, and the contemplated change of character would deprive the stockholder of his property. It is unnecessary on this motion to express any opinion as to the rights of either the policy-holders or stockholders to the surplus or any part thereof. Indeed, the policy-holders are not before the court, none having intervened, and this question should await the trial of the action when, if found necessary, the court may direct that they be brought in. Suffice here to say the plaintiff and the intervening defendant stockholders claim to be entitled to some part and share in the surplus. Whatever right, if any, the stockholder may have to the surplus grows out of his being the owner of shares of the capital stock of the company and must await final distribution, while here the policyholder's right is dependent upon his policy and its continuance and must be determined by the terms of that instrument.

The internal differences between some of the gentlemen most prominently concerned with the management of the company have had no weight with the court on this motion, and comment upon the allegations touching such disagreements is unnecessary. The intentions of all are presumed to be for the good of those interested, and it is for this court only to consider and fearlessly to determine the questions presented.

Samuel Untermyer, who intervened in the suit in behalf of James H. Hyde, commenting on the decision, said:

"We've won in the Lord suit. It is impossible to determine whether or not Mr. Hyde may trustee his stock until I have seen the decision."

He explained his first sentence by stating that in his amended petition he had virtually taken the same stand that Mr. Shepard took on behalf of Mr. Lord, namely, that the stock rights were property rights that could not be violated.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 26.—(Special.)—Although Attorney General Mayer will not discuss the effect of the decision of Justice Maddox in granting the restraining order in the Equitable Life Assurance society litigation, it is quite likely that the result will be to deter Supt. Hendricks of the state insurance department from taking any action on the amended charter of the company until after the determination of the litigation affected by the order.

PRETTY SCHOOLGIRLS OPEN COMMENCEMENT

Merry Entertainment Given by Orthochrys Literary Society of Pittsburgh High School.

The first event in the Pittsburgh High school's series of commencement entertainments was held last night in the assembly hall of the Central building by the Orthochrys Literary society. This society is composed entirely of young ladies, and those members who leave school this year occupied the stage and looked sweet and pretty in new summer gowns. Over 1,200 of their friends crowded the hall or stood around in the corridors vainly endeavoring to steal a peep into the room. It looked for all the world like class night at a female seminary.

Burlesque features on commencement season offered opportunities for fun-making. Miss Minnie B. Speer in her "Valedictories to the Venerable," presented the juniors with a basket of various articles, from a cotton goat to a pair of goloshes. Miss Mahilda K. Sulzner in her "Vituperations of the Verdant" gave back gifts of similar import. The class history was called "Hysterical Hullabaloo," and was read by Miss Bessie S. Kohne. Miss Regina Cushwa called her class prophecy "Prophetical Pointers." Miss Pauline Loos made a hit with her declamation, "The Swan Song," and Miss Gertrude Baumgardner was recalled in her solo, which was admirably rendered. The society paper was read by Miss Ernestine Schaefer. Miss Maggie K. Bowler was mistress of ceremonies.

The girls showed that they could handle serious topics as well, and the debate between Miss Cora Ross and Miss Bertha Gower developed stiff arguments on the question as to whether or not women should receive a college education. The class song was composed by Dr. J. Gordan Ogden and was sung to the music of Rubenstein's "Melody in F."

Young Graduates at Sheraden.

The commencement exercises of the Sheraden high school were held last evening in the auditorium of the American avenue school building. The salutatory, "The Greater City," was by Miss Lilzabeth Johnston and the valedictorian was Miss Abby Fleming. The other graduates and their subjects were: Miss Elizabeth Henderson, "A Girl of Two Thousand;" Miss Ella Samowich, "Within the Pale," Miss Irene Hyatt, "Mistress of the Keys." The alumni banquet was held in Murphy's auditorium immediately after the exercises.

THOMPSON WINS CONTEST.

Successful in the Competition for Class of '90 Prize at Allegheny College.

MEADVILLE, May 26.—(Special.)—Last evening in Ford Memorial chapel, Allegheny college, F. M. Thompson won the class of '90 oratorical contest. His subject was "The United States as a World Power." F. P. Miller won second place, speaking on the "Liberator of South America." The other orators, their subjects and their respective places, follow: A. W. Robertson, "Marshall Ney," third place; C. A. Hurtung, "John Wesley, England's Greatest Religious Reformer," fourth place; H. E. Stone, "Russia's Cross," fifth place, and H. M. Scott, "The Call of the Century," sixth place.

The winner gets a cash prize of $30 and the second man $10. One judge on composition was tardy in handing in his decision, and the contest was so close that announcement of the winners could not be made until this morning in the chapel.

Railway Men Meet.

The Railway club of Pittsburgh met last night at the Monongahela house. The principal speaker was John A. Brashear. He told of the mechanical appliances used in astronomical research. The club will hold by two more meetings this season. For the next meeting an elaborate program has been arranged. Several applicants were admitted to membership last night and more are expected to be taken in at the next meeting.

Architectural Exhibit.

The exhibit of the Architectural club teaches the public a number of important lessons in beautifying their homes and environments. This week's issue of the Index, Pittsburgh's illustrated weekly, contains an authentic article on the subject, which those interested in the matter should not fail to read. On all news stands Saturday.

An important change of time will take effect on Pennsylvania railroad on May 28th on main line, West Penn and Monongahela divisions.

ROTHSCHILD TESTIFIES AGAINST COMPANIONS

Convict Banker Helps Return Indictment Against Prominent New York Attorneys.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 26. Armitage Mathews, a lawyer and secretary of the Republican county committee, together with two other lawyers, Samuel I. Ferguson and John W. Wooten, was indicted by the grand jury today on charges of conspiracy and grand larceny in connection with their handling of an estate for David Rothschild. Rothschild who was president of the defunct Federal bank, is now serving a long sentence in Sing Sing, having been convicted of irregularities in handling the bank's funds. The convicted banker also is named in the indictments returned against the three lawyers, but the papers show he was a witness before the grand jury and that he has turned state's evidence against the others.

The indictments allege that after the death of a man named Weisell, who left an estate valued at $72,000, Rothschild, Ferguson, Wooten and Mathewa conspired to get the property of the estate into their possession, and to that end succeeded in getting Rothschild appointed temporary administrator of the assets. It is further alleged they did obtain possession of the money by fraudulently pledging and hypothecating assets of the estate as security, and turning the proceeds of their action to their individual profit and use.

It is alleged that Mathews, being assistant secretary of the Bankers' Surety Company, got that company to give a bond of $400,000 for Rothschild, required when he was appointed temporary receiver. For that service, it is alleged, Rothschild agreed to pay three per cent of all the money borrowed on the assets of the Weisell estate.

Armitage Mathews served as an assistant district attorney on the staff of District Attorney Olcott in 1897. He was a member of the board of aldermen in 1902.

EAT-EM-UP JACK M'MANUS GOT HIS LAST MOUTHFUL

Gas Pipe Did the Work After Bowery Fists and Blackjacks Had Many Times Failed.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 26.—"Eat-'Em-Up Jack McManus," who used to do bouncing at McGurk's suicide hall, long ago, proved himself proof against the hardest fists and the limberest blackjacks on the Bowery, but it was an 18-inch section of gas pipe that did the work for him. He was picked up at Bleecker street and the Bowery early this morning, with the back of his skull battered in, and he died at Bellevue hospital soon after.

The killing of McManus is a side issue of a feud between remnants of East Side gangs. The war has landed three others besides McManus in the hospital.

McGurk's old bouncer is the only one who has moved to the morgue, but Frank Tricker's condition is not that which would make his a good life insurance risk. He stopped two bullets early yesterday in front of Paul Kelly's saloon at Great Jones street and the Bowery.

DR. WADE IS PRESIDENT.

Morgantown Physician Is Elected as Head of West Virginia Medical Society.

WHEELING, W. VA., May 26.—(Special.)—The closing session of the State Medical society this morning was enlivened by a discussion of tuberculosis and its treatment. Some of the physicians advocated the establishment of a state hospital for the treatment of patients, but no action was taken. After selecting Webster Springs as the place of meeting next year, the society chose the following officers and adjourned:

President, S. S. Wade, Morgantown; first vice president, F. G. Bruce, Moundsville; second vice president, F. L. Hupp, Wheeling; third vice president, A. S. Grimm, St. Marys; secretary, W. W. Golden, Elkins; treasurer, V. T. Churchman, Charleston; councilors, first district, A. O. Flower, Clarksburg; second district, A. R. Warden, Grafton; third district, W. W. Hume, Quinnemont; fourth district, W. N. Burwell, Parkersburg; fifth district, T. L. Moore, Huntington; delegates to American Medical association, J. L. Dickey and L. D. Wilson of Wheeling.

AN ELUSIVE TROUSSEAU.

Neglected for Ice Cream Soda, It Disappears and Causes Postponement of Wedding.

WHEELING, W. VA., May 26.—(Special)—The loss of a silk skirt, a new hat, a pair of shoes, a quantity of lingerie, constituting the trousseau of a prospective bride, all neatly done up in a bundle, caused the postponement of the wedding of Grant McDonald and Miss Annie Stoltar today. The couple came down from Washington county, Pa., secured a license and with their joint savings purchased the outfit. The pair left the bundle on the sidewalk while they went into a store for ice cream soda, and returned to find it gone.

McDonald accused the police of neglect of duty, and decided to postpone the ceremony, during the search for the missing trousseau.

MR. AND MRS. DALZELL WILL GO TO CALIFORNIA

WASHINGTON, May 26.—(Special.)—Representative and Mrs. John Dalzell will go to New Haven, Conn., to attend the commencement exercises at Yale, where their son, Robert Dalzell, is a graduate of this year's class. During their stay in New Haven, Mr. Dalzell, who is a Yale graduate of the class of '85, will attend the meeting of his class. After that Mr. and Mrs. Dalzell will go to California for a visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Maj. and Mrs. Dunn. They will also visit the exposition at Portland.

(No. 11.)

AN ORDINANCE—Authorizing and directing the issue and sale of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00) of bonds of the city of Allegheny for the purpose of building, equipping and furnishing an engine house in the Fourteenth ward of the city of Allegheny, and for the purchase of the ground upon which to erect the same, and providing for the redemption of said bonds and the payment of the interest thereon.

Whereas, by an ordinance entitled "An ordinance authorizing the submission to a vote of the electors of the city of Allegheny the question of increasing the bonded indebtedness of the city of Allegheny by the amount of $25,000.00 for the purpose of building, equipping and furnishing an engine house in the Fourteenth ward of the city of Allegheny, and for the purchase of the ground upon which to erect the same, approved by the mayor on the 16th day of January, 1905, the corporate authorities of the city of Allegheny signified their desire that the question of increasing the bonded indebtedness of the city of Allegheny by the amount of $25,000.00 for the purposes therein named, be submitted to the electors of said city of Allegheny at the municipal election held on Tuesday the 21st day of February, 1905, in accordance with the laws of the state of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, Proper and timely notice having been given according to law, such election was held and conducted in every respect as required by law, and duly certified returns thereof, together with a certified copy of the said ordinance and proper proofs of publication and advertisement were duly made and recorded, in every respect as required by law; and

Whereas, By the returns of said election it appears that a majority of the electors voting at said election voted for said proposed increase of indebtedness, therefore

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That an issue of bonds in the name of the city of Allegheny, to be designated "Public Safety Bonds, 1905," to the aggregate amount of $25,000.00, be and the same is hereby authorized.

Sec. 2. Said bonds shall bear date June 1, 1905, and shall be registered in the office of the controller of the city of Allegheny, and shall be issued in denominations of one hundred dollars each or multiples thereof to suit purchasers, and shall be payable as follows, to-wit: Bonds to the aggregate amount of $500.00 shall be payable on the first day of June, 1906, and bonds to the aggregate amount of $800.00 shall be payable on the first day of June of each year for a period of nineteen years thereafter, and bonds to the aggregate amount of $800.00 shall be payable on the first day of June, 1925, and bonds to the aggregate amount of $800 shall be payable on the first day of June of each year for a period of nine years thereafter. Said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four per centum per annum, payable semi-annually at the office of the city controller of the city of Allegheny, on the first days of June and December of each year, and the principal thereof shall be payable at their maturity at the same place. Said bonds shall be signed by the mayor and countersigned by the city controller and sealed with the corporate seal of the city of Allegheny, and the proceeds thereof shall be applied exclusively for the purpose of building, equipping and furnishing an engine house in the Fourteenth ward of the city of Allegheny, and for the purchase of the ground upon which to erect the same.

Sec. 3. Until said bonds, issued as herein provided, shall be fully paid, there is hereby levied and assessed upon all subjects now by law liable, or hereafter to be made liable, to assessment for taxation for such purposes, a tax for the payment of the principal and interest thereof as the same shall become due and payable, as follows, to-wit: for the year 1906, $1,800.00; for the year 1907, $1,168.00; for the year 1908, $1,136.00; for the year 1909, $1,704.00; for the year 1910, $1,672.00; for the year 1911, $1,640.00; for the year 1912, $1,608.00; for the year 1913, $1,576.00; for the year 1914, $1,544.00; for the year 1915, $1,512.00; for the year 1916, $1,480.00; for the year 1917, $1,448.00; for the year 1918, $1,416.00; for the year 1919, $1,384.00; for the year 1920, $1,352.00; for the year 1921, $1,320.00; for the year 1922, $1,288.00; for the year 1923, $1,256.00; for the year 1924, $1,224.00; for the year 1925, $1,192.00; for the year 1926, $1,260.00; for the year 1927, $1,228.00; for the year 1928, $1,188.00; for the year 1929, $1,152.00; for the year 1930, $1,116.00; for the year 1931, $1,080.00; for the year 1932, $1,044.00; for the year 1933, $1,008.00; for the year 1934, $972.00; for the year 1935, $936.00. And the said amount for said year respectively is hereby appropriated out of the revenues of the said city for the payment and redemption of the said bonds and interest as aforesaid and for no other purpose whatever.

Sec. 4. All bonds issued by virtue of this ordinance and the acts of assembly authorizing the same shall be and become a part of the funded debt of the city of Allegheny and shall be entitled to all the rights, privileges and immunities thereof, and for the payment of the principal of the said bonds and the interest thereon as the same shall mature or become payable, the faith, honor, credit and property of the said city are hereby pledged.

Sec. 5. The city controller is hereby authorized and instructed to advertise for proposals for the sale of said bonds and the mayor and the city controller are hereby authorized and directed to issue and sell said bonds in accordance with the provisions of the act of assembly in such case made and provided.

Sec. 6. That so much of any ordinance as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Ordained and enacted into a law in councils this 18th day of May, A. D. 1905.

Rioting has been renewed in Chicago, though disorder is not as prevalent as at the beginning of the strike. Should it develop again in spite of the additions to police and deputy sheriffs recourse must be had to state troops. The issue of the strike is of secondary importance as compared with the preservation of order.

A fair price has been offered by the county for the church property opposite the court house. If acquired at that figure the county may proceed at once to erect an office building ample to meet its needs for some decades to come. This will make doubly sure the preservation of Mr. Richardson's masterpiece intact. The movement is in the right direction.

The outbreak in Warsaw in which some Jews were killed and many injured is at least one affair of the kind which cannot be ascribed to anti-Semitic fanaticism, for the fighting was brought on by the attempt of one faction to clean the quarter of objectionable members of their own race. The incident throws light upon the cause of the frequent outbreaks in Russia.

Apparently the Italian ambassador is willing to assist the south in turning immigration from his country to that section. He has made an extended tour through the southern states and will make a lengthy report to his government. It will probably only be necessary to give that report wide publicity in Italy to arouse the ambition of her sons to find a home in the American southland, and the steamship companies can be depended on to give it written and oral circulation.

The plague epidemic now raging in India promises to exceed all previous records, including that of 1904, when the recorded deaths exceeded a million. The total deaths this year up to April 22 numbered 630,968, and the actual total is believed to be much larger because of concealed cases. The attitude of native opinion hindering effective measures is shown by the wide circulation given to a theory originating at Benares, the religious center of Hindooism, that the calamity has come upon the land as a punishment for the insult offered to Queen Victoria by the desecration of her statue in Bombay, some vandals having daubed the monument with some sticky stuff, extremely difficult to remove.

A bill has been introduced in the Hungarian diet the enactment of which would do a great deal to keep emigration within decent bounds. It prohibits steamship companies from employing emigration agents, abolishes emigration agencies and punishes those who hold out inducements to emigrate. If immigration to this country were confined to those who came of their own enterprise it would be desirable, as it would be a selection of the progressive elements of the old world for the benefit of the new. In the early days of the republic immigration was generally of that character. Since it has become largely a systematic deportation by shipping companies it dumps upon this country vast quantities of refuse.

The scare about a Chinese boycott upon American goods appears to have a very narrow basis. Out of nearly a billion and a half of exports in 1904, the Chinese empire took only $12,862,492. The anxiety of the south about the matter arises from the fact that the Chinese empire is our largest market for cotton cloth, particularly the grades turned out by southern cotton mills, but even in that article our exports to China amount to but $4,090,912. The policy of the exclusion of the Chinese from industrial settlement in this country is too well settled to be disturbed, even if retaliatory measures are adopted by the Chinese. The need for strict enforcement of the exclusion laws is given by the case of the two Chinese at Steubenville, who got into this country upon students' certificates and went into the laundry business.

With the more complete occupation of land in this country, people are beginning to appreciate the value of the prickly pear and other forms of the cactus for forage in the arid regions when ordinary provender fails. The success Mr. Burbank has had in producing a thornless cactus plant has further called attention to the possibility of its use and cultivation in states where it is not common. But while he has been striving to eliminate the huge thorns that kept cattle away from the plant, cattle men have found means of singeing or cutting them off, so they declare they had rather the cactus would grow up in its natural state so as to protect it from the ravages of stray animals.

The Philadelphia Situation.

The issue between Mayor Weaver and Philadelphia city councils over the gas lease has evidently caused a great uprising of popular sentiment and the developments indicate that the mayor and not councils really represent public opinion on this matter. This discovery together with the energetic use which the mayor is making of his official patronage is reported to be having its effect upon councils so that an increasing number of members who voted for the lease will sustain the mayor's veto when it comes in, and thus the project may be defeated.

This would be a judicious termination of the controversy and one which would be becoming to councils in their representative capacity. They cannot well afford to antagonize an opposition so strong and apparently so pervasive. The contest has obtained national prominence and its continuance will cause an amount of disturbance that will powerfully affect state politics. Even if councils were justified in their previous position they have reason enough to recede from it in view of the present situation.

Indecent Haste.

Though Supreme Court Justice John Dean lies unburied awaiting the last sad rites the living may provide for the dead, a rabid discussion has been started in this city and elsewhere concerning the succession to his position. This is positively indecent. There will be time enough to thresh out the political straw after the honors that are due to the dead jurist have been paid. For the present it is more seemly to give thought to the uncertainty of life and the virtues that made John Dean great. That will be in a measure a preparation for the task that will come later of selecting a successor to him.

Some of the chief offenders against decency in this matter are so far conscious of their ill-bred disposition as to offer an apology for the comments they offer. Nevertheless, they discuss idle rumors, make suggestions that are unwaranted and try to create an impression before the time for legitimate discussion has arrived. The Gazette feels impelled to make these remarks because this sort of thing is becoming too common. The proprieties ought to be observed and the press of the country ought to have respect enough for grief to keep silence in such cases, at least until the funeral obsequies have been attended to.

A Sound Ohio Idea.

The following plank from the Ohio platform just adopted is worthy of special notice:

We believe that congress should so legislate that American ships, with American sailors, shall carry American products over all seas and through the Panama canal that the United States of America is building.

This is a timely utterance upon a matter which was recently made prominent by the action of the canal commission. The statements then made as to the superior economy of buying ships abroad instead of in this country have been the theme for an attack all over the country upon the protective policy. It is assumed that this difference is due to the effect of the tariff in raisng the cost of materals entering into shipbuilding. But the present tariff law allows the importation free of duty of all materials to be used in building or repairing an American ship for the foreign trade or building for foreign ownership. Domestic supply for shipbuilding purposes must face that competition and meets it so that American ships continue to be constructed of American steel, even when designed for foreign service. Nor it is true that the tariff has put prices at a point oppressive to the shipbuilding industry. There was a time in 1900 when steel plates and beams were selling at $40 86 a ton in England and only $28 in the United States.

The difficulty with regard to shipbuilding goes much deeper than cost of material or any element of labor cost. Every other civilized country regards a large and flourishing mercantile marine as an object of such national importance as to justify national encouragement through bounties and subsidies. Great Britain has acted upon this principle since 1839, a recent instance being the annual subvention of $1,100,000 a year under the new Cunard contract. Germany, France, Austria-Hungary, Italy, Holland, Denmark, Sweden, Russia—in fact, every important country—pursue the same policy. In its intelligent efforts to promote the national welfare, Japan adopted a most comprehensive system of national aid to shipping—bounties to shipyards, subsidies to mail lines, bounties upon navigation. Hence Japan's ocean fleet has increased more rapidly of late years than that of any other nation. Where would it have been without that facility in its present struggle with Russia?

Such is the competition which American shipping must encounter and against which it cannot be expected to prevail without similar aid.

The Business Situation.

A change in sentiment regarding the iron trade, rather than a change in actual conditions, has become a prominent feature of the business situation and is reflected in the stock market, which exerts a wide influence. A few weeks ago there were indications of a "runaway market" for iron and steel products. Each month witnessed an enormous increase in production and a decrease in surplus stocks. Consumers began to anticipate future wants and to bid a premium for immediate delivery. Consumption reached the maximum in the history of the country, and mills were booked far ahead with orders. Last month recorded a slight increase in unsold stocks of pig iron, the first for any month of the year, and while the surplus is insignificant compared with requirements, it was sufficient to indicate a lull in the boom. The current consumption of iron is unprecedented, but production is slightly in excess of demand, and consumers of iron and steel are doing what consumers of every other commodity do under like conditions. They are withholding future orders in the hope of obtaining concessions. The possibility of the opening of the tariff question in the next congress may have something to do with the attitude of consumers, but this must be a very slight influence at this time. Of course, if the country is threatened with a period of tariff agitation, business will suffer until the changes, if any, are made and trade is adjusted to the new conditions; but at the present time the lull in the iron trade is entirely natural and the usual accompaniment of a healthy market.

The revival of rampant speculation in grain and cotton, which was accompanied by a sharp advance in prices, was more the result of the necessities of speculators who had sold "short" than of adverse conditions in the crop situation. In the Chicago market May corn advanced to 68 cents a bushel, the highest of the year, and the fluctuations were so violent, covering a range of 8 to 10 cents within a single day, as to prove that the option was "cornered." Corn planting has been delayed by unseasonable weather, and the cotton crop is about two weeks late, but otherwise the agricultural outlook is satisfactory.

The money market has remained easy, despite the large drafts made upon it through the falling due of payments on various bond subscriptions. Sterling exchange was firmer, and at one time it was thought that gold would be shipped to Europe, but the weekly reports of the foreign government banks showed a contraction in loans and an increase in cash and reserves. The stock market was under the influence of two factors. One was the impending naval conflict between the fleets of Russia and Japan, the result of which may have an important effect in foreign financial circles. The other was the evidence of congestion in the market for investment securities. For the five months of 1905 an enormous amount of new securities have been issued by railroad and other corporations, in addition to foreign government and municipal bonds that have been floated. The volume of these new securities has temporarily swamped investors. The effect was first prominently displayed early in the present month when the bankers who underwrote the $100,000,000 Pennsylvania railroad convertible 3½ per cent bonds had the bulk of the issue left upon their hands. Investors in stocks and bonds are now pursuing exactly the same course as the consumers of iron and steel products—they are waiting to see if they cannot buy to better advantage. Financial and commercial conditions are sound, and if average crops are harvested in 1905, the year will go on record as one of the best in our history.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Fight is the word, and rather a bad word it is, for it is a Saxon word coined to express a definite feeling or disposition.

But since man has always been a fighter it is not much wonder that the word is popular the world over.

Nor is the big stick a newcomer. Cain introduced it into the very first family and it has been popular ever since. Kings, emperors and rulers of high and low degree have used it as an emblem of authority. Even now the gavel is used by those chosen to rule in deliberative bodies large or small.

The cane, sometimes called a walking-stick, is only a modified big stick. It was formerly used by masters to intimidate or to punish servants, and as a weapon of offense or defense.

Have you noticed, or haven't you, that those who carry canes are of the lordly or bossy sort?

This does not apply to those who through physical weakness need them as supports or as aids to locomotion.

The dress, manner and general conduct of a man is a most reliable index of his disposition.

Bravadoes and cowards carry knives, pistols or clubs, because they are either hunting for trouble or fearing it. And they are the ones most certain to find it.

Very few of those who are not looking for trouble or fearing it ever get into it.

Have you ever found use for a pistol or a dagger?

Comparatively few of those who go unarmed are ever harmed or get into any serious sort of trouble.

The very fact that you have a pistol in your pocket shows that you are expecting trouble, and that which you expect you are likely to find. Psychologists tell us that we are sub-consciously directed by our desires, fears or expectations. If you have ridden a bicycle you have, in all probability, ran your wheel into the very thing you feared.

May it not be something of this sort that runs men into trouble when they are armed against those whom they do not want to meet?

If you are a fighter or delight in fighting, you are likely to be accommodated. You may declare against it and deprecate it, but if you have fighting or cowardly blood in you your talk won't save you.

That little word "fight" is a power for mischief in this world of ours. It is used in season and out of season, in reason and out of reason.

It suggests dissension, conflict, trouble, whenever or wherever used, even when used without any intention of fomenting trouble. It is to the combative, scrappy instincts a veritable red rag.

The cry of "Fight! fight!" will break up a meeting of sane, solemn men as quickly as a cry of fire. And it matters not what may be the character of the meeting, social, political or religious, everyone is up, fists clenched and eyes flashing at the cry.

It was so among the cave dwellers and among the tribesmen and clansmen. These were ever on the lookout for attacks or for opportunities to attack. They slept with one eye and one ear open, as it were, that they might hear this particular cry or see a chance to get into trouble.

The mere mention of the word has often started rows among those who were friendly and sociable, because it never fails to stir up fighting blood, or rather it has a toxic effect on healthy blood.

As you may know, anger, jealousy, hatred, love, all effect changes in the character of the blood. This form of blood-poisoning is usually followed by sickness or physical weakness.

If that little word "fight" could be eliminated from our language the era of universal peace would soon dawn, but as long as men talk fight, just so long will nations talk fight.

What sense is there in nations fighting? As nearly as we can see nearly all wars, particularly those known as civil wars, have been precipitated by fight talk. Wars waged for conquest are somewhat different, yet in no small degree due to fight talk.

It is this sort of talk that leads to deadlocks and confusion in deliberative bodies, to disruption of political parties, religious associations and social organizations.

The big stick is in order whenever fight talk becomes loud and persistent. If this does not control the talk sufficiently to allow the blood to cool the chances are good for a fight in which both sides are liable to get hurt more or less.

And it often so happens that those who most loudly and persistently talk fight do the least fighting when it comes to the scratch. These invariably respect the big stick when it is wielded by a strong man and a practical fighter.

Speaker Reed, who was called the czar of congress, was a model of this kind of man.

When there is a division of opinion among members of councils, boards of directors or leaders of parties, it is heralded as a fight. This catches the attention of the public and if the big stick is not wielded by some strong arm there is liable to be a fight on. And when it is all over no one can give a reasonable explanation of what it was all about.

It is altogether wrong to speak of minor disagreements, or even of distinct differences of opinion as fights, for it is almost certain to poison the blood of those interested, and thus militate against an amicable and reasonable settlement of the point at issue.

You have heard the old saying, "Speak of the devil and you will hear the clatter of his cloven hoof."

Talk fight and you will hear the dull thud of blows dealt by friend on friend.

There is a peculiar suggestiveness in the word, or a sort of magic that acts on brutal instincts not unlike fire on powder.

If you don't think or talk of fighting you are not very liable to get into scraps.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 26.—To the music of Sir Arthur Sullivan's "Onward Christian Soldiers," played by the Salvation Army band, the big revival wagon, from which leading clergymen of the evangelistic denominations will conduct a series of street services throughout the city on week days, left the headquarters of the Salvation Army in Fourteenth street, this afternoon for Madison square, at which point the initial short service was held under the auspices of the evangelistic committee of Greater New York, several preachers addressing the assembled people.

As the vehicle, covered with bunting and American flags, with a huge announcement of a "people's rally," to be held in the Academy of Music on Sunday afternoon, stretched along either side of it, moved off, cheers arose from the "lassies" who watched the start from every window of the headquarters structure. Following a brief prayer for the success of the unique movement, Maj. Anderson, the leader of the band, gave the word for the start, and the musicians struck up the old standard hymn of the army and the revival campaign was officially begun.

The wagon moved east through Fourteenth street to Broadway, and thence up that important thoroughfare to Madison square, where a large crowd, attracted by the band, gathered, and the first service was held. The Salvation Army, according to Maj. Anderson, is taking no active part in the campaign begun today other than by lending the services of the army band.

To Tame the Bulls and Bears.

The stock exchange is to be invaded by the clergymen interested in the big outdoor revival. The crusade will be opened in the financial district Monday at noon. The meeting will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Henry Mottet, rector of the Church of the Holy Communion, and the Rev. Dr. W. C. Bitting of the Mt. Morris Baptist church, both of whom will make addresses exhorting the men of Wall street to awaken to the deep religious feeling that is now spreading throughout the world. Prayers for divine guidance of the members of the exchange and other men of the financial district will be offered and hymns will be sung. According to the plans of the committee having in charge the arrangements for the big revival in the city, all classes from the highest to the lowest are to be reached.

Municipal Ownership Must Come Up.

Martin W. Littleton, borough president of Brooklyn, today declared a separate ticket on a municipal ownership platform would be a necessity in the next city election unless the old parties should take the proper stand. Mr. Littleton, although a Democrat, has been saying things about "bossism" and the gas scandal which have been construed as an attack on Murphy and McCarren as well as upon Tammany Hall. It was reported today that he would be a candidate for mayor on a municipal ownership platform. When asked about this report he refused to talk, but said he believed the gas situation and the subway construction made municipal ownership the leading issue in this city at this time. He favors public ownership, control and operation in both cases, although he does not advocate confiscation of corporate property.

More Evening Schools Next Fall.

Eighty-six evening schools will be opened next fall, it was announced this afternoon by Superintendent Elgas of the evening school department. This is five more than were opened last year. Two of the new ones will be high schools and the remaining three will be elementary. The added accommodation is a direct result of the extra $150,000 appropriation granted to the department by the finance committee of the board of education. When the original appropriations were granted last December it was announced that the department would not be able to run up to last season's standard. Resultant public clamor caused the finance committee to be more liberal.

Picked Too Great a Task.

Despondent because of the failure of his young life's ambition—to be a millionaire by the time he attained his majority—Wesley Smith, 21 years old, committed suicide today by inhaling gas. It was only after a brave and prolonged struggle that young Smith was forced to acknowledge that fate had balked him in his aim. Reverses that would have disheartened a far older and better equipped financial campaigner only nerved him for renewed effort to snatch victory from defeat, and it was only when his 21st birthday came that he began to realize the task he had set himself was one beyond his powers of accomplishment. Smith, in spite of his youth had traveled all over the world. At one time he had a considerable sum of money and sought to increase it by investment in mines in South America. He failed there and went to Mexico to retrieve his fortunes. Lack of success brought him back to New York.

Bankers Are Good Thief Takers.

The American Bankers' association issues an interesting statement containing statistics of its labor and achievement in running down criminals who prey upon financial institutions. Since 1895 the organization has convicted and imprisoned 270 forgers, and 18 swindlers, and 205 bank burglars. The total sentences of the convicts amount to nearly 2,000. In addition three men have been executed for murder done while invading banks. The association, incidentally, takes occasion to say that it has never entered into any financial agreement with criminals to prevent depredations by them.

Goff Talks of Lynching.

Recorder Goff, in sentencing Jacob Mannowitch to Sing Sing prison for four years for an attack upon a 14-year-old girl, intimated that a display of the lynch law in this city might be an effective deterrent in such cases. "I congratulate the father of this little child," said the recorder, "for the respect he has shown the law. If he had killed this defendant I doubt if any jury could be found in this city willing to convict him. In some parts of this country, in certain states, the defendant would have been hanged, without the formality of a trial, to the nearest tree."

CHICAGO'S PROBLEM

Mayor Dunne's Views on Municipal Ownership.

Mayor Edward F. Dunne writes of "Chicago and Municipal Ownership" in the June number of The National magazine. In part he says:

"Following an expression of the people's will, three times emphasized at the ballot box, Chicago has entered resolutely upon the advance toward final consummation of municipal ownership of its street railway lines. My pledge to the people is to bring about at the earliest possible moment, municipal ownership and operation of the city's traction utilities. As a preliminary step to the execution of this task with which I have been charged, I requested the lord provost of Glasgow that permission be granted the manager of the municipal tramway system of that Scottish city to visit Chicago. As a result of acquiescence, James Dalrymple comes to Chicago to give us the benefit of his advice, based upon actual experience in the operation of one of the oldest and most successful municipally owned traction systems the world has known. I have appointed as special counsel for the city in traction affairs Clarence S. Darrow, one of the distinguished members of the Chicago bar, and for years a leader in the municipal ownership propaganda in this city. With these preliminaries Chicago enters upon the advance toward consummation of the municipal ownership plan which the people have approved at the ballot box—purchase of the traction properties from their private owners by the city under a friendly agreement, if possible; by condemnation under the statute of eminent domain or other legal methods, if necessary, or by the construction of new lines.

Municipal Ownership No Idle Dream.

"That municipal ownership and operation is no idle dream, no mere captivating fancy or alluring theory, but an actual practical reality, now need no more be argued. The people of Chicago, as of many other cities, learned long ago that municipal ownership and operation is in practical force in more than a hundred cities in Great Britain; that it is in operation in many of the cities of Germany, Belgium, Austria-Hungary, Switzerland, Italy and Australasia. Where it is in force it has resulted in reduced fares, in more rapid, constant and efficient service, in increased wages to traction employes, in general public satisfaction. In nearly every instance, I may add, it has contributed to the reduction of general taxes. In the scores of cities of the world where municipal ownership and operation has become a reality under a civil service law, it has minimized municipal corruption. It has stamped out the briber and the boodler. It has taken franchise and special privilege seeking, breeder of official debauchery, out of politics. Of the six cities of the world which have approached or passed the 2,000,000 population mark—London, Berlin, Paris, Vienna, New York and Chicago—all, save Chicago have known public ownership of rapid transit facilities of recent years to some degree. Vienna operates its own street railways. Berlin now owns and operates two minor electric lines and has declared for no further tramway grants. Paris has provided for the municipal operation of the elaborate system of underground electric railways that it is completing. New York owns 24 miles of subways and has taken over the ferry service to Staten Island. The London county council gradually is securing possession of all tramway lines in the county, having determined a few weeks ago to pay $16,500,000 for the physical property and $500,000 for four years' unexpired leases of the lines north of the Thames—lines heretofore leased to a private company for a rental of $100,000 annually. Chicago, in part, has learned its municipal ownership lesson first hand. In a decade it has developed what is probably the greatest municipal electric lighting plant in the world, reducing the cost of electricity more than one-half. For fifty years it has operated its own water system, deriving a net annual profit of more than $1,500,000, and supplying its people with water at the cheapest rate known in any city in the state of Illinois, if not in the United States.

The Preliminary Agitation.

"But for almost eight years Chicago had been kept on the traction griddle. It was during this period that there came the public awakening which resulted in the people declaring three times at the ballot box for municipal ownership of these public utilities. While traction history was making, Chicago learned, from bitter experience, the gross inefficiency and indecency of private management of public utilities. It learned that the chief aim of private ownership is to pay exorbitant dividends upon watered stocks; in the case of the Chicago City Railway Company the dividends averaged as high as 42 per cent annually for 19 years. It was forced to submit to being jammed into miserably ill lighted, ill kept cars. It hung on straps on its way to work in the morning and on its way home at night. It underwent the collection of illegal double fares for years. It rode in cars the temperature of which would chill the living and preserve the dead. Private management of these utilities debauched over and over again the city's lawmakers and the lawmakers of the state. The bad service retarded the city's growth and depreciated real estate values. In short, Chicago found private ownership a ball and chain to its feet. And out of this came the declaration for municipal ownership. Municipal ownership will take the 'traction problem' out of politics and to a great extent stamp out public corruption. It will, as it has done in all European cities where established, bring satisfaction to the public, increased wages and reduced working hours to the employes, end street railway strikes, abate public strife and apprehension, remove the blight of speculative control and provide the real solution of the 'traction question.' This goal Chicago resolutely advances to attain."

Immutability.

Within your arms you hold the wealth of years.
Old Time—yes, all the gold of yesterday,
All of love's sunshine and the bitter gray
Of tears—oh, the great multitude of tears—
For everything is yours within the spheres
To give or take, or break, or keep for aye—
Nor heed you e'en one mad cry of dismay,
But gather on until all disappears.
Yet love is sweet and we are not so old,
Nor did the gods mean us to separate.
O Time, you cannot take my love from me.
Life has so much, so very much to hold
For each—I cannot dream it is too late
And that we'll dwell no more in Arcady.

CITY MUST PAY FOR WIDENING

Is Assessed Two-Thirds of the Expense of Improving Webster Avenue.

NEW CAR LINE IS PROJECTED

The city bears the largest part of the expense of widening Webster avenue in the downtown district. The board of viewers yesterday made its report on the widening of Webster avenue, between Grant and Seventh avenues, assessing $143,000 benefits against the city and $85,000 against the abutting property. The damages to other abutting property equals the total of benefits, which is $228,000.

This amount of damages is awarded for the taking of a 15-foot strip on the west side of the street. The $85,000 benefits are against the property on the east side of the street, and the $143,000 assessed against the city represent the difference between the damages and benefits on the property.

The award is said to be satisfactory to Director Bigelow, who originated the widening of Webster avenue, and the city authorities are not liable to raise any objections. Not so with some of the property owners, however, particularly the St. Peter's Catholic church and other holders. The property owners claim that the assessment is illegal because the street was widened once before and an assessment made to pay for it.

The cutting of 15 feet from the west side will give Webster avenue a uniform width of 50 feet from Grant street to the terminus at Thirty-third street. Its widening is a part of the general plan, which includes the widening of Sixth avenue from Grant street to Forbes street to a width of 60 feet.

The widening of Oliver avenue, between Smithfield and Grant streets, is expected to follow the widening of Webster avenue, and the two avenues will practically be one thoroughfare, Oliver avenue almost running into Webster at Grant street.

J. J. McAfee owns property in Webster avenue and is attorney for other property owners in the avenue. He fought the widening and claims that it is intended for the benefit of the traction company.

"I understand that the Philadelphia company is to build a line out Webster avenue to Luna park," said he yesterday. "The Hall syndicate asked councils for a franchise out Webster avenue, but councils did not grant it. I am informed that the Philadelphia company is to secure a franchise for Webster avenue and that it is to be part of the line down Oliver avenue to Liberty avenue, for which the Verner syndicate secured a franchise from councils last year."

OTHER CITIES WILL BID ON PITTSBURGH BONDS

Controller Larkin Expects Lively Competition for the Filtration Issue on Monday.

Controller Larkin said yesterday that other cities besides Pittsburgh will bid for the $750,000 worth of filtration bonds to be sold on Monday.

"We have received inquiries from Boston, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Cleveland and Chicago, and I expect to receive bids from firms in all of those cities," said the controller yesterday.

When he forced a reduction in the rate of interest on the bonds from 4 per cent to 3½ per cent, the controller felt that the success of the bond issue would depend largely upon himself, and when he received inquiries recently whether Pittsburgh had ever defaulted on any of its bonds, he took the precaution to call upon banking firms in this city to interest them in the bond issue. He said he has received assurances that Pittsburghers will bid on the bonds and there is no danger of them going begging.

The controller fears that New York banks may not bid on the bonds because there is a new law in New York which prohibits the investing of trust money in bonds of a state or municipality which has at any time defaulted in the payment of interest on its bonds. The controller has written east that it was the railroads and not the city that defaulted in paying interest on railroad bonds, issued by the city 60 years ago.

CITIZENS COMMITTEE WILL MEET ON JUNE 1

Preliminary Plans for the Fall Campaign and the Selection of Fusion Representatives to Come Up.

The Citizens are planning for a meeting of their old county committee on June 1. At this gathering preliminary arrangements will be made for the fall campaign.

There was a meeting of the Citizens leaders in the office of Murry A. Verner yesterday afternoon. It was decided to convene the old county committee on June 1. On that date a committee to confer with the Democrats will be named and arrangements made for the election of a new county committee.

Chairman Ford of the Republican committee has arranged for the first meeting of the joint conference on new party rules for next Friday. The representatives of the various organizations have been appointed, and they are ready to get down to business.

Republican county leaders will not discuss the vacancy on the supreme court bench, caused by the death of Justice John Dean, until after the funeral of the jurist. The same position is taken by the Democrats. Col. Guffey says he has given the matter no thought and will not consider the question of how the nomination is to be made until after the funeral of Justice Dean.

PRESIDENT ELIOT COMING.

Head of Harvard University Will Be Guest of Graduates Here.

President Charles Eliot of Harvard university will be the guest of the Harvard club of this city, composed of graduates of that institution, next Monday. He will arrive at 7:30 a. m. from Louisville, where he has been attending the meeting of the Harvard clubs. About 40 members of the club in this city attended that convention.

President Eliot will make an address to the members of the club at the Central High school at 11:30 Monday morning. To this meeting the leading educators and friends of education in the city have been invited. At 1 o'clock there will be a luncheon at the Duquesne club, and at 3 o'clock the guest and members of the club, with parents of Pittsburgh boys who are now in Harvard, will take passage on Capt. John F. Kline's new boat, Liberty, for a trip up the river. Several hundred persons will take in this excursion. President Eliot will leave at 10 p. m. for Buffalo, where he will make the principal address at the opening of the new art building there.

Pittsburghers Take Up Canoeing.

More interest is being shown this year in canoeing in this vicinity than ever before. The Allegheny river a few miles from Pittsburgh furnishes an ideal place for the enjoyment of this pastime. Three clubs which promote the sport have fine homes and it is expected that several other clubs will be organized in the near future. This week's issue of the Index, Pittsburgh's illustrated weekly, contains an interesting article on this charming out-of-door sport, with many special photographs. DIVIDED OVER ENGINE HOUSE

Eighteenth Ward Has Opposing Delegations Before the Council Committee.

CITIZENS URGE RIVAL SITES

Two opposing delegations of citizens from the Eighteenth ward, fighting to have an engine house located in different sections of the ward, appeared before a special committee of councils at city hall yesterday afternoon. The Stanton avenue site, favored by the largest of the delegations and proposed by the administration, was the one approved by the committee.

This action, however, was not unexpected, as the committee was made up with a view to the approval of the Stanton avenue site. Similar action had been taken at a former meeting of the committee, but Select Councilman S. J. Wainwright, Jr., succeeded in having the ordinance recommitted. He will still keep up the fight to have the engine house located in the Morningside district and a number of select councilmen have promised him their support.

Notwithstanding the two rebuffs he received in select council over the Eighteenth ward engine house site, Director Moore is still optimistic.

"The ordinance will go through slick as grease," said he yesterday, after the committee had approved the bill.

Money Is Being Diverted.

Thirty or 40 citizens of the Eighteenth ward assembled in select council chamber to advocate one or the other of the two sites. One delegation represented what is known as the Sunnyside district, which is on the hillside, and the other represented the Morningside district.

The Morningside people made the strong point that the appropriation had been secured for their district and they demanded that the money be spent for the purpose originally intended. The Sunnyside people argued that by placing the engine house on the hill, the engine could go down the hill to reach fires in Morningside, but could not go up the hill quickly to reach a fire if the engine house should be in Morningside. They claimed it would take four or five horses to draw the engine up the hill, while it could go down the hill to Morningside in five minutes.

The Morningside people retorted that if the hill was so steep it would be impossible for a heavy engine to go down the hill at all in winter with ice in the street. They also declared that to reach the Morningside district from Stanton avenue, where Director Moore proposes to locate the engine house, the engine would have to take a roundabout course of over a mile to get to a fire and it would require 20 minutes or half an hour to reach some portions of Morningside.

Two Engines Needed.

Select Councilman Wainwright and Common Councilman A. M. Barr, both of the Eighteenth ward, advocate different sites, Mr. Wainwright standing up for the Morningside district and Mr. Barr advocating the hilltop site in Stanton avenue. They both made speeches. Mr. Barr said he wanted the engine house put on the hill, because the company there would reach a larger number of buildings than if in Morningside.

Mr. Wainwright took the position that the Eighteenth ward needs two engine houses and he was fighting to have this engine house located in Morningside, because the appropriation had been secured for that district after several bad fires and a number of fatalities there due to lack of fire protection. He said he was in favor of an additional appropriation for Sunnyside, but he wanted the present appropriation used for the purpose for which it was made. He said after he had secured the appropriation for Morningside, the administration had shifted the sites. He intimated strongly that a part of the scheme was to boom the sale of building lots in Sunnyside.

Fight Goes Back to Councils.

Mr. Wainwright was the only member of the committee who voted against the Stanton avenue site. Those who favored it were L. H. Frederick, the chairman; John Costello and E. J. Edwards. The ordinance will be affirmatively recommended to select council on Monday.

The Eighteenth ward citizens who made speeches, several speaking more than once, were David Blair, Grant Dibert, Archibald Miller, John Graham, Andrew Dinan, John Mellor, F. B. Vincent, T. H. Walton, Councilmen Barr and Wainwright. They were frequently interrupted by queries from the other side while speaking. The engine house matter has not only caused a split among the councilmen but has resulted in arousing an intense feeling between the two districts.

TO HOLD FOUR CLINICS.

Are Arranged for Next Wednesday, Preceding Annual Meeting of Western Pennsylvania Medical College.

The nineteenth annual meeting and dinner of the alumni association of the Western Pennsylvania Medical college will be held next Wednesday evening, May 31, at 7:30 o'clock, at the Monongahela House. The business meeting will immediately precede the reception and the presidential address. During the day clinics will be held at the various hospitals of the city as follows:

St. John's General, 11 a. m., Dr. W. S. Langfitt; West Penn, 2 p. m., Dr. J. Hartley Anderson; Southside, 2 p. m., Dr. J. R. Brown; Passavant, 4 p. m., Dr. E. S. Montgomery. The officers of the association are as follows:

President, Dr. W. H. Kirk; vice president, Dr. S. H. McKibben; secretary, Dr. Edward Stieren; assistant secretary, Dr. T. W. Grayson; treasurer, Dr. C. H. Hilzrot. The committee in charge of the meeting comprises Dr. T. J. Eltenich, Dr. W. S. Langfitt and Dr. Edward E. Mayer.

Hold Closing Exercises.

The closing exercises of the Crafton Preparatory school were held last evening in Association hall, Ingram. The entertainment was under the auspices of the Kings' Daughters of the First Presbyterian church of Ingram, for the benefit of the Childrens' Fresh Air Fund of Pittsburgh.

AN ORDINANCE—Requiring the owners of property in the city of Allegheny to lay, set and keep in repair the sidewalks and curbstone in front of their property, providing for notice to property owners to do said work and on their failure to comply therewith authorizing and ordering the awarding of contracts for doing said work, and providing for the collection of the cost and expense thereof.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this ordinance it shall be the duty of the owners of property abutting upon any of the streets, lanes or alleys, of the city of Allegheny, to lay, set and keep in repair the sidewalks and curbstone in front of his, her or their property.

Said sidewalk shall be laid and curb set upon such lines as shall be designated by the city engineer, and be constructed of such material as shall be designated by the director of the department of public works, and to his satisfaction.

Sec. 2. Whenever in the judgment of the superintendent of the bureau of highways and sewers any sidwalk or curbstone in the city of Allegheny shall be out of repair, or whenever in his judgment it may be necessary to relay or repair any sidewalk, or to reset or repair any curbstone, he shall notify the owners of any lot or lots of ground or premises abutting thereon, to do said work within 10 days. Such notice shall be in writing, and may be served upon owners who are residents of the city of Allegheny, either personally or by leaving a copy at their place of residence with an adult member of their family. If any of said owners are not residents of the city of Allegheny, said notice may be served upon their agent or the person in possession of the property. If there be no agent or party in possession it may be posted on the most public part of the property.

Sec. 3. If any owner shall fail to comply with said notice, the mayor and the director of the department of public works are hereby authorized and directed to enter into a contract or contracts with responsible contractors for the doing of said work, and cause the same to be completed. The cost and expense thereof shall not be payable out of the city treasury, but said contracts shall contain a clause providing that the contractor shall present his bills therefor to the owners of the abutting property for collection. In default of payment the said cost and expense shall be a charge upon the properties in front of which said work shall be done, and liens shall be filed therefor to the use of the contractor, in accordance with the provisions of the laws of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania pertaining thereto.

Sec. 4. That so much of any ordinance as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Ordained and enacted into a law in councils this 18th day of May, A. D. 1905.

Men's Summer Suits Out in Force.

And it is flattering to us that many of them were selected from our very large collection of splendid garments, known as that Totally Different Perfectly Tailored Clothing.

Men's Serge Suits—blue and black—are in the lead as the most comfortable and dressiest of suits for Summer. You can follow your own notions and select full lined or half lined, as desired. Some are lined with cool mohair, others have silk lining. $10 to $30.

Our $25.00 Blue Serge Suits are splendid specimens of the tailor's art, and are remarkable values for the price. They are lined with an extra good quality of silk.

Men's two-piece Suits, of homespun, wool crash and novelty worsteds, some a quarter lined, others half lined, either with silk or mohair, $8.50 and by easy steps to $25.00.

Men's three-piece light weight Summer suits—cassimeres, cheviots, worsteds, neat color combinations—$15.00 and along to $35.00.

Men's black and blue suits and unfinished worsteds, and black thibet suits, half or full lined, $15.00 to $35.00.

Men's fancy vests, also wash vests, $1.50 and up to $6.00.

Men's Raincoats, good for all occasions—black, oxford and fancy materials—$16.50 to $35.00.

Young men's suits, fancy materials, also black and blue cheviots and serges, three-piece and two-piece suits, $8.50 and up to $25.00.

The Tip Has Been Given Straw Hats.

You can lay aside both derby and soft hat, for word has been passed along the line that straw hats are all right.

The life of a straw hat in Pittsburg is not much over a month, and as a rule dressy men require about three straw hats for the season. The first hat they generally like to be as good as possible, and opinions differ as to style and price—some men will pay $4.00 or $5.00, others are satisfied with a $3.00 hat, still others can get a hat to suit them for $1.50.

Again there are any number of men that won't pay more than $1.00. We want to say right here that we have a nice line of extra good straw hats, all this season's blocks, for that popular price.

But our Hat Store, second floor, East, reaches out to satisfy all pocketbooks, as well as tastes. See this list:

Sennit and English Sennit, Yacht shapes, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00.

Split Straw, Yacht shape, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00, $3.50.

Belgian Split, extra fine, $4.00 and $5.00.

The London "Boater," which will be picked seven times out of ten, $3.00 and $3.50.

The "Vim" Yacht, $2.00.

"Lightest-of-'em-All," a hat that is so light in weight that you will hardly feel it on your head, one that is extremely natty, and the price only $3.00.

Some men still give their allegiance to Mackinaw and Milan braid. We have both in variety—$2.00 and on up to $4.00.

When the wind blows it is a satisfaction to know your hat is guarded with a storm elastic. All ours have this storm guard.

Smart Styles in Women's Neckwear.

The neckwear question is easily settled at our Women's Neckwear Section. There are styles there that will harmonize with any costume, designs to meet everyone's ideas.

Chemisettes, with deep cuffs to match—made of soft mull or lace, assorted styles—50c to $12.00.

Imported Bruges Lace Stocks, long or short tabs, brought over to sell for 75c to $3.50—today they can be bought for half prices.

New Embroidered Eyelet Stocks, washable—ten styles, worth 75c and $1.00, today, each, 50c.

Imported Crepe Silk Scarfs, 1¾ to 1½ yards long, hemstitched and medallion effects, imported to sell at $1.25, $1.50 and $1.75—beautiful shades of pink, turquoise and light blue, also black and white, each, 50c.

At the Notion Counter.

Underprices today for some very useful things for the sewing basket—

C. B. Darning Cotton, 3 cards for 5c.

French Darning Cotton in balls, colors and black, 2 for 5c.

Cotton Tape, 18-yard bolts of extra grade, assorted widths, 12c bolt.

French Cotton Braid, for trimming purposes, different widths, 5c to 15c a bolt.

Imported Lace Pins, dainty sizes for collars, pearl and turquoise tops, 5c yard.

Redfern Styles for 1905

break even Redfern records.

The pace that Redfern Corset models, in distinctive styles, have made in recent seasons is phenomenal.

Closely in elegance have they resembled the French corsets, but they are superior in that their perfect lines are better adapted to the American woman's form—the most beautiful in all the world.

There are three general classes, the slender, medium and stout, which have been given much consideration. There is no figure which may not be fitted perfectly with a Redfern.

The Proper Fitting of Eyeglasses.

We make a special feature of fitting eyeglasses properly in our Optical Department. We are not satisfied to sell you a pair of glasses until we are sure they are perfectly suited to the eyes and as becoming as may be to the face.

If you doubt the correctness of the glasses you are wearing, or if you think you need glasses, consult our optician—he is a man of wide experience, yet his advice will cost you nothing.

Gold-Filled Rimless Eyeglasses, $1.50 up.
Gold-Filled Spectacles, $2.50 up.
Solid Gold Spectacles, $4.50 up.

$4.00 Colored Umbrellas for $3.00.

Our best $4.00 Colored Umbrellas for women, $3.00 each. If you need a new umbrella, doesn't that make it worth while to come down town today? All silk peau de soie with tape edge—a pretty shade of blue and a handsome green—they look well and they'll wear well.

NOTE—There is still fairly good choice among the $5.00 umbrellas which we are selling for $3.00. These are in colors with contrasting borders.

"My Commencement"

is a book for graduates. A convenient form in which to keep the record of one's commencement and the many interesting incidents connected therewith, including accounts of the exercises, brief sketches of teachers, classmates, newspaper clippings, etc.

New edition, daintily bound in blue-gray decorated in white and gold, $1.25.

"Three Weeks in Europe,"

or the Vacation of a Busy Man, by John V. Higinbotham, price $1.50.

This little volume is better than a guide book, as it is an interesting account of a trip made by the author. It shows how small Europe really is and how much of it can be covered in a short space of time. It even hints as to the amount of money it takes for such a trip.

Summer Jewelry for Women.

All the little trinkets which add to the charm of woman's wardrobe may be found here in broadest variety. About every price that one can think of.

Enameled Shirtwaist Sets, three pins to the set, 50c values for 38c.

Gold Wire Safety Pins, jeweled, 35c, 50c, 75c pair.

Shirtwaist Sets, 4 pins to the set, gold filled, 40c and $1.00 a set.

Belt Sets, gold filled, assorted jeweled, $2.50 to $7.50 a set.

Something New—Collar Extenders—with high lace collars and transparent collars of all kinds in vogue, there is need for something to keep the unstiffened affair in place. The collar extenders do this and are ornamental in addition. Different sizes for different heights of collars. Of mock green, 75c pair; of real baroque pearls, $1.00 pair.

New Veils and Veilings.

The latest novelties in veils may be seen at all times—every conceit that is now holding sway in Paris, in London or New York may be found here.

Automobile Veils, made of chiffon, shirred on elastic top and bottom, much cooler for summer wear than the veil that is wrapped about the head; white, black and a variety of pleasing colors, $1.25 each.

New Crepe Finish Chiffon Veiling, large velvet spots, white, black and colors, $1.00 a yard.

Pittsburghers Lauded for Their Generosity in the Matter of Tip-Giving.

EVERYBODY IS PLEASED

The Head, Second and Side Waiters' National Benefit association closed its annual meeting last night by an elaborate banquet in the dining room of Central Turner hall, Forbes street. There were three places vacant at the guest table, President Roosevelt, Gov. Pennypacker and Booker T. Washington having sent their regrets. In not being on hand this trio of distinguished people missed a very inviting dinner and likewise did not have an opportunity to see a meal served up to the ideal of the waiters' art. A score of young men who had been delegated to the embarrassing task of serving masters of the art of serving, handled trays as they were never handled before. Everything was precisely and exquisitely just so.

There were some who came to the banquet expecting chicken, pork chops and a rasher of watermelon. These people were disappointed. There was bouillon in cups, black bass fillet, chicken croquets, sugar-cured ham with champagne glace, tomato salad, chicken creole, with all the accompanying side dishes, together with ice cream and strawberries, assorted cakes and black coffee. There were no intoxicants, John T. Gilbert, the toastmaster, having substituted for cocktails, sauterne, champagne and brandy a drink compounded of apollonaris, ginger ale and unfermented grape juice. This was called "sangerine Gilbert," and was in great demand.

After the dinner the guests waxed eloquent. The question of tipping was a favorite topic, and its indorsement was greeted with shouts of approval. The man who gives a generous tip, it was asserted, never was known to suffer from indigestion. The man who gives a quarter ungrudgingly was voted a "gentleman and a scholar and a friend of mankind who is assured a happy existence on this side of Jordan, as well as beyond the gates of St. Peter." Pittsburgh was voted a great city by National Secretary A. J. Mills, because "the people of this great municipality give with the overflowing spirit that characterized the good Samaritan." Pittsburgh newspaper men were kindly remembered and were declared to be "gentlemen of unswerving veracity, with Chesterfieldian manners and keen intellects."

In a word the waiters have had a good time and they feel very kindly toward Pittsburgh and everybody in it. The speakers who voiced these sentiments were F. P. Thompson, Dr. Mason, of Salisbury, N. C., and E. T. Montgomery. Mr. Gilbert was largely responsible for the success of the banquet, with a corps of skilled experts. Never was a table more tastefully decorated. After the banquet a dance was held.

MAJOR CARSON APPOINTED.

Veteran Newspaper Correspondent Is Selected for Chief of the Bureau of Manufactures.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—(Special.)—It is announced tonight that President Roosevelt has selected Maj. John M. Carson, Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger, as chief of the bureau of manufactures of the department of commerce and labor to succeed J. Hampton Moore of Philadelphia, who recently resigned his position to accept the presidency of a trust company in Philadelphia.

Maj. Carson is perhaps the best-known newspaper man in Washington, where he has been actively engaged in newspaper work since 1870. He is president of the Gridiron club.

STILL HUNTING CARTER.

Detectives Run Down Another Clue Out in Indiana County.

The county detectives have just completed another fruitless search for Silas Carter, the negro who shot and killed Policeman Patrick Sheehy at Logan street and Wylie avenue, May 17, 1902. George Wharton, a negro, who is now in jail awaiting trial for burglary, recently informed Supt. R. G. Robinson, of the county detective bureau, that Carter was in Indiana county.

Wednesday Detectives Reed, McMillan and Stonefield took Wharton to Indiana county in search of Carter. Wharton agreed to disclose the hiding place of the fugitive. The detectives drove back in the county 24 miles, but it was learned that Carter had not been in the vicinity since last November.

PITTSBURGHERS ARE AFTER NORFOLK AND SOUTHERN

NORFOLK, VA., May 26.—A. H. Flint, former president, Henry Sproul & Co., Charles R. Painter and the Colonial Trust Company of Pittsburgh, are stated to be contending for control of the Norfolk & Southern railroad. All of the directors have resigned except Mr. Flint, who, it is said, refused to retire. M. K. King, general manager of the road here, and Mr. Scoville of Pittsburgh, the new directors, are said to represent the Pittsburgh interests.

Entertain for New Official.

Members of the associate councils of the National Union of Allegheny county gave an entertainment in Post 88, G. A. R. hall, Allegheny, last night in honor of Lucian Seymour, the newly elected grand deputy of the union, whose headquarters are at Toledo. J. H. McChesney, secretary of the Allegheny council, presided. Addresses were made by L. K. White, state senator of Pennnsylvania for the order, and M. J. McMahon, principal of the First ward school, Allegheny.

Receives Anonymous Letter.

UNIONTOWN, May 26.—(Special.)—Mrs. Lulu Engle, who found dynamite in the heel of a pair of shoes left in her yard, has received an anonymous letter in which the writer says he saw the shoes placed in the yard by another person. The hand-writing of the letter is similar to that of other letters received by Mrs. Engle, and it was turned over to the officers.

Rosseau Is Sentenced.

NEW YORK, May 26.—Gessler Rosseau, who was convicted of sending an infernal machine to the pier of the steamship Umbria in May, 1903, today was sent to state prison for not less than three nor more than five years. Rosseau made a long statement in which he declared his innocence, and pleaded not to be sent to prison on what he called "such ridiculous evidence."

Our College Stands High.

The general opinion that Pittsburgh has neglected higher education is not entirely true. The Pennsylvania College for Women is one of the oldest in the state and still maintains a high place. President S. A. Martin writes an interesting article for this week's issue of the Index, Pittsburgh's illustrated weekly, in which he discusses the question, which all Pittsburghers should read. Get it from your newsdealer, Saturday.

Change of Time on Monongahela Division Pennsylvania Railroad.

In addition to the trains already in service, a new train has been established between Pittsburgh and Brownsville, leaving Pittsburgh at 9:15 a. m., arriving Brownsville 11:00 a. m.; returning, leaving Brownsville at 12:05 p. m., arriving Pittsburgh at 1:55 p. m. New trains will be in service on and after May 29, 1905.

Celebrate May Day.

May day at the Pennsylvania College for Women proved to be one of the prettiest and most interesting events in the recent history of the institution. This week's issue of the Index, Pittsburgh's illustrated weekly, contains many illustrations and a description of the exercises. On all news stands Saturday.

CASTLE'S RESOLUTION MEETS WITH DISFAVOR

Attempt to Keep Liquor Dealers Out of Board of Trade Raises Storm.

Members of the Pittsburgh board of trade were considerably stirred up last night at a special meeting in their rooms in Shady avenue by the introduction of a resolution to refuse to consider as elegible to membership in the association any person, firm or corporation engaged or connected with the liquor business.

The resolution was introduced by Homer Castle, who, in support of it said that persons engaged in the liquor business were not representative of the business interests of the city, and that the power of the organization would be greatly increased by the exclusion of this class of business men.

This statement brought over 20 members to their feet, and for a time threatened to disrupt the meeting. When order was secured Dr. J. P. Laughlin stated that the adoption of this resolution would debar many of the most prominent business men of the city from the board, and urged that the resolution be voted down.

After an hour of debating, during which several fiery speeches were made in defense of the resolution by its author, the question was put to vote and was almost unanimously lost.

The artesian well project was discussed and a committee appointed to see the members of other boards of trade and ask them to unite in urging select council to pass the measure. Several amendments to the by-laws were offered, the principal one being the charging of an initiation fee of $5, making the cost of a membership in the board $10, instead of $5.

Two New Teachers Elected.

The directors of the Fifteenth ward school, Allegheny, last night elected the following teachers for the next term of school: J. H. Chatham, principal; Rhoda Bell, Emma Meals, Mary Cunningham, Martha Brooks, Emma Ebert, Caroline Krane, Lilly McKain, Emma Hurst, Florense Boschert, Blanch Ross, Margaret Drum, Rose Laater, Ivul Smith, Delia Piel, Emma Day, Bertha Garroway, Hermie Neely and Amanda M. Adams. The latter will have supervision over the department of domestic science. Aside from Miss Adams, Miss Hurst is the only other new appointee.

HELEN GOULD ENTERTAINS FRIENDLESS CHILDREN

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., May 26.—(Special.)—Miss Helen Miller Gould entertained about 100 little boys from the Home of the Friendless, New York, at her country seat, "Lyndhurst," this afternoon in memory of her father's birthday. There was no end of games and Miss Gould supervised everything. Tomorrow Miss Gould will entertain the little girls from the same home.

Employment Agent in Trouble.

William Hill, a negro, who conducts employment agencies in Grant street and Wylie avenue, was committed to jail yesterday by Alderman Albern, charged with false pretense and issuing false documents. He will be given a hearing Monday evening. He is alleged to have taken money on a guarantee of employment and to have given worthless checks. James McGuire, Jacob Simpson, Robert Brown and Elliot Dunn make the charges.

Missionary Society Elects Officers.

SPRINGFIELD, O., May 26.—The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Lutheran church today decided to hold the next convention in St. Matthew's church, Philadelphia. These officers were chosen: President, Mrs. P. A. Heilman, Baltimore; corresponding secretary, Miss M. H. Morris, Lutherville, Md.; treasurer, Mrs. E. B. Miller, Baltimore.

Again Postpones Liquor Cases.

For the third time the hearing in the cases of Anson Ramsey, Frank Colbert and E. J. Reynolds of the Independent Rod and Gun club of Third avenue has been postponed. The men are charged with selling liquor on Sunday and without a license. The information was made about three weeks ago before Alderman Anderson, by County Detective Robinson. A hearing was to have been held yesterday afternoon, but was postponed and no date set.

STUYVESANT FISH'S WIFE PAYS ALL HER OWN BILLS

Husband Testifies in a Suit of a Furrier to Recover the Price of the Goods Delivered.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 26.—Stuyvesant Fish testified in Justice Delehanty's part of the city court today, where A. Jaeckel sued him to recover $1,600 for a muff and tippet made from Russian sable skins picked out by Mrs. Fish. The furs were returned by Mrs. Fish, who claimed the muff was not of the skins she had selected.

Mr. Fish testified he had an income of $100,000 a year and paid all bills for articles bought for the house, but did not pay his wife's bills.

"Do you mean to say that you do not pay for her clothing?" asked Attorney Keating, for the plaintiff.

"I do not," replied Mr. Fish.

"But you allow her a certain income?" said Justice Delehanty.

"I do not. She has her own income from her investments," was the reply.

The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff of the full amount claimed and costs.

CERTIFICATES FOR MINERS.

Many Coal Diggers Pass Examination for Mine Foremen and Fire Boss.

Mine Inspector F. W. Cunningham of the Fourteenth district has announced the successful candidates for mine foremen and fire boss. Another Week of "Me, Him and I."

"Me, Him and I" will be at the Duquesne one more week, the arrangement has been made necessary by the continual demand for seats, the theater being filled to capacity at every performance. Bickel Watson and Wrothe have made themselves the talk of the town and the engagement might probably be extended away into the summer, but prior bookings make it impossible to keep the company after June 3 so this is the last chance to see the frolicque this season.

"Spotted Fever" Again.

The authorities of the bureau of health were notified yesterday that Frank Cililli, an Italian, of 147 Winslow street, Twenty-first ward, was afflicted with cerebro-spinal meningitis. The patient will be treated at his home. There are now seven cases of "spotted fever" in the city. Cililli's attack is in a mild form and the city physicians are of the opinion he will recover.

Charges Constable With Forgery.

Harry Cawley, constable for Alderman Kaltenhauser of the Fourteenth ward, was committed to jail yesterday by Alderman Toole on a charge of forgery, on information of Superintendent R. G. Robinson of the county detective bureau. It is alleged Cawley forged the name of his former bondsman. It was learned his bondsman died before he submitted his bond to court.

The Death Roll.

Funeral of Judge Ewing Today.

Funeral services for ex-Judge J. Kennedy Ewing will take place this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church at Uniontown. The Rev. Dr. A. S. Milholland will officiate, assisted by the Rev. J. C. Kelly of West Newton. The Fayette County Bar association will attend the funeral in a body. The large flag at the court house hangs at half mast, as does also the flag at the Salvation Army citadel, the building of which was made possible by Judge Ewing donating the lot. Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Ewing, Jr., of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. J. R. Reid, and ex-Judge and Mrs. S. F. Ewing of Philadelphia, have arrived for the funeral, and Supreme Court Justice S. L. Mestrezat is expected this morning. The interment will take place at Oak Grove cemetery at Uniontown, beside the body of Mrs. Ewing.

Edward W. Dambach.

Edward W. Dambach, one of the best known citizens of Butler county, died Thursday at Los Angeles, Cal., where he went last fall for his health. He was accompanied by his wife and son, Ralph, and daughter, Frances, who survive him. Mr. Dambach was born in Cranberry township, Butler county, 50 years ago. He established a planing mill 11 years ago, and was instrumental in organizing the Citizens' National bank of Evans City, of which he was president at the time of his death. He was also interested in oil properties and real estate. He was a member of the Reformed church.

Mrs. Margaret Byerly.

Mrs. Margaret Byerly, aged 77, mother of George Byerly of Butler street, Etna, died yesterday afternoon at 1:40 o'clock at her son's home. She was born in Bavaria, and came to America in 1848, locating in the East End. In the same year she married John Byerly and they removed to Etna in 1865, where the family has lived ever since. John Byerly died in 1895. She was a member of the First German Lutheran church, Sharpsburg, and of seven children born, five survive, as follows: Thomas, George, Frank, William and Conrad, all of Etna.

OHIO PLATFORM GROWS POPULAR

Its Tariff Plank Delights the Most Ardent Protectionists at Washington.

MR. DALZELL IS PLEASED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 16, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26.

It goes just far enough not to offend the president or Secretary Taft, and yet it indicates that the Republicans of Ohio do not favor the purchase of ships and supplies abroad for the Panama canal, was the general tenor of the comment upon the Ohio Republican state platform by the Republican leaders in Washington today. On the tariff it delights the most ardent protectionists who did not hesitate to express their indorsement in the strongest terms.

The fact that party discipline demanded that the convention should not be radical in its condemnation of the proposed policy of the Panama commission was recognized by the most uncompromising advocates of protection. They realized at the same time that this is not a time to abandon the protective policy which has been the cardinal principle of the Republican party for years, even if it became necessary for the convention to condemn some of the actions of the administration. It was a delicate task set before the framers of the Republican platform, but in the opinion of the standpatters it was performed with consummate skill.

Attention is called to how nicely the expression, "American ships shall carry American products all over the seas and through the Panama canal." And "all consumers and producers shall stand and fall together," were tucked into the resolutions. These expressions taken in connection with unqualified indorsement of the protective policy are very significant and indicate that there is very little tariff revision sentiment in Ohio.

Representative Dalzell of Pittsburgh is among the most enthusiastic indorsers of the Ohio platform. He praised it in the highest terms. "Ohio has been one of the staunchest protective tariff states in the union," said Mr. Dalzell this evening, "and, from the deliberations of its state convention, is apt to remain so. The platform adopted in convention at Columbus shows that it still stands by McKinley's policy. It is a stand-pat platform of the most pronounced character.

"The policy of the Panama commission was handled in a most admirable manner. It went just far enough to show that the Republican party in Ohio do not want any steps taken that will imperil the protective policy and at the same time is not offensive."

BIG CROWD WILL ATTEND ANTI-GRAFT MEETING

Many Prominent Citizens of Allegheny Will Serve as Vice Presidents at Gathering.

The meeting to be held tonight in Allegheny Carnegie Music hall, under the auspices of the Federation of Churches of Allegheny, to protest against vice and graft on the North Side, promises to be one of the largest gatherings ever held in Allegheny. DEADLOCK IN COMMISSION.

Canadian-American Waterways Board Cannot Reach an Agreement as to its Duties.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—(Special.)—Without even outlining its work the Canadian-American waterways commission today adjourned to meet at Toronto, Canada, at a date later to be determined upon. Their inability to do anything arose from the difference in view as to scope of duties. The Canadian members believe the commission should consider all questions affecting the use of international waters, but the American government takes the view that it should deal only with problems involved in the water level of the great lakes.

Until Secretary Taft returns and Attorney General Moody renders an opinion on the law authorizing the commission, a mutual view cannot be reached. The Canadian members of the commission will soon return to Canada.

Pittsburghers Take Up Canoeing.

More interest is being shown this year in canoeing in this vicinity than ever before. The Allegheny river a few miles from Pittsburgh furnishes an ideal place for the enjoyment of this pastime. Three clubs which promote the sport have fine homes and it is expected that several other clubs will be organized in the near future. This week's issue of the Index, Pittsburgh's illustrated weekly, contains an interesting article on this charming out-of-door sport, with many special photographs. For sale Saturday on all news stands.

COLONY OF JAPANESE TO SETTLE IN TEXAS

Rice Fields Will Be Secured to Employ One Thousand Farmers from Far East.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Japanese colonization is contemplated in Texas by a wealthy Japanese agriculturist who recently visited the United States, according to a report submitted to the department of commerce and labor by Fred D. Fisher, the American consul at Tamsui, Formosa, who based his announcement upon recent publications in Japanese papers. The report says that 1,000 farmers are to be collected in Japan and that as a first undertaking 9,800 acres will be cultivated in paddy fields in Texas.

Mr. Fisher has forwarded to the department an interview with the Japanese gentleman in which the statement was made that farming was the only enterprise that can profitably be undertaken in America by the Japanese. He stated the Japanese could save more money in this country than in Hawaii because they could supply the larger part of their daily diet, such as vegetables and rice, from their own productions, whereas in Hawaii all of the rice and other articles of their diet are imported from Japan, thereby greatly increasing their price.

He says he intends to invest upward of $250,000 the first year in buying lands and in other expenses. The colony is to locate on lands rich in soil, but until recently used for grazing.

SATCHEL WITH FORTUNE LIGHTLY TOSSED ABOUT

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YARK, May 26.—It was discovered today that old Alexander Russell, who had lived all alone in a little room at 121 Cambridge place, cooked his own meals, spent hour after hour immersed in the reading of old-fashioned books, was in reality worth $500,000. One day last November with no one near at the time, the old man died. There had been no doctor so the case went to the coroner. The clerk looked through the two old trunks. They contained nothing but clothing and some books. There was an old worn satchel in the room too. The clerk took that down to the coroner's office.

There had been nothing suspicious about the old man's death, so the case was soon disposed of. The satchel got dusty lying in a corner of the coroner's office. It was overlooked for some time. Finally it was turned over to W. H. Kelby, a lawyer employed by the public administrator. From that old worn satchel Lawyer Kelby took bank books showing that at the Chemical National bank, Alexander Russell had on deposit $200,000 and with the Colonial Trust Company he had on deposit $51,000. There were other papers in deeds and bonds of different values. In all, Russell had died worth at least half a million dollars.

A will turned up, too, in the neglected satchel. By its provisions the big fortune goes to an old woman in Scotland, Agnes Jeanette Russell, a sister of the dead man.

SETTLEMENT IS MADE WITH THE PLUMBERS

Journeymen Secure Closed Shop Agreement, Which Will Not Expire Until January, 1909.

The Master Plumbers' association of the Builders' Exchange league signed an agreement yesterday with Local 27, United Association of Plumbers. The life of the agreement is three years and eight months, it terminating January 1, 1909. The Master Plumbers removed the "open shop" agreement and inserted a full closed shop clause. The wages and other conditions will remain the same as last year's agreement.

The signing of the plumber's scale completes a settlement with all building trades and the committee on suspension for the Builders' league, which is known to the workmen as the strike committee, will now be discharged "with thanks" of the league. They indorsed the agreement, consequently it is valid in the eyes of the Builders' Exchange league.

The only friction that can occur is in disposing of the imported non-union men, but in a few weeks they will either leave the city or affiliate with the United association. The journeymen have agreed to return to work Monday.

JUSTICE VAN BRUNT DIES.

Head of New York's Appellate Division Stricken With Heart Disease While Walking on Street.

NEW YORK, May 26.—(Special.)—Charles H. Van Brunt, presiding justice of the appellate division of the supreme court of this state, dropped dead today in front of the Brooklyn bridge. He was on his way to Brooklyn with his daughter, Georgiana, and had reached the balcony above the street entrance to the bridge when he placed his hand on his heart and fell dead.

Justice Van Brunt was born December 26, 1836. He was elected a justice of the supreme court in 1883, and on January 1, 1887, he became the presiding justice of that court in the first judicial department, succeeding Justice Noah Davis.

JUTTE'S BODY HOME.

Coal Man's Fortune Said to Be Less Than a Million.

The body of W. C. Jutte, who committed suicide in Atlantic City on Thursday, was brought to his late residence at Morewood avenue and Castleman street, yesterday morning. Mrs. Jutte is prostrated with grief. On the night before the tragedy she talked with her husband over the long-distance telephone and he appeared to be in better spirits than usual.

Mr. Jutte's family will be left in comfortable circumstances, although he is said not to have had the wealth of millions with which he was credited. He carried life insurance policies to the amount of $200,000.

STOCIE STOCKHOLDERS MEETING PROVES SMALL

Only four persons responded to the call for a meeting of stockholders of the American Stogie Company at the Hotel Henry yesterday afternoon. There are three members of the committee in charge of the plan to force a financial statement and a dividend from the management. To finance promised legal proceedings a 2 per cent assessment is asked. The meeting lasted but a few minutes, the main feature being a brief report from H. Y. Carll on a conversation with Attorney Burroughs of the company, who advised the stockholders to wait. It was stated that a statement would soon be made.

FATHER COYNE LECTURES BEFORE THE LYCEUM

The Rev. Father C. J. Coyne of McKees Rocks last night delivered the principal address at the complimentary entertainment given by the Catholic lyceum in its hall, Washington street. His subject was "Patriotism and Education," being the title of an address which Marion H. Murphy had been scheduled to make. Mr. Murphy was unable to be present. Miss Joy Belle Weller, Stephen J. Berker, H. A. F. Hipps, Miss Alice Walsh, Miss Lillian Curran, Miss Norella Smith and Joseph A. Wheeler took part in solos and recitations, and the lyceum orchestra furnished the music.

Start Fund for Slum Tenants.

Letters were sent out yesterday by the Salvation Army for contributions to the fund for sending mothers and children of the tenement districts in Allegheny county to the country during the hot months, and for the distribution of "penny ice." Representatives of the army, under the direction of Miss William Andrews, will call upon contributors for donations.

WILL AID REFORMED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCHES

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, May 26.—A busy business session of the Reformed Presbyterian general synod was held today. The board of church erection and sustentation reported that three congregations had erected churches without aid and the board had given aid to several. During the coming year the board will be able to pay 88 per cent of the amounts asked. At this ratio congregations at the following places will be paid the sums stated: Slippery Rock, $249; Superior, $294; Mercer, $133; Jonathan's Creek, $249; Boston, $408; Coldenham, $249; Muskingum and Tornica, $249 each; West Hebron, $274; Rehoboth, $249. The total receipts of the board were $6,448 and the balance unexpended is $1,890. The Rev. C. McLeod Smith of Ray, Ind., was elected moderator's alternate.

This evening was devoted to a conference upon "The Religious State of Our Church," and addresses were made as follows: The Rev. Findley M. Foster, "Our Missionary Fields"; the Rev. R. C. Wylie, D. D., of Wilkinsburg, "Our Testimony for Christ, the King"; the Rev. Charles D. Trumbull, "Our Congregational Work." The Rev. James G. McElhinney signified his acceptance of a call to the Adamsville and Middleton congregations of the Pittsburgh presbytery. The Rev. A. A. Samson has accepted a call to the Denver (Col.) congregation. The Rev. George N. Greer, who graduated last year from Allegheny Theological seminary, has accepted a call to Coultersville, Ill. An interesting feature of the synod is the attendance of Elder Yellowfish, an Indian, who represents the Cache Creek congregation composed largely of Indians. The resignation of Walter T. Miller as treasurer of the foreign mission fund, which he has held for 33 years, was not accepted, but the synod thanked him for his work and urged him to remain in office.

The appeal of Dr. Joseph F. Dodds of Pittsburgh from the verdict of expulsion from the East End church is scheduled to be considered Monday afternoon, but may be taken up tomorrow. Dr. Dodds, who is a physician and a former elder of the East End Presbyterian church, was expelled because he entered politics last fall as a candidate for congress upon the Prohibition ticket.

PRESIDENT MITCHELL ORDERS CONFERENCE

Will Consider Plans for His Campaign of Organization in the Anthracite Field.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILKESBARRE, May 26.—President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers has summoned District Presidents Nichols, Dettry and Fahey of the anthracite region, to meet him in New York next Tuesday to discuss plans for his three months' campaign of organization in this region which will start next week. He expects when he has completed the tour of the region to have all the 160,000 mine workers members of the union and their dues pouring into the treasury regularly each month, to swell the funds which can be used in case of a strike next year, when the present agreement with the operators expires. He will come to this city the end of next week and make this place his headquarters.

Louis N. Hammerling of this city will also meet him in New York next Tuesday, to arrange for locating the monument to the mine workers killed at Latimer in 1897, the fund having now reached about $80,000.

Mine workers throughout the region are planning the creation of a new conciliation board when the life of the present one ends next April, a board of three men, one operator, one mine worker and an outsider who shall visit each mine where there is a grievance, personally investigate conditions and render a prompt decision.

Electic Doctors Choose Officers.

HARRISBURG, May 26.—The Pennsylvania Eleetic Medical association at its annual session here today elected the following officers: President, Dr. C. S. Johnston Vaugh, Bethlehem; vice presidents, Dr. A. F. Dunsmore, Barnesboro, and Dr. W. H. Campbell, East Smithfield; recording secretary, Dr. Nannie M. Sloan, Latrobe; corresponding secretary, Dr. A. Kimmelrauch, Johnstown; treasurer, Dr. W. H. Wolf, Pittsburgh.

Comptroller Closes Bank.

AKRON, O., May 26.—(Special.)—By order of the Comptroller of the Currency Ridgeway, the National bank of Barberton was today declared insolvent due to having accepted bad paper. The bank was closed this morning. The depositors are laboring people. The bank was capitalized at $50,000. O. C. Barber offered to take over the business of the bank, but could not under the law. He made the statement today that no one would suffer. The failure followed that of the Barberton Pottery Company.

New Armory Is Dedicated.

SHARON, May 26.—(Special.)—The new $20,000 armory of the Buhl Independent rifles was dedicated today. It also marked the seventh anniversary of the founding of the organization. J. M. Evans and the Rev. F. J. Mallet made addresses. From 1 o'clock until 5 o'clock in the afternoon the building was open for inspection. In the evening a banquet was served.

Four Remember Lafayette's Visit.

UNIONTOWN, May 26.—(Special.)—Today is the 80th anniversary of the visit of Gen. Lafayette to Uniontown. There are still living in this section four persons who remember that event, Mrs. Esther Harris, aged 100 years; Miss Mary A. Getzendanner, aged 92 years; William V. Clark, aged 92 years, and Mrs. Elizabeth Porter, aged 91 years.

Victim of Combs and Curling Iron.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., May 26.—(Special.)—Miss Nellie Pulmar, aged 26 years, a bookkeeper of this city, died in a hospital here today as a result of injuries received Tuesday, while using a curling iron. Comb in her hair became ignited and she was horribly burned.

Pittsburgh Firm Back of It.

IRWIN, May 26.—(Special.)—Application for a charter for a new brewery to be built here has been made. It is said that about $200,000 will be expended on the plant, and that the Pittsburgh Brewing Company is back of the project.

Appointed to New Office.

HARRISBURG, May 26.—Gov. Pennypacker has appointed Norman G. Miller of Chambersburg assistant state economic zoologist. This office, the salary of which is $1,000 a year, was created by the recent legislature.

Take Up Miniatures Again.

Pittsburgh's society is taking up the fad of miniature paintings. Many years ago all the prominent families of the south and east had miniatures of their members. Later these gave way to dull crayons. Now, however, the painting with color of life has regained its hold on the public. This week's issue of the Index, Pittsburgh's society paper, contains a large number of these miniatures reproduced from their costly originals. On all news stands Saturday.

Change of Time on Monongahela Division Pennsylvania Railroad.

In addition to the trains already in service, a new train has been established between Pittsburgh and Brownsville, leaving Pittsburgh at 9:15 a. m., arriving Brownsville 11:00 a. m., returning, leaving Brownsville at 12:05 p. m., arriving Pittsburgh at 1:55 p. m. New trains will be in service on and after May 29, 1905.

MEN SUSPENDED AS THEY WORK

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 26.—(Special.)—Unique methods are being adopted in the construction of the grade for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad near here. On the east side of the Market street viaduct it is necessary to cut down a hill 200 feet high. The men working on the cut are tied to ropes suspended from the top of the hill. They use the ropes to hold them while they are working, and pull themselves up and down with them. The picture was taken 50 feet above the men while the cars shown are 150 feet below.

PHILADELPHIA MEN TO CONTROL CONCERNS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHARON, May 26.—It is officially announced that the control of the Cleveland & Sharon Traction Company and the Eastern Construction Company has passed out of the hands of the present promoters and will rest with Philadelphia interests. In the reorganization, the Cleveland & Sharon road will have for its president, it is said, a man holding an official position in a Philadelphia trust company. The vice president will be Dr. C. S. Fulton of Orangeville, with George H. Pomeroy of Cleveland as secretary.

The Eastern Construction Company will have these officers: F. B. Morgan, Cleveland, president; Newton Jackson, Philadelphia, vice president; Charles H. Salmon, Jr., Philadelphia, secretary, and the Mellon interests of Pittsburgh, treasurer.

The Eastern Construction company will make a new contract with the Cleveland & Sharon road, wherein it will take all the bonds and stocks of the road and will finance and build it, work to begin next week.

The Philadelphia interests secure also the Warren, Cortlandt & Jefferson road. The Cleveland & Sharon will have $1,500,000 bonds, bearing 5 per cent interest, payable in May and November. The Fidelity Trust Company of Philadelphia will be the trustee of the new mortgage of both roads. The Warren, Cortlandt & Jefferson road will be built as soon as the Cleveland & Sharon line is completed. The Cleveland & Sharon road will become guarantors of the Warren, Cortlandt & Jefferson bonds. This road is capitalized at $1,250,000, with an authorized bond issue for the same amount. B. A. French of Lenox, O., is its president.

THINK IT OVER

Summit Park appeals to intelligent real estate buyers, and the more you know about the real estate market in Pittsburgh the better you will appreciate what is offered in the new suburb.

There have been similar opportunities in the past, there may be others in the future, but we doubt very much if beautiful, level residence frontage on a main car line within the 5-mile radius of the Court House will ever be offered again at 3 to 3¾ cents per square foot.

We do not doubt that many persons have read our advertisements and said to themselves, "Another one of those hurrah sales—there's a loophole somewhere." Now, you who read this, if you are skeptical come out to Summit Park and be convinced that there is such a thing as a square deal. Summit Park is something new in the real estate field. It is different. It stands in a class by itself. In the first place it is one of the largest tracts ever put on the market in Pittsburgh, and it is the only extensive suburb ever sold under restrictions in 100x200 foot lots. New York, Boston, Philadelphia, most of the large American cities have suburbs of this character, but Pittsburgh has practically no place where a man can buy a large lot in a restricted neighborhood at a moderate price.

The promoters of Summit Park realized this when they took up the matter of sub-dividing this 1000-acre tract. That the project is appreciated our list of buyers proves.

Rome was not built in a day, and we do not promise that Summit Park will smash all building records. But we do expect to see it grow rapidly and steadily into a most attractive suburb.

The buyers who get in at the beginning are the ones who will profit most by the development of Summit Park. We do not think it exaggeration to say that this property will be selling at $50 per foot in 5 to 10 years. Can you think of any other property in Greater Pittsburgh which is likely to show greater enhancement in the same time?

If you can buy a lot today for $750 and sell it for $5,000 in 10 years, isn't it a good investment?

And, mind you, this is frontage on the main car line through Mount Washington tunnel, and only 35 minutes from the business section.

Come out today, or tomorrow, or Decoration Day, any day you please, and let us show you what we have.

Prices: 100x200 feet on car line, $750; 50x140 feet on car line, $375; 75x180 feet on car line, $575.

Terms 10 per cent cash, 3 per cent per month, 10 per cent discount for cash in 60 days. No interest, no taxes till lot is paid for. Building restrictions on every lot. Every title insured. Get one of our plans and booklets.

Take Charleroi car at Third avenue and Wood street. Express cars leave 9 minutes after the hour. Get off at Summit Park Station in 35 minutes.

Nine Nations

Now Use Liquozone. Won't You Try It—Free?

Millions of people of nine different nations are constant users of Liquozone. Some are using it to get well; some to keep well. Some to cure germ diseases; some as a tonic. No medicine was ever so widely employed. These users are everywhere; your neighbors and friends are among them. And half the people you meet—wherever you are—know some one whom Liquozone has cured.

If you need help, please ask some of these users what Liquozone does. Don't blindly take medicine for what medicine cannot do. Drugs never kill germs. For your own sake, ask about Liquozone; then let us buy you a full-size bottle to try.

We Paid $100,000

For the American rights to Liquozone. We did this after testing the product for two years through physicians and hospitals, after proving, in thousands of difficult cases, that Liquozone destroys the cause of any germ disease.

Liquozone has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. It is not made by compounding drugs, nor with alcohol. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you, its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetal matter.

There lies the great value of Liquozone. It is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissue, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison and it cannot be taken internally. Every physician knows that medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

COLLEGE TEAM MADE PITTSBURGH HUSTLE FOR VICTORY

TIGERS TRIMMED BY THE PIRATES

RECEPTION TO FRED CLARKE

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM RICHARD R. GUY, Staff Correspondent.

PRINCETON, May 27.—The Pittsburgh Pirates filled in an open date here today by playing Princeton, the eastern college champions, and won 4 to 3. Don B. Doyle, the young Pittsburgher, was on the rubber for the college and he pitched a masterly game. In the face of poor playing behind him, Doyle demonstrated he is a youngster of high class and was declared so by Fred Clarke after the game.

Doyle and Mike Lynch divided honors, but the drives off Doyle were beat out bunts and "Texas leaguers," while the Tigers landed on Lynch for safe and healthy drives. The National leaguers did not win until the ninth inning, when some very stupid work lost Doyle the game. Princeton ran bases like prep. school boys and this, too, acted against it. Doyle kept his hits scattered, but two bases on balls cost him two runs.

In the first inning Beaumont, after Clarke had foul flied out to Cooney, hit into left. Forsythe taking his time chasing it. Clymer beat out a bunt to third, but neither scored. Beaumont being thrown out and Wagner flying out to left. The Pirates, however, got active in the second. Clancy flied to McLean and then Doyle, losing control of the spit ball, walked Leach and McBride. Carisch flied to Weiss and Lynch hit into left. Forsythe played the ball poorly and then allowed it to get past him, Lynch taking third and Leach scoring. Doyle then settled down and the scoring Pittsburgh did until the ninth, and up to this period but three safe hits were made, Clymer in the third, Carisch in the fourth and Wagner in the eighth.

Reid scored for Princeton in the fourth, Lynch fumbled his bunt, then threw wild, and Clancy heaved it wildly when Reid broke for second. Helms hit to middle sent him home. The collegians got three hits in the next round, but did not score. Lew Doyle opened with a single, but was caught trying to steal. Cooney, Forsythe and Stagg died on this occasion, but Mike folding kept them from scoring.

Princeton tied up the game in the sixth by Reid singling and scoring on a three-base drive to right by Helms, and in the seventh forged ahead with its third run. McLean hit and Lew Doyle sacrificed. McLean went to third while Wagner was throwing out Forsythe, and he romped home on Carisch's throw past Leach in an endeavor to catch him napping.

The Pirates were unable to get on first until the ninth, when with one out McBride hit. Carisch lifted a fine short right which Lew Doyle tried to get on the first bound. He recovered quickly, but fired the ball home, it going over Cooney's head, hitting the fence near the grandstand. While the Pirates were claiming a blocked ball and Cooney was holding the ball, both runners went home and Pittsburgh had won the game. Umpire Farmer denied a block ball, but the Pirates were off the field.

Fred Clarke was given an enthusiastic greeting by the players and students. The catch of a line drive off Wells' bat was a feature of the game. Otis Clymer made a hit with Princeton. Pittsburgh left early for home to play Cincinnati. Secretary Will Locke had charge of the team. The score:

HAPPENINGS OF A DAY.

—Eight new cases of typhoid fever were reported in Pittsburgh yesterday.

—The regular holiday routine will be observed at the Pittsburgh and Allegheny postoffices on Memorial day.

—The police raided a crap game on the Pennsylvania tracks, near East Liberty, yesterday afternoon, and arrested four white men and a negro.

—Cleo Robinson was held in $300 for court by Alderman Groteginger yesterday on a charge of obtaining by false pretense $15 75 worth of glassware from Mrs. Minnie McKee of 49 Fulton street.

—John Goings, in default of $1,000 bail, was committed to jail for court last evening by Alderman Spahr of the Thirteenth ward on a charge of selling liquor without license and selling on Sunday.

—T. Davis of Chicago, whom the police say was recently released from the Moundsville (W. Va.) penitentiary, was arrested yesterday on suspicion. He had a valuable gold watch in his possession.

—Frank Masztak, who arrived from Poland yesterday, and Frank Olinsky of Twenty-fourth street, were arrested at Smithfield and Water streets. Masztak had been drinking and Olinsky, the police say, was steering him.

—Charles Puifer of Sturgeon street, Allegheny, was sent to jail for court yesterday afternoon by Alderman Abernathey on a charge of embezzling $50 from Walter Hasley, an Allegheny coal dealer, for whom he was a driver and collector.

—Charles Henderson was committed to jail last night by Justice William Patterson of Mendelssohn on information made by James Sicht, who alleges Henderson has been stealing chickens from him during the last three months.

—Charles Kramer yesterday was committed to jail by Alderman Soffel of the Thirty-second ward on a charge of forgery made by J. J. Wild. The latter is

PUPILS DONATE PRETTY GARLANDS

Thousands of Flowers from School Children Will Decorate Graves of Heroes.

MRS. PARKER IS REMEMBERED

Thousands of flowers and plants to be used in decorating the graves of departed Union soldiers on Memorial day were contributed to the G. A. R. posts yesterday by the pupils of the public schools of Allegheny county. Pansies, geraniums, hyacinths, carnations, monthly roses and a dozen of other growing flowers were brought in immense numbers to the schools by the patriotic youngsters, who showed a great spirit of rivalry in bringing in the finest blooms. Over 100,000 plants were offered for the Memorial day exercises.

In the Fourth ward school, Pittsburgh, the annual celebration was held, the donation of flowers being followed by an art exhibition and a patriotic entertainment. Prof. Samuel Andrews, city superintendent of schools, on behalf of the pupils in the manual training department, presented the superintendent, Mrs. G. M. Parker, with an artistic, reclining chair, which was made by the scholars in Prof. E. O. Fitzgerald's department of carpentry and cabinet-making.

The Fourth ward board donated hundreds of dozens of roses and carnations, with palms and ferns, which were displayed in attractive fashion around the stairways of the building. Red, white and blue bunting was entwined about the rooms and among the flowers and produced a beautiful effect.

The pupils gathered in the school hall, opening the exercises by singing the Memorial day song, "Drape the Flag." This was followed by a salute to the flag by the pupils and an original piece by little Elizabeth Clark, a pupil in room No. 2. Frank J. Totten, a Grand Army veteran, thanked the little folks for their gifts of flowers and the pupils sang a Memorial day ode composed by Miss Jennie Musgrave, a teacher in Room No. 1. Miss Mary Conoroda made the speech presenting the flowers to the veterans. A recitation by Leonora Young was one of the hits of the program. In the evening flag drills, calisthenic exercises and patriotic music entertained a large audience of the school patrons.

Representatives from Posts 88, 128 and 162 visited the public schools of Allegheny and made addresses to the pupils. Appropriate exercises were held everywhere the veterans called, and there were large donations of flowers. On Monday similar exercises will be held in many of the schools.

CELEBRATION OF BIRD DAY BY JUNIOR NORMAL CLASS

"Bird Day" next Thursday is to be celebrated by the junior normals of the Pittsburgh High school at Kennywood park. The class and the friends of its members will reach the park at 12:30 p. m. Miss Anna M. Deens, a member of the Normal faculty, will be mistress of ceremonies at the exercise. The program will include an essay on "The Fatal Gift of Beauty," by Miss Schmidt; a recitation, "In the Great Free Wood," by Miss Tilton; "Bird Sentiments," by members of the class; a recitation, "A June Day Longing," by Miss Helgoth, and a number of songs. The class bird is the cardinal grosbeak.

SOCIETY

AT the charming little tea Mrs. Edward Hanna Small gave yesterday afternoon, formal announcement was made of the engagement of one of the honor guests, Miss Anne Bowmen of Waverly, Ia., and Robert Tindle McElroy, of this city, a cousin of the hostess. Miss Culbertson, of Lewistown, who is visiting Miss Alice Wood Tindle, shared the honors with Miss Bowman who, with her sister, Miss Jane Bowman, is visiting her aunt, Miss Bowman of Linden avenue. Mrs. James Robert Tindle presided over the punch bowl, while assisting informally and helping spread the good news, were Miss Tindle, Miss Margaret Forsyth, Miss Willa Forsyth, Miss Alice Negley, Mrs. Karl Emmerling, Mrs. William B. Ewing, Miss Hannah Maxwell, Miss Mary Maxwell and Miss Jane Bowman. Small vases of pink carnations graced the table in the center of which was a large bowl of wigiella branches. About half a hundred young friends of the hostess were present. The wedding of Miss Bowman and Mr. McElroy will be an event of next fall. The bride-elect comes of a family well-known in this part of the country, and is related to the Jacobs, the Snowdens, Hoggs, Grahams and Bowmans of Brownsville. Her fiance is a member of the law firm of McElroy & McVay of Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgher to Wed in Homestead.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Stahl of Homestead have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Catharine Pearl Stahl, and John Milton Ryall of Pittsburgh, to take place on Wednesday evening, June 14, at 8:30 o'clock, in the First Presbyterian church of Homestead. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. George M. Ryall of Saltsburg, Pa., a brother of the prospective bridegroom, assisted by the Rev. John Yount. The bridal party will include Mrs. John B. Martin of Homestead, a sister of the bride-elect, as matron of honor; Miss Bess Mason of Fairmont, W. Va., and Miss Elsie E. Smith of Allegheny, classmates of the bride-elect at Maryland College for Women; Miss Bessie Stahl of Connellsville, and Miss Blossom M. Robinsteen of Pittsburgh, as bridesmaids. Walter S. Klein will serve as best man, while the ushers will include Harry S. Midgley, Earnest E. Fiscus, William T. Hunter, Dr. Ralph E. Gill, Marshall Henderson and Dickson C. Shaw, Jr., all of Pittsburgh. A reception will follow at Steenson's hall, and enclosed with the invitations are cards announcing days at home in Homestead after August 1.

House Dance for Three Guests.

Miss Mildred Andrews, Miss Emzie Taylor, nieces of the host and hostess, and Miss Eva Brown shared honors last evening at the dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Alexander P. Moore at their home in South Negley avenue. Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Florence Sullivan of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Brown, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Mordecai of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Maddox of New York and Miss Crosby of Washington, D. C., all of whom were members of a house party entertained at the Moore home.

Had 11 Tables of Bridge.

Eleven tables were in use at the bridge party given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. James Wood and her sister, Mrs. James Wood Scully. The guests were the older friends of the two sisters who entertained at the Allegheny Country club. Among the prize winners were Mrs. Henry Chalfant, Mrs. Morton C. Nicholls, Mrs. William F. Snyder, Mrs. William Nimick Frew, Mrs. Harvey Childs, Jr., Mrs. W. G. McCandless, Mrs. A. J. Rankin and Mrs. J. Walton Cook.

Euchre for Chicago Guest.

Mrs. John L. Dawes was among the hostesses of yesterday and entertained with a euchre at her home in North Highland avenue in honor of Mrs. John Shayne of Chicago, who is visiting Mrs. M. R. Vandevort of Linden avenue. The prizes went to Mrs. Wainwright, Mrs. Elliott Thomas, Mrs. W. W. Wishart, Mrs. John R. Russell, Mrs. John Wernet, Mrs. Frank Neale, Mrs. Harry Wilson, Mrs. William Turnbull, Mrs. A. A. Robertson and Mrs. E. P. Whitcomb.

Entertaining for Mrs. Westinghouse.

Mrs. Henry Baiken's bridge party of five tables yesterday afternoon was in honor of Mrs. George Westinghouse and Mrs. Thomas H. Bakewell, the latter of whom will leave next week for her summer home in Hiamisport. Mrs. George M. T. Taylor also entertained for Mrs. Westinghouse yesterday afternoon, giving a tea at her home in Hays street, East End. The affair was very small and informal.

Bridal Party at Dinner.

The members of the bridal party which will attend Miss Edna N. Hartman and Harry B. Fisher at their wedding next month were entertained at dinner last evening by Miss Emma Bardonner of Locust street, Allegheny. In addition to the bride and bridegroom covers were laid for Miss Hannah Watson, Miss Lily Fisher, B. Fisher, George Bernig, William Havekotte and the hostess.

Farewell for Mrs. Bennett.

Mrs. John Caldwell, Mrs. Frank Moore and Mrs. Emil E. Keller poured tea yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. Jenad L. Schreuder of Edgewood Park was at home informally to her friends. The affair was in the nature of a farewell for Mrs. Schreuder's mother, Mrs. Bennett, who leaves shortly for her home in London, England, after having spent the winter with her daughter.

Mrs. Lovejoy to Be at Home.

Mrs. Francis T. F. Lovejoy of "Edgehill," Braddock avenue, will be at home informally next Wednesday afternoon. No cards have been issued. Mr. and Mrs. Lovejoy will remain at "Edgehill" until July 1, when they will begin an automobile tour of the various watering places.

Mrs Horton Going Home.

Mrs. B. J. Horton, Jr., who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Locke, in South St. Clair street for several weeks, will leave for New York on Wednesday, and will sail Saturday next on the steamship Coamo for her home in Porto Rico. She will be accompanied by her sister, Miss Mary Locke, who will remain on the island several months.

Notes of Smart Social Events.

Mr. and Mrs. James McCrea of Ellsworth avenue will give a dinner at the Pittsburgh Golf club this evening.

William J. Patton gave an informal little dinner at the Allegheny Country club last evening.

Mrs. Peraifor F. Smith will be hostess at bridge this afternoon at the golf club, to meet Mrs. Sellers McKee of New York, who is visiting in Pittsburgh and Allegheny.

Mrs. Thomas Redd of Ellsworth avenue has cards out for a bridge party on Monday afternoon.

Invitations have been issued for a large card party to be given by Miss Elizabeth Rowina Bostwick of Neville street on Thursday afternoon, June 8. Miss Bostwick, who is attending the Washington seminary, will reach the city about June 6, and will bring with her Miss Bess McCarty of St. Louis, who is her room mate; Miss Edna Goodwin of Wheeling, W. Va., and Miss Jennie Robinson of Uniontown, Pa., who will share the honors of the occasion.

Mrs. George Schroeder of Wightman street gave an informal little bridge party yesterday afternoon for her sister-in-law, Miss Schroeder of Utica, N. Y. Miss Schroeder will leave for her eastern home tomorrow.

Mrs. George W. Kutscher of Braddock gave a luncheon yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. William A. Clemenston, a recent bride, and Mrs. Sara Patty Wilson, a schoolmate of the hostess at Beaver college.

A small dinner was given last evening by Miss Anna Semple at her home in Sewickley, in honor of Miss Lydia McKnight of New York.

AMONG THE CLUBS

Co-Operating for Civic Improvement.

Sectional night schools will be established in Pittsburgh and Allegheny in the fall under the auspices of the Civic club of Allegheny county. During the next few months locations will be considered for the schools, together with teachers, so that when the fall comes the schools may be opened. Through the inquiries and agitation of the educational department of the club it has been found that there is a demand for such schools for young people in congested industrial districts, who will thus be enabled to later attend the technical schools. The outlook for parental meetings is also very promising, and the movement to conduct them in Pittsburgh and Allegheny has received the indorsement of the Civic club. A meeting of the directors of the Civic club was held yesterday afternoon, but the attendance was small and action on several important matters brought to the attention of the board was deferred to a special meeting which will be called before the regular monthly meeting in June. The Civic club will co-operate with the Architectural club in its proposed new plans for the beautifying of Pittsburgh. These plans were shown at the meeting of the directors yesterday and relate to changes in the Grant street district. Differences of opinion were expressed over a request from labor unions asking the co-operation of the Civic club in securing a half holiday on Saturday, some of the directors questioning the advantages to be gained, though indorsing the scheme. Action was deferred to a special meeting, which will be called to consider this matter. The proposed tenement house improvement was discussed, but no action was taken yesterday pending the reports of the committees appointed by E. Z. Smith on the authorization of the mass meeting held a few weeks ago in the chamber of commerce. The juvenile court department reported the organization of the newly-elected board of directors, and the change of name to the Juvenile Court association. Several committees have been appointed by the directors, but acceptance has not yet been received from all the appointees. The committees will include the probation work committee, the home finding and employment committee, the propagation, the finance and the nominating committees. Resolutions were passed authorizing the appointment of a committee to ask Director E. M. Bigelow of the department of public works to have street trees sprayed to prevent devastation by insects. The resolutions followed a recommendation made by Miss Helen Grimes of the department of forestry, who also reported many complaints of horses gnawing trees in front of dwellings. The club decided to have circulars printed for distribution among drivers requesting them to refrain from their charges from feeding on trees. Mrs. Alfred Longmore reported that the People's bath house in Penn avenue was largely attended last month, 925 paid and 50 free baths being taken in one day. She also reported that the settlement house in Soho will be opened next month, and that a distributing branch of the Carnegie library would be installed there. Mrs. C. L. Davis of the Civic club of Glenshaw reported that that organization had induced the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to erect a modern passenger station about which will be a little park to be cared for by the Civic club of that place.

Japan's Relation to the Orient.

The Epoch club closed its year's work yesterday morning with a discussion of current topics under the caption of "Japan's Relation to China and Corea." The discussion followed a paper read by Mrs. Henry L. Barton, but prepared by Mrs. Arthur Hartwell. Mrs. Hartwell, who could not be present yesterday, will entertain the club at a special meeting at her home in Sewickley on Friday, June 9. The club omitted its meeting two weeks ago because of a death in the family of one of its members, and for this reason decided upon the extra gathering, which will be somewhat social in character, in Sewickley. A talk was given yesterday by Miss Alice G. Moore, one of the extension secretaries of the Y. W. C. A. The officers of the Epoch club who were elected yesterday morning at the meeting which was conducted at the home of Mrs. Francis D. Glover in Craig street, Bellefield, include the president, Mrs. Frank H. Taylor; first vice president, Mrs. Frank T. Hogg; second vice president, Mrs. Samuel B. Griffith; secretary, Mrs. J. B. Dunn, and treasurer, Mrs. George Oliver.

Arranging for the Lawn Fete.

The United Presbyterian women yesterday decided to hold their annual lawn fete at the United Presbyterian Home for the Aged this year as usual, the exact date not being decided upon, because of the delays in the building of the wing to the home in Trenton street and Penn avenue, Wilkinsburg. The date was left open to be decided at the next meeting of the United Presbyterian Women's association in June, but will occur as near the usual time of the year as possible. The chairmen of the committees were appointed and include the following: Mr

WILL OBSERVE MEMORIAL DAY

Special Services Will Be Held in Many Churches With Veterans in Attendance.

$200,000 CHURCH DEDICATION

Religious services and sermons commemorative of Memorial day will take place in churches of all denominations in the two cities tomorrow, while in many instances Grand Army posts and other military organizations will attend. Services in memory of early settlers buried in the old Turner burial ground, Squirrel Hill, will be held in the Mary S. Brown Memorial Methodist Episcopal church tomorrow morning, while a service for war veterans will be held in the evening. Encampment No. 1, Union Veteran Legion, Gen. Alexander Hays Post No. 3, G. A. R., Davis Star Camp, Sons of Veterans; Ellsworth Circle No. 42, Ladies of the G. A. R., and the Washington Infantry will attend services in the Fourth Avenue Baptist church tomorrow evening. Abe Patterson Post No. 88, G. A. R. will attend services in Trinity Methodist Protestant church, Allegheny, tomorrow morning, and St. Paul's German Lutheran church, Allegheny, in the evening. Trinity Signal Corps will attend service in Trinity Protestant Episcopal church in the morning. Col. John W. Patterson Post 151 G. A. R., will attend services in the South Eighteenth Street Methodist Protestant church in the evening. The Veteran Corps of the Eighteenth regiment, Duquesne Greys, will attend services in St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal church tomorrow evening.

After five years' work the new $200,000 Roman Catholic church of St. Mary's congregation, McKees Rocks, will be dedicated tomorrow. Three other important events in the history of the congregation will take place at the same time, the golden jubilee of the congregation, the twentieth anniversary of the ordination of the rector, the Rev. Adam Francis Tonner, and the fourteenth anniversary of his assumption of the rectorship of the parish.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Canevin of the Pittsburgh diocese will dedicate the church in the morning at 10 o'clock. Five masses will be celebrated simultaneously. The high mass at the main altar will be celebrated by the Rev. Joseph Suhr and the four low masses will be said by the Revs. Modestus Parolini, Joseph Dejon, Joseph V. Gerold and Julius Utecht. The church is gothic in architecture and occupies a whole square facing on St. John street. It has a seating capacity of 1,000, is expensively furnished, and contains many valuable imported statues and stained glass windows. Two immense towers grace the front of the building, one of which contains a massive clock which automatically rings the bell for Angelus at 6 o'clock in the morning and the same hour in the evening.

Services in commemoration of the twenty-third anniversary of the Sunday school of the First Primitive Methodist church, Holmes street, will begin tomorrow morning. Services will be held morning, afternoon and evening until and including June 4.

NELLIE BLY WINS SUIT FOR ABOUT $750,000

Court Sustains Her Claim for Patent Right in the Manufacture of Milk Cans.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 26.—Mrs. Elizabeth C. Seaman, once known as "Nellie Bly," the Pittsburgh newspaper writer, won an important suit against the Dairyman's Manufacturing Company today, when Judge George W. Ray of the United States circuit court in Norwich, Conn., handed down a decision in a patent case in favor of the Ironclad Manufacturing Company, of which she is president and treasurer. With the verdict in her favor went an order for an accounting of about $750,000 which she will demand.

Actions will be begun against every person who used the milk can manufactured by the Dairyman's company since the suit was instituted in 1900. In a few days fully 300 actions will be pending.

Fifty years ago the Ironclad Manufacturing Company began the manufacture of milk cans. H. E. Haigh was the inventor of the double neck sanitary can. The patents to this can he sold to the Ironclad Manufacturing Company in 1898. Two years afterward, it is alleged, the Dairyman's company began the making of a can which infringed upon the Haigh patent, and suit was entered.

PRESBYTERIANS SOUTH POSTPONE FEDERATION

FORT WORTH, TEX., May 26.—This afternoon by a vote of 94 to 82 the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church decided to accept the recommendation of the committee on federation that the committee be continued for another conference with other branches of the Presbyterian church, and report one year hence. The sentiment developed during the debate indicates strong opposition to any sort of union.

James McDonald Hangs Himself.

BUTLER, May 26.—(Special.)—James McDonald of Harrisville committed suicide yesterday by hanging himself. McDonald was born in Ireland and had lived in this country 25 years. He was active in the United Presbyterian church. He was 65 years old, and leaves a widow and family.

Rainey Denies Coke Deal.

Thomas J. Rainey, who has had charge of the Rainey coke interests since the death of W. J. Rainey, denied yesterday that there is any arrangement already made or in progress for the transfer of the Rainey coke properties to the H. C. Frick company. He said the Rainey company will continue to operate independently.

To Unveil Miner's Monument.

The executive board of the United Mine Workers met yesterday to arrange for the dedication of the monument to be unveiled next Tuesday in commemoration of the miners killed in the Harwick explosion. Vice President T. L. Lewis of Indianapolis will make the principal address.

Our College Stands High.

The general opinion that Pittsburgh has neglected higher education is not entirely true. The Pennsylvania College for Women is one of the oldest in the state and still maintains a high place. President S. A. Martin writes an interesting article for this week's issue of the Index, Pittsburgh's illustrated weekly, in which he discusses the question, which all Pittsburghers should read. Get it from your newsdealer, Saturday.

JUDGE THINKS CHARGE PROPER

ROYAL GRIMM IN COURT

Attorneys S. S. Robertson argued the motion for a new trial for Melvin H. Campbell, former superintendent of police of Allegheny, before Judges Shafer and Frazer yesterday. Robertson asserted that attorney for the prosecution, Mr. Marron, had said things to the jury not warranted by the evidence. He also claimed it was not a case of extortion, but the court replied it mattered not by what name it was called, the supreme court had ruled that where a public officer accepts money to do or not to do something not in the line of his duty, it constituted a misdemeanor and was indictable as such under the common law. He agreed that extortion might not be a good name to use for it, but it made little difference what it was called.

Attorney Robertson then attacked the character of the evidence, alleged the district attorney's office was being used in a way never before seen in this county, and also attacked the charge to the jury, picking out phrases which he claimed were unfair to the defense. Judge Shafer, however, remarked that the charge was perfectly proper.

Attorney John C. Haymaker made the argument against a re-trial. He claimed that Mr. Marron's address to the jury was justified by the evidence, and he denied emphatically there was any politics in the prosecution. He said but one man was behind it so far as he knew, that the general graft investigation grew out of the evidence that led to the revocation of Fred Tschume's liquor license, and that this testimony seemed sufficient at the time for the court to act in that case without the assistance of a jury. The court took the papers.

Think Boy Is Insane.

Royal Grimm, the 12-year-old Groveton boy who attempted to wreck a Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad passenger train near his home a few months ago by piling iron on the tracks, was before Judge Fraser in juvenile court. The boy had been before the juvenile court many times on account of his wild escapades. This time he was charged with attempting to burn the Boys' Industrial home at Oakdale. Young Grimm had been sent to the home by order of the court, but it is alleged his advent soon led to a reign of terror among the inmates and officers of the institution. On two different occasions the home was discovered to be on fire, and when the flames were extinguished an investigation always led to Grimm as having a knowledge of their origin. Things finally became so bad the officials of the home decided the boy was not in his right mind, and he was returned to juvenile court. Judge Frazer made an order committing young Grimm to the detention rooms at the jail until his mental condition can be inquired into.

Carmencia Colici, a pretty 14-year-old Italian was ordered sent to the Home of the Good Shepherd. She eloped with an Italian 15 years old, according to the story told Judge Fraser by her father, Fortunato Colici, of 820 Webster avenue. When questioned by the judge, Colici said he did not care what was done with the girl. "She did the same thing her mother did in Italy," he said. "Both ran away with men and left me. I don't care what becomes of her now."

Love Letters and Checks.

Love letters to the number of a dozen, together with telegrams and bank checks, were filed as evidence in the divorce suit of Mrs. Sarah E. Johnson of 6020 Broad street against her husband, Winfield S. Johnson, a prominent lumber dealer. The letters were filed with the report of the commissioner, also the testimony of Mrs. Johnson and other witnesses, who testify to an infimacy of the respondent with Annie M. Fiokes, also known as A. F. Miller, who is named as corespondent. Johnson has mills at Beaverdale, Pa., from which point many of the letters are dated and received, each of which speaks of a fervent love. Witnesses testify to numerous places the couple lived together and of trips taken to Wheeling, Altoona and St. Louis.

The report of the commissioner in the divorce suit of Alonzo J. Dimond against Jennie R. Dimond was also filed. Desertion is charged, but the husband testifies to his wife staying away from home nights and finally locating her in the house of May Turner, Robinson street, Allegheny.

The supreme court refused peremptory mandamuses in the petitions presented against Judges J. Sharp Wilson of Beaver county, James L. Galbraith of Butler county, and J. F. O'Connor of Cambria county. The petitions were filed by agents of the pure food commission and sought to set aside orders suspending sentence in several cases upon payments of costs for alleged violations of the pure food laws.

Suit Over Real Estate Sale.

Judge Young filed an opinion dismissing the bill at cost of the plaintiff in the equity suit of Gus Trau and Philip Lovener, trading as Trau & Lovener, against William L. Sloan, Earl Sloan and Leopold Vilsack. Attorney George H. Quail represents the Sloans and Attorney Jeremiah Dunlevy represents Vilsack. The bill was for the specific performance for the sale of real estate, alleging that the plaintiffs entered into an agreement with William L. Sloan for the purchase of a lot on Fifth avenue for $38,000. Telegrams were offered in evidence as constituting the agreements. It was alleged that Sloan refused to convey the land and that Earl Sloan entered into an agreement to sell the land to Vilsack.

The court finds that the telegrams are not sufficient to show an agreement with Sloan, as they were sent to A. A. Clark & Co., who acted as agent, and are not binding on Sloan.

Judge Over of orphans' court filed an opinion in the estate of Lincoln Oldshue, who died in 1886, leaving a will giving his property to a trustee for his wife during her life. The question determined by the court is the disposition of the estate after the wife's death, as regards two daughters. A codicil of the will placed their shares in trust for life, the property at their death going to their children, the trust not being subject to the control of their husbands. One of the daughters, Francis E., died childless, and the other, Mary A., died unmarried. The court directs their shares be distributed among their brothers and sisters as next of kin.

Brothers Want New Trial.

An argument for a new trial in the case of David and George Washington, brothers, convicted of highway robbery during the December term of court, was heard in criminal court before Judge Kennedy, who sat during that term. The Washington brothers, who are negroes, were alleged to have held up and robbed two foreigners near Turtle Creek. Attorney J. Wilford Holmes made the argument for the Washingtons and the court took the papers.

James Miuninger and Jacob Howarth filed a bill in equity against the borough of Monongahela to restrain it from allowing drainage from a sewer to cross the orators' property.

William R. Connor of Vandergrift filed a petition in bankruptcy, giving his liabilities as $2,348 00 and his assets as $265, in the petition of Clarence Waybrow of Allegheny the liabilities are given as $1,317 71 and the assets $55 50. An involuntary petition was filed against Patrick Finn, a grocer of Pittsburgh, by Arbuckles & Co., James A. McAtee & Co. and the Lavering Coffee Company. Their claims aggregate $2,942 12.

The case of Mrs. Florence W. O. McRae of Chicago against the borough of Duquesne was brought to a close in the United States circuit court before Judge Buffington. Mrs. McRae is appealing from the board of viewers of Duquesne, which allowed her $13,000 for damages to her property.

Executions issued: Wellsburg Banking and Trust Company vs. O. L. Badger, $6,850 24; R. L. Graham vs. F. P. Gable, $171 79; same vs. same, $125 77.

WILL FORCE BOROUGH TO PAY HER AWARD

Mrs. Agnes L. Callahan Takes Drastic Measures Against Councilmen and Officials of Wilkinsburg.

Because she would not remove an old building which did not suit the surroundings on Penn avenue, and grade a lot which stood above the street, Mrs. Agnes L. Callahan was forced to issue a writ of alternative mandamus against the councilmen of the borough of Wilkinsburg, the city clerk, Walter Elder, and R. L. Finley, treasurer, to compel the borough to pay her about $1,100.

This house is said to be one of the oldest in Wilkinsburg and has an interesting history. After the grading of Penn avenue, in which it is located, it set high above the surrounding property, and neighbors and adjoining property owners wanted the lot graded and the house removed, or at least set down and back to correspond with the surroundings. Councils and the borough could not force this, but it is claimed they held back the amount of money awarded the plaintiff by the viewers, or, at least, have taken no action on it. Mrs. Callahan claims she is entitled to her money and brings action to recover it.

The Peoples Savings Bank, Fourth Avenue and Wood Street is a place of safety and security for the accumulations of all who work and save. Deposits of any amount accepted and allowed at the rate of 4 per cent compound twice a year.

OFFICERS AND THIEVES HAVE RUNNING FIGHT

Rob Store in Swissvale and Are Surprised While Hurrying Away With the Plunder.

Three burglars, after robbing the hardware store of Hays & Coulter, in Monongahela avenue, Swissvale, yesterday morning, were detected by the police and escaped after a running fight of half a mile, during the course of which some 15 shots were exchanged. The entire lower part of the town was aroused.

About 3:30 Officer Thomas McAnulty saw three well-dressed men crossing the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad at the station, and noted they all carried bundles. He hailed them to inquire their business, when they started to run toward the Union Switch and Signal works. McAnulty drew his revolver and fired, but the men continued their flight.

The police station fronts on the railroad and Officers A. T. Shephard and John McCurdy, hearing the shots, ran to intercept the men. The robbers began to throw away their plunder in order to make their flight easier. Revolvers, knives, razors and cutlery of all descriptions were scattered along the tracks. The officers, seeing the men would not stop, began firing at them and the fire was returned by the robbers. It is not believed any of the shots took effect. When the robbers reached a ravine skirting the Edgewood golf links, they plunged down the bank and disappeared.

Upon the return of the officers from the chase the hardware dropped by the burglars was picked up and the proprietors of the store notified of the robbery. The thieves had secured an entrance by "jimmying" a back window after removing an iron grating. The cash drawer, containing $35 in money and several checks, was rifled. Goods to the amount of $200 were stolen. Over $50 worth of goods were recovered.

An Amicable Arrangement.

An agreement has been effected between the Barnum & Bailey circus management and the instance of the board of health of Pittsburgh, with the American Disinfectant Company, whereby the question of sanitation and disinfection of the show grounds during their engagement and immediately afterward has been solved, the circus having contracted with the American Disinfectant Company to thoroughly disinfect and deodorize the premises, menagerie and cages by the use of Creolol. This agreement overcomes the objection raised by property holders adjacent to the grounds and satisfies all concerned.

Take Up Miniatures Again.

Pittsburgh's society is taking up the fad of miniature paintings. Many years ago all the prominent families of the south and east had miniatures of their members. Later these gave way to dull crayons. Now, however, the painting with color of life has regained its hold on the public. This week's issue of the Index, Pittsburgh's society paper, contains a large number of these miniatures reproduced from their costly originals. On all news stands Saturday.

Proposals for publication of decisions of the superior court of Pennsylvania.

In pursuance of the provisions of section 6 of act of assembly, entitled "An act to establish an intermediate court of appeal; regulating its constitution, officers, jurisdiction, powers, practice and its relation to the supreme court, and other courts; providing for the reports of its decisions, the compensation of the judges and other officers and the practice and costs on appeals from its judgments," approved the 24th day of June, A. D. 1895, notice is hereby given that on Wednesday, June 21, 1905, at 12 o'clock a. m., at the office of the secretary of the commonwealth, in the city of Harrisburg, in conjunction with the auditor general and the state reporter of the supreme court, I will award the contract for the publication of the decisions of the superior court of Pennsylvania for the term of 10 years from said date.

Proposals must be sealed and indorsed "Proposals for the Publication of the Decisions of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania," and addressed and delivered to me at any time prior to the letting, and will be opened at the time and place mentioned.

Attention of bidders is invited to the subjoined sections of the act of assembly, the stipulations of which will be made part of the contract.

FRANK M. FULLER,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

AN ACT

To establish an intermediate court of appeal; regulating its constitution, officers, jurisdiction, powers, and its relation to the other supreme court and other courts; providing for the reports of its decisions, the compensation of the judges and other officers and the practice and costs on appeals from its judgments.

Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., That a court of intermediate appeal is hereby established to be called the superior court, and to be composed of seven judges learned in the law, who shall be elected by the qualified electors of the state, except as they may be appointed by the governor under the provisions of this act. Its jurisdiction shall extend throughout the commonwealth, and the first judges thereof shall be appointed by the governor before the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, if in session, and shall hold their office until the first Monday of January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-six. The terms of office of the elected judges of the court shall be ten years, to begin on the first Monday of January following their election.

* * * * * * *

Section 6. All the decisions of the said court shall be reported by the state reporter in volumes to be entitled "Pennsylvania Superior Court Reports," and for this service the reporter and his successors shall be allowed to employ an assistant at a salary of not more than two thousand dollars per year.

The said reports shall be printed on first-class book paper and bound in good full law sheep,

NEW YORK STOCKS DULL, BUT PRICES CLOSED FIRM

Net Gains in the Railroads Relatively Larger Than in the Industrials—Electric Held Steady in the Local Market.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The sales on the New York stock exchange yesterday fell considerably below 500,000 shares, the smallest total for any day of the week, but the tone of the market throughout the afternoon was firm and prices averaged higher at the close. The net changes, however, except in a few instances, were small.

At the opening there was some good buying on the higher London quotations and purchases by foreigners, and a rally was in progress when a dispatch announced the failure of a small national bank in an Ohio town. At any other time the incident would have passed entirely unnoticed; but Wall street has apparently exhausted its stock of rumors, and in the absence of important developments the professional traders, who are bearish, magnify any minor happening. This is what they did with the little bank failure, and for nearly an hour they pounded values vigorously. Declines ranging from 1 to 1⅝ per cent were soon established, but there was no outside selling pressure, and the market simply relapsed into dullness.

During the afternoon a slow but steady recovery set in and the early losses were recovered. In the final hour the advance continued and closing prices were at or near the highest of the day. The iron and steel issues showed insignificant net changes, and in the remainder of the industrial list the largest net gain was ⅝ per cent on Amalgamated Copper. There was a revival of gossip concerning the probability of an increased rate at the next dividend period, still about two months off, and it was again reported that at the annual meeting next month a financial statement, the first ever made, would be submitted to stockholders. This gossip, however, was hardly the cause of the rally in the stock, but rather an incident of the movement.

Ontario & Western, which closed 3¼ per cent higher for the day, and Erie, which closed fractionally higher, were the active features of the low-priced railroad stocks. The buying of both was accompanied by indefinite "deal" rumors, and London was said to be a purchaser of the first named. In the higher-class railroad investments the strongest issues were Union Pacific, New York Central, St. Paul and Pennsylvania, all of which closed firm and higher. Northern Pacific closed ½ per cent lower. The railroads reporting gross earnings for the third week in May showed more gains than losses.

Call loan rates remained easy at 2¼ to 2½ per cent, the final loan being at the higher rate. The preliminary estimates of the movements of currency indicated a slight gain in cash, but there is a probability of large changes in the loan item, which will govern the showing to be made in today's bank statement.

Cotton rallied and closed higher, but grain markets closed lower. May corn declined from 50 to 57¼c, but recovered to 58c. July wheat closed at the highest of the day. Bradstreet's report for the week showed exports of 1,221,000 bushels wheat and 1,325,000 bushels corn. The advance in the price of the latter this week has stimulated the marketing of the grain, primary receipts yesterday reaching 506,000 bushels, as compared with 322,000 bushels for the corresponding day last year.

The local stock market was dull, two-thirds of the business being in the low-priced mining shares. The activity in Westinghouse Electric subsided, the sales reaching only 770 shares, but the stock was firm, selling within a range of 82¼ to 81¼, and closing at 82 bid. Manufacturers Light and Heat was more active than for some time past, over 700 shares changing hands between 36 and 33, the close being 35 bid, a net loss of a dollar a share. Pittsburgh Oil and Gas was strong and on sales of less than 200 shares advanced to 61, closing at that price bid, a net advance of 2 per cent. Ohio Fuel Supply sold unchanged at 39½. Pittsburgh Coal issues remained dull and were rather heavy in tone, the common closing ⅛ lower at 18 and the preferred ¾ lower at 76½. The steel stocks were dull and rather heavy in tone, Crucible preferred closing ⅜ per cent lower at 91¼, and United States Steel preferred 1¼ per cent lower at 92¾. Luster Mining declined to 18 and recovered to 19. Tonopah Extension declined to $5 on sales of 2,100 shares, while Ohio Tonopah advanced slightly on sales of 5,150 shares, closing at 37 cents bid. The changes in the remainder of the list were not important. There were no transactions in bonds and prices were unchanged.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH.

Bulk of the dealings in the stock market consisted of low-priced mining shares.

Tonopah Extension declined while Ohio Tonopah closed higher.

Westinghouse Electric declined to 81¼, but rallied to 82 bid.

Pittsburgh Coal closed lower at 18 for the common and 76½ for the preferred.

Light and Heat was active, but closed a point lower at 35.

IN WALL STREET.

Dullest day of the week on the stock exchanges, but prices were firm.

Sales were only 2,680,000 shares stock and $426,000 bonds.

Ontario & Western and Erie the strongest of the low-priced railroads.

Only small net changes were recorded in the iron and steel stocks.

Northern Pacific closed lower, but Harriman stocks were higher.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The subsidence of activity in the New York stock market yesterday was natural in view of the absence of any actual developments of a favorable or unfavorable character and the uncertainty as to today's bank statement. Besides, the stock exchange will be closed on Tuesday next and on Friday the new law taxing transfers will go into effect. The governors of the New York stock exchange have made the following ruling: "In order to constitute a good delivery, after June 1, all deliveries on sales of stocks, whether by clearing house delivery ticket or by certificate of stock, must be accompanied by a sales ticket stamped in accordance with the act of the New York legislature." Under this ruling the operations of the room traders among themselves will be taxed the same as any other transaction. The effect will be to curtail operations by small professional traders.

There was no explanation for the decline of a dollar a share in Manufacturers' Light and Heat, which sold down to and closed at 35 bid. The selling was principally by one house, and the buying was scattered. At current prices the stock pays a little better than 8½ per cent.

The only transaction in the Independent Brewing issues was 10 shares of the preferred at 40½, and regular lots were offered at that price. Pittsburgh Brewing common sold unchanged at 26½, and 20 shares of the preferred sold at 46¾, an advance of ⅜.

A quotable lot of Union Trust was offered at $2,950 a share. The last sale of the stock was at $3,000 a share. Colonial Trust sold unchanged at 380, and 10 shares Marine National bank at 154, a decline of 6 points from the last previous sale.

Preston, Watt & Schoyer bought 1,000 shares Tonopah Extension at $5 a share. R. C. Hall sold.

The final sale of Pittsburgh Coal common in New York was at 18¼, an advance of ⅛. The preferred sold at 76¾, or a slight fraction above the local price. There was not enough difference between the two markets, however, to make scalping operations profitable, and trading was dull.

The final sale of Westinghouse Electric in New York was at the Pittsburgh equivalent of 82½, or a half point above the local market.

On the curb Fayette County Gas was offered at 85, with 84½ bid for small lots. Union Natural Gas was quoted at 101 bid, 103 asked. American Window Glass Machine preferred was offered at 32.

Pittsburgh bank exchanges increased $2,600,000 over the same day last year.

The death of Baron Rothschilds had no appreciable effect in foreign financial circles. French rentes were a shade lower, but other international securities were unchanged.

Union Pacific earnings are running very large at present. The net for April was something like 15 per cent above April net last year, and the gross earnings in May are well ahead of last year, although, as it will be remembered, they were very large at that time.

A New York stock exchange house was asked: "Which bond shall I buy, Rock Island refunding 4s, Oregon Short Line refunding 4s, or Southern Pacific refunding 4s?" The bonds are for permanent investment." The answer put the bonds in the following order: "Rock Island first, because it conforms to New York savings bank laws, hence the market will probably improve over a series of years. Oregon Short Line second, because the Union Pacific guarantee makes these bonds a double liability. Southern Pacific third, because security, market position and possibility of further financing are against its future."

The highest bid for the $1,000,000 City of Manila 4 per cent bonds was 109.5625, made by the First National bank of Columbus, O.

The general balance sheet of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal as of February 28, 1905, follows:

For the third week in May gross earnings of Southern Railway increased $41,870 and Louisville & Nashville increased $44,000.

With regard to the rumors circulated in Boston yesterday that the next dividend on Greene Consolidated Copper stock would be passed, it was authoritatively stated that no one man can decide this question, the meeting of the directors for action will not be held for over a week, but no reason exists why dividends should not be continued to be paid.

The proceeds of the $1,500,000 of Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh common stock listed Wednesday are to be used to pay the $513,975.16 additional cost to March 31, 1905, of the Indiana branch, over the amount provided by the issue of $2,000,000 of common stock made for the purpose; for additional second track between Ashford, N. Y., and Punxsutawney, Pa., and for other capital requirements. The $1,500,000 of stock has all been subscribed for and the first installment of 50 per cent, or $50 per share due on subscriptions was paid on February 10, 1905. On payment of the second installment of 50 per cent due June 12, 1905, the subscribers will be entitled to receive certificates of common stock for the amount of their certificates. The additional stock will participate in the dividends payable after February 15, 1905.

The average earnings per mile of track of 118 of the interurban roads of the United States for the year 1902 were $4,668. The West Penn Railways system, running from Greensburg to Uniontown, by the way of Scottdale, Mt. Pleasant, Connellsville, etc., last year earned $7,000 per mile, and at the present rate of increase it will be over $8,000 per mile for the year ending December 31, 1905.

The strength of Ontario & Western was a sustaining force for the whole market. This stock met active demand for London as well as from New York sources. It was rumored again that the New York Central and the New York, New Haven & Hartford had agreed upon terms for a joint guarantee of a dividend as the terms of a lease of the property. The rise of a point in New York Central and 2¾ in New York, New Haven & Hartford were pointed to as confirmation of this report, and Erie rose a point in sympathy.

The drop of five points in Great Northern preferred and of 3½ in Northern Pacific were pointed as evidence of the continued unsettlement of the railroad situation.

The United States Steel stocks were a weight upon the market for a time, and the disruption of the steel rail pool was the subject of much discussion as bearing on the trade situation. It was believed that the dissolution of this agreement would open the way to added competitive effort, which would be likely to lead to yielding prices and to withholding of orders. It was urged also that the abandonment of similar agreements in other branches of the trade was likely to follow. The United States Steel stocks were less responsive to the later improvement in prices than the majority of stocks.

CONTRACT IS LET FOR BIG BLOCK

C. D. & P. Telegraph Company to Build a $300,000 Structure in Montour Way.

TWO DOWNTOWN PURCHASES

After months of dilberation the Central District and Printing Telegraph Company has awarded to the Henry Shenk Company the contract for the 10-story building which it will erect in the rear of its Seventh avenue structure, between Montour way and Cherry alley. The cost of the building complete will be about $300,000. Plans for it were drawn by Architects Alden & Harlow over a year ago, and bids have been taken several times. Each time the project has been postponed and of late weekly meetings of the directors have been held at which advices from the Bell headquarters in the east were awaited pending the letting of the contract. The proposed building will have a steel frame, will be nre-proof throughout and in every way will be a modern structure. It will have a frontage of 80 feet in Montour way and will tower above the present office building of the company at Seventh avenue and Montour way, which is only seven stories high.

Part of the site is now occupied by a four-story brick warehouse. Some of this building will be torn down and the remainder will be remodeled at a cost of $8,500 and made a part of the larger structure. A big light well will be provided in the center of the new building, which will be started at once. Next week the contract will be awarded for a power house to cost $75,000, and which will supply steam heat, electric light and power to all the buildings of the company at this point. The building just completed will be used for the traffic and operating departments of the company, leaving the Seventh avenue building for offices exclusively.

Sales That Start Conjectures.

Two more significant sales of downtown property were announced yesterday. One is the sale of 542 Fourth avenue, owned by John Murphy, the Sheraden banker, through the Samuel W. Black Company, for a price approximately $30,000. The lot is 24x80 feet and is improved with a two-story brick house. This property adjoins the Edwards property, which was sold Thursday for $50,000, the names of the buyers of both lots being a secret. These sales, with that of the Tree of Life property across the avenue for $87,000, have started a train of inquiries as to the reason for the rise and buying around this corner at this time, especially as the prices paid are away in advance of anything offered previously. Mr. Murphy bought 542 in 1883 for $12,000, so that he more than doubled his money. The Edwards lot was sold by article of agreement last year for $50,000, and the lot 24x80 feet, on the 1904 the church property was on the market at $50,000 for a long time without an offer.

The other downtown purchase was made by D. Herbert Hostetter, who secured from Orlando M. Harper a one-third interest in 225 Third avenue, adjoining the holdings of the Bank of Pittsburgh, for $10,000. This is the lot figure at the rate of $30,000 for 19x85 feet. An ordinary three-story brick building is the only improvement. The lot is directly in the rear of 238x86 feet at 222 Fourth avenue, which Mr. Hostetter has owned for some time and which is improved with a brick building formerly occupied by brokers' offices. The strip extending through from one street to the other is a key property and the purchase may mean that the site will be improved with better buildings.

W. I. Mustin Gets the Virginia.

W. I. Mustin, the Fourth avenue broker, is the buyer of the Virginia apartments in Enoin street, the sale of which was published in The Gazette yesterday. Coyle Brothers handled the deal, in which John McSorley, the owner of the apartments, got from Mr. Mustin 200x300 feet at the southwest corner of Wightman and Meeker streets, Thirty-second ward. This frontage was put into the deal at $40,000 and the apartments at $85,000. The frontage is in one of the most desirable parts of Squirrel Hill and Mr. McSorley will improve it with either high-class houses or an apartment house.

The Fidelity Title and Trust Company handled the sale of the Rebecca C. Diller property at West Ohio street and Sherman avenue, Allegheny, for $25,000, mentioned in The Gazette yesterday. The buyer is R. W. Carter.

Barnet Davis has bought from Avrahem Friedland an improved property, 45x100 feet, at the southeast corner of Center avenue and Overhill street, Eleventh ward, for $17,500. Friedland paid $15,000 for the property.

More Sales in First Ward.

The activity in First ward real estate in Allegheny continues and two more sales were made known yesterday. C. F. Ingham, who has figured quite extensively as a seller in this ward, has sold to an unknown purchaser 634 Rebecca street, at the corner of School st., I., for $22,700. The lot is 40.5x78 feet and is improved with a three-story brick building, occupied as a drug store.

The property of S. I. Lesyle at 923-25 West Lacock street, has also been sold for $8,000. It consists of a lot 40.5x160 feet, extending through to Ann street, and having two old brick houses in front and one dwelling in the rear.

Henry Phipps is making good progress with the work on his site in the First ward, Allegheny, for model tenement houses. Under the direction of the superintendent, H. B. Naylor, test holes are now being drilled on the lot at Rebecca and School streets for the foundation. It is expected that work on the latter will be started early in June. Plans for the buildings have been practically completed and show four-story brick structures, reproof and fireproof, to hold prices at the high level that prevailed the past two days. The market was weak at the start, the May option being off 2c at 60c. Before the first 15 minutes had elapsed the price had dropped to 58c. Two or three subsequent slumps carried the price down to 55¾c. An estimate of nearly 700 cars for tomorrow was a vital factor late in the day.

Buying by shorts caused a fair recovery, but the close was weak at 58c. Weakness of May had a depressing effect on the July option. After opening a shade to ⅛@¼c lower, at 49½ to 49¾c, July sold off to 48¾@48½c and closed at 47½c. An improvement in cash demand held the cash market steady, notwithstanding the weakness of corn. July opened unchanged at 30½c, sold off to 30¼c and closed at 30½c. Local receipts were 139 cars.

Provisions were easier as a result of a 5c decline in the price of live hogs, following liberal receipts. The volume of business was small. At the close July pork was off 5c, at $12 47½. Lard was down 2½c at $7 25. Ribs were a shade lower at $7 20@7 22½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 1 car; corn, 504 cars; oats, 104 cars; hogs, 14,000 head.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The drainage tunnel committee of Cripple Creek mine owners has under consideration the construction of a $750,000 tunnel which would drain the entire gold camp and be a benefit to all properties in the district. The proposed tunnel would be five miles long, 8x12 feet, and would require five years for its completion. Although the matter is still only a matter of discussion it is thought that favorable action will be taken by the prominent mine owners of the district.

George L. Keener, operating under lease blocks 64 to 69 of the Globe Hill company of the Stratton estate, will resume sending out ore shipments and from this time on expects to keep up an average of a carload of ore a day.

The lessee is now working in a wonderful body of ore practically at the surface. The larger part of the ore shoot is returning values as high as three ounces to the ton in gold.

The lessee started to work at cross-cutting from the Chicago and Crippie Creek tunnel to determine whether or not this same ore shoot extends to his depth, which is 800 feet below the surface.

Lessee Webster, operating on the International claim, located on Gold Hill, has opened up a nice body of ore a short distance north of the shaft at a depth of 350 feet.

While the ore shoot only measures from three to 12 inches in width at the present time, the values will run several thousand dollars to the ton. The ore is being sacked and will probably be sent out by express.

The lessee is satisfied that he has only just opened the top of the ore shoot, so it is his intention immediately to sink 100 feet. Lower when he will upraise to catch the ore which will allow considerable stoping ground and make more economical handling possible.

There are 10 sets of sub-lessees operating on this property, five of whom are working in good ore. Probably the best showing of a company is that of Lessee Curnew, who is breaking a body of ore from three to four feet in width on the eighth level, which is giving returns of five ounces of gold to the ton.

The shaft of the American Eagle mine is the deepest in the district, being 1,535 feet below the surface and in several instances, where the ore has been found at the lowest point, the shoots are widening instead of narrowing with depth. Values are also getting better with depth.

The Metal Markets.

NEW YORK, May 26.—The London tin market was again lower, closing at £136 15s for spot and £126 2s 6d for futures. Locally the market was easy, with trading still very quiet. Spot closed at $29 87½@30 37½. Copper closed at £64 5s and at £64 7s 6d for spot and futures, respectively, in the London market, which represented a slight decline. The local market was unchanged, with lake and electrolytic quoted at $15 00 and casting at $14 75. Lead was a shade higher in London at £12 17s, while it remained unchanged at $4 50@4 60 in the local market. Spelter was unchanged at £23 12s 6d in London and ruled weak at $5 45@5 55 locally. Iron closed at 49s 10d in Glasgow and at 45s 11½d in Middlesboro. Locally iron was unchanged. No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $17 00@17 50, No. 2 foundry northern, $16 50@17 00; No. 1 foundry southern and No. 1 foundry southern soft, $17 00@17 25; No. 2 foundry southern, $16 50@16 75.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, May 26.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 5 points on steady cables and support from importing interests. Later the market became more active and continued to advance on covering prompted by the closing advance in Havre and larger warehouse deliveries pointing to a good decrease in the world's visible supply statement for the month. The close was steady net 5@10 points higher. Sales were reported of 55,750 bags, including June at 6.30@6.35c; July at 6.45c, August at 6.55c, September at 6.60@6.65c, October at 6.65 @6.70c, December at 6.85@6.95c, January at 6.95c; March, 7.00c. Spot Rio steady; No. 7 invoice, 8c; mild dull; Cordova, 10@13c.

Sugar—Raw firm; fair refining, 3¾c; centrifugal, 96 test, 4¾@4 13-32c; molasses sugar, 3¼c. Refined steady.

FLOUR HITS NEW HIGH SPOT IN LOCAL MARKET

Dealers Believe It Has Reached Its Limit and Decline Will Soon Follow.

Flour made another advance yesterday and is today quoted at $6 20 and $6 30, with one dealer quoting $6 25 as the low figure. It is believed this is the top, however, and that no further advance will be made and the decline will commence in a few days. The government wheat report indicates that the United States will get back into the list of the world's greatest wheat producing countries this year. The indications are that the winter wheat crop will run over 430,000,000 bushels, and this will be materially added to by the spring wheat crop. In the face of this it is contended there can be no reason for the present high price of wheat and flour.

The green goods market enjoyed an excellent day yesterday, and more business was transacted than for some weeks. North Carolina strawberries are now out of the market and the Delaware stock has taken their place. The quality of the fruit is better than it was a few days ago. Maryland and Virginia berries are cutting a big feature in the markets. Prices are almost as low as they get when the home stock is on sale.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts of hay and grain yesterday were as follows: Pennsylvania lines, 22 cars hay, 4 cars oats, 1 car corn; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 6 cars hay, 3 cars oats; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 4 cars hay, 1 car oats.

Timothy hay went down a little yesterday under lighter demand and heavy receipts. Corn held its own in spite of the slump in the western market, but this was chiefly because the receipts were light. Oats are firm and a good sale for all that arrive. Bran advanced sharply, but this is believed to be due largely to the wheat movement. In general the condition of the market was satisfactory.

FOR SALE

Want Producing Properties, but the Prices Are Held Too High

There is a noticeable increase in the demand for producing properties. For some reason not apparent there has been more inquiries for purchasable producing properties than at any time during the year. There is a little on the market, but the asking price is much higher than the average would be purchaser is willing to pay. In the salt sand district, in Ritchie county, R. G. Gillespie has purchased from Lowther and others their producing property, consisting of leases on about 1,500 acres, with 16 barrels a day of net production, and the price it is stated was $36,000. The valuation of the purchase is to be rated on the acreage acquired, rather than the present daily production.

Dusters figured to a considerable extent in the late developments in the lower southwest fields. On Franks run, in McClellan district, Doddridge county, the Rider Oil Company has drilled its test on the T. W. Ansell farm through the Big Injun and has a duster. On McElroy creek, near Center Point, Shirley district, Doddridge county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 3 on the Laura Sweeny farm through the Big Injun and the hole has filled up 700 feet with fluid. It will make a light pumper. The first well completed on this farm started at better than 100 barrels a day.

On Middle Island creek, Ellsworth district, Tyler county, Barnesdall & Co. have drilled their test on the John Thomas farm through the Big Injun and have a duster. Work in this district has been suspended.

West of Mannington, on Batschelmer run, Marion county, the Delmar Oil Company has drilled its No. 1 on the J. C. Hays farm through the 30-foot and found nothing in that formation. They will drill deeper. In the same district, the Freehold Oil and Gas Company gave its No. 1 on the Benjamin Grubb farm a second dose of the high captivative fluid and it responded by placing 275 barrels to its credit the first 24 hours. In the same district, Treese & Beaudoin's No. 1 on the Jacob Holden farm are producing 200 barrels a day. No. 2 was touched a few days ago with a light shot.

In the deep sand district, north of Fairview, the South Penn has drilled its No. 1 on the W. J. Wise farm deeper into the fourth sand and the hole has filled up 1,600 feet with fluid. In the same locality the same company is drilling in the fourth sand at its No. 28 on the Maughl-Wheeler farm and has found no oil or gas. The sand is close and hard and unless it improves with deeper drilling will not make a producer. In the Littleton district, Wetzel county, the South Penn has drilled its test on the S. A. Carnow farm through the fourth sand and developed no oil or gas. In the same district the South Penn has drilled its test on the M. Bradley farm through the fourth sand and has developed a light gas pressure. North of the Fairview district, Marion county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has drilled old No. 1 on the Isaac Lemley farm, from the Big Injun in the Coffee sand at a shade over 1,500 feet, for a 15-barrel pumper. In the Baldwin district, Hartford county, the South Penn has put its No. 5 on the J. D. Law farm to pumping from the Gordon, and it is producing 10 barrels a day.

In the Tollow Creek district, Calhoun county, the South Penn has given its No. 5 on the Rose L. Norman farm a shot and it produced 250 barrels the coming 18 hours. In the same district, the South Penn company has drilled its No. 3 on the Reese Camden farm through the Berea grit and has a producer, good for 75 barrels a day.

On the Ohio side in the Keener development near New Matamoras, Monroe county, W. C. Lowrie has completed his No. 2 on the A. T. Fauble farm and has a producer good for 100 barrels a day from the Keener sand.

LEADER STORE IS OPEN TO PUBLIC

Great New Department Palace in Old Gusky Building Has Its Opening Day.

MANY VISITORS ARE GREETED

With music and flowers and a crush of visitors and customers that was simply remarkable, the new store of the Leader Co-Operative department store was opened yesterday morning in the old Gusky building, corner of Fourth avenue and Market street. It looked like the good old times to see the corner made famous by the enterprise and business sagacity of the late J. M. Gusky again a busy market.

It is safe to say there never was a more popular place in this city than the old corner under the Gusky regime, and it seems to have lost none of its popularity, judging from the crowds which thronged every department of the big, new store yesterday. The doors opened at 9 o'clock and a few minutes later there was a vast crowd of customers and sight-seers pushing their way in. The company has been doing a great amount of advertising and the benefit was fully apparent. From every section of the county, from McKeesport, Homestead, Carnegie, Braddock, Sharpsburg and all the other towns of the Greater Pittsburgh, there were hundreds of representatives, while from cities as far away as Connellsville, Beaver, New Brighton, and even some across the state line in Ohio, there were guests at this opening. And they did not all come to see only. They came to buy and the opening day was a pleasing promise of what wide-a-wake business methods and square dealing can bring about.

McCreery's Pretty Compliment.

The outer walls of the big store were covered with the banners of every nation, although Old Glory fluttered out from every window. Inside painters and decorators have been at work for weeks, and they had arranged a bower of beauty for yesterday. Flowers were everywhere and one of the most pleasing things was a big bunch of American beauty roses sent from McCreery Brothers, Pittsburgh's great new store in Wood street, as a token of good will to the newest great store in Market street. It was a pretty little compliment for one business house to pay another, and the Leader people fully appreciated it.

The store is beautifully stocked with the latest, best and most fashionable in everything that men and women can want to wear, to eat or to use. For this is truly a department store, where every member of the family can supply his or her every want under the one roof. The big store was not open an hour before the public seemed to discover that here was the place to get bargains in really pure groceries. For the rest of the day the grocery department was thronged and when quitting time came last evening there was a tired lot of clerks. But they were happy. The success of their employers was their triumph and there was a glad look in the faces of all of them which told as plainly as if they had spoken, that it was that happy three feeling, which needs more of the same cause to cure it and not sarsaparilla.

The Leader is the largest co-operative store in America. It is not new to Pittsburghers, the company having been doing business in Fifth avenue for the past couple of years. Although the Fifth avenue storeroom had a frontage of but 20 feet, the concern did a business of over a half million dollars last year. This year, in the new place, the company expects to do at least $2,000,000 worth. That is the figure for which it is aiming the first year.

Management of the Venture.

One thing about the new store and which augurs for its success—in fact it is what has already made its success, is that every department is in charge of an expert in that line. Albert Silberberg is the president and general manager, and no better man for the position could have been selected. He began life as a cash boy, and worked his way from the bottom to the top. His initial experience was with Field, Leiter & Company, of Chicago, now the great Marshall-Field stores. After working a couple of years as a cash boy he became a salesman and after a term in that position he became associated with Mandel Brothers, of Chicago. His abilities as a salesman were speedily recognized here and his services came into demand. He served with several other Chicago houses both as a department manager and a general manager until he bought out the firm of Atha & Atha, in Fifth avenue, this city, a little over a year ago. His management of this business was such that it increased in a little over a year from $100,000 a year to $500,000. The secret of his success was advertising and then making good and he proposes to carry out this same rule in the big, new store.

There is everything one could want here in bewildering array. Every floor is stocked with the best the market affords in the line devoted to that space. On the first floor is the notion department, the second floor is ladies' wearing apparel, the third men's, and the fourth groceries. The grocery department is one of the largest grocery houses in the city, and the Leader company takes pride in saying that nothing goes over the counters there which would not pass the most rigid inspection of the pure food department.

Owners in Evidence.

The success of the opening day yesterday was beyond what had been anticipated. When the clouds rolled up in the morning and the downpour of rain commenced, the proprietors of the new venture felt that it would have a deterrent effect on visitors. But nothing of the kind proved true. Through the rain they came in crowds and there was not a minute of the day that the great building was not crowded to the very doors. The elevators were kept busy carrying them up and down. Here and there they tramped, prying, looking and buying. Everybody was busy and everybody in a good humor. It made one feel good to be in that crowd. Hundreds of them were stockholders in the concern, for the Leader company stock is for sale to the public at $10 a share and the price is such that thousands in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia have availed themselves of this chance for investment. Stockholders receive the benefit of a discount in all their purchases, along with the additional prospect of dividends when the business reaches the proportions that it will support them. So there were many in that crowd of visitors yesterday who had a personal interest in the welfare of the establishment. It was "our store" with them, and they were at the opening to see what their own prospects were. And it is safe to say none of them went away disappointed.

The big store building has been entirely overhauled in the past couple of months. Cleaners, painters, carpenters, glaziers, decorators, all kinds of tradesmen have been at work. The Gusky stores had been getting dingy in the last few years of their life. The interior had been smoked and darkened with time and Pittsburgh atmosphere. The big building was a dismal sort of place. All this was changed yesterday. The paint brush had worked wonders. The interior was spotlessly white. The decorators had added a touch, here and there. Electric light lent its assistance and the piles and piles of showy goods and the wreaths of smilax, the bouquets of flowers, the decorative plants, all gave it a fairyland appearance that made one think of looking at a scene from some beautiful opera instead of a prosaic opening of a new business house.

And that is the opening of Pittsburgh's latest business establishment on a large scale. That the new store will meet with success seems to go without saying. That 25,000 people crowded down there yesterday seems sufficient answer to the harpers who were sure the crowd could never be induced to go so far from what everybody has been pleased to think is the center of all things in Pittsburgh—Fifth avenue. The crowd went yesterday and it is safe to say it will go again. Today is expected to be another big day at the store. And they will be in still better shape to take care of the thousands of visitors who are expected.

ELLA M'CARTNEY AGAIN.

West End Girl Brings Suit Charging Assault and Battery on Account of a Lover.

Ella McCartney, the West End girl who took a dose of laudanum in the Baltimore & Ohio station last week, was the prosecutrix in a unique lawsuit in Alderman Groetzinger's office yesterday morning. Assault and battery was the charge and Mrs. Anna Anderson and her two daughters of Independence street, West End, were the defendants. So complicated was the evidence that the alderman reserved his decision until next Wednesday.

According to the testimony, which was offered amid much bantering and interruption from the spectators, the suit resulted from a love affair in which Miss McCartney called at the Henderson household to have an understanding regarding the matrimonial status of "Ted-dy McLain." It was testified that Miss McCartney was "very vulgar," and she was ordered from the house. When she hesitated, she was reminded with a "gentle shove" which sent her into the street. Miss McCartney will have to answer a charge of disorderly conduct before a Sharpsburg justice of the peace this morning.

TECH SCHOOL PLANS ARE APPROVED BY COMMITTEE

The Carnegie Technical schools committee of the Carnegie Institute board yesterday afternoon approved the plans for the plumbing, heating and lighting of the new buildings, and a list of the contractors who will be invited to bid on the work was submitted by Palmer & Hornbostel, the architects for the schools. The bids will be opened on June 7. The list of contractors represents about 10 firms for each class of work, the lucky contractors being equally divided among New York and Pittsburgh concerns.

PROPOSES GREATER CITY CELEBRATION ON FOURTH

Director Bigelow promises to have a big Fourth of July celebration if the supreme court soon hands down a favorable decision on the Greater Pittsburgh law. "We must have the decision soon," said he yesterday, "for if the supreme court delays the decision the idea of having a celebration in which both cities can unite must be abandoned." It has been proposed to invite President Roosevelt and Secretary of War Taft and to have a demonstration that will boom the larger city.

LARGE PARTY VISITS NEW ROCK POINT PARK

Results of $50,000 Spent to Improve the Famous Resort Made Apparent.

Committeemen of many organizations, officials of the Pennsylvania lines and representatives of Pittsburgh and other Western Pennsylvania newspapers were the guests yesterday afternoon of the Rock Point Amusement Company, which showed for the first time the remarkable results obtained by the expenditure of over $50,000 on improvements.

The party included close to 100 people. A special train tendered by the Pennsylvania lines left the Union station at 2 p. m., in charge of Conductor J. H. Owston. The two hours following the arrival of the party was spent in an inspection of the 150 acres of woodland and the many picnic attractions installed under the direction of Architect J. F. Kuntz of the W. G. Wilkins Company. Especial attention was paid to the "Portsiyle" which is said to be the most elaborate and costly feature ever installed outside of a national or international exposition.

Following the inspection, dinner was served at the hotel on the grounds. At the after-dinner session, Frank Van Dusen, chief assistant general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines, was toastmaster, and a number of addresses were made complimenting the park management on what it had already accomplished.

The party was under the personal escort of President and General Manager James G. Sansom and Treasurer Charles T. Montgomery of the park company, assisted by J. A. Henry of the same company. President W. G. Wilkins and Architect J. F. Kuntz of the W. G. Wilkins Company, also accompanied the guests, while from the Pennsylvania lines went:

Frank Van Dusen, chief assistant general passenger agent; Charles Watts, general superintendent of passenger transportation; H. I. B. Blair, assistant general manager; E. R. Eschelman, advertising manager; E. T. Whiler, superintendent, Eastern division, Ft. Wayne system; J. K. Dillon, district passenger agent; Fred B. Sankey, traveling passenger agent; James K. Scott, chief clerk, auditor of passenger receipts; Samuel Rankin, chief clerk general superintendent of passenger transportation; William E. Perry and Fred Ashley, general manager's office.

The committeemen on the trip included the Rev. H. J. Schub, the Rev. C. H. Marshall, George W. Felgo, C. K. Gardner, J. M. McNair, W. J. Marinness, William Hart, A. D. Gue, E. M. Roberts, William Ray, George Homer Anderson, R. A. Kennedy, Frank P. Blackmore, Morris G. Cohen, N. J. H. Gerwig, E. J. Montgomery, John A. Keys, John C. Langan, John McGonigle, F. M. Storer, W. L. Knorr, C. H. Douglas, Charles Hemlinghouse, Charles Schaffer and John Freker.

THE THREE RIVERS

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 4.4 feet and the river was stationary.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., May 26.—At 6 p. m. today the Ohio river at Cincinnati was 16.2 feet and falling. Today's departures of packets from the port of Cincinnati were: Greenwood, Pomeroy; Courier, Marseille, and City of Louisville, Louisville. The boats of the Cincinnati and Pittsburgh packet line are beginning to feel the heavy travel of the summer excursionists. The boats of this line make they trip in a week and are largely patronized. The towboats Valiant and Darling are due Saturday with coal from Pittsburgh. These will be the last boats with coal from Pittsburgh until another rise comes. Clear and pleasant.

LOUISVILLE—River falling. In canal, 6.8; on the falls, 4.6, below the locks, 16.7. Clear and pleasant.

PARKERSBURG—River 7 feet and falling. Clear and mild. The Bessie Smith left at 8 p. m. for Pittsburgh.

OIL CITY—River 1 foot 2 inches and falling. Clear and cooler.

WARREN—River 1 foot. Light rains.

GREENSBORO—River 7.4 and falling. Warm, with showers. Hite down on Saturday. Columbia up.

POINT PLEASANT—River 6 feet 5 inches and falling. Up, Valiant, Tom Reese. Down, Queen City, Tacoma, Robert P. Gilliham.

MORGANTOWN—River 6 feet 6 inches and stationary. Rainy.

MARIETTA—River 6 feet and falling. Warm. Bessie Smith due down from Pittsburgh.

GALLIPOLIS—River 8 feet 6 inches and falling. Weather cloudy and warm, with showers.

STEUBENVILLE—River 4 feet 9 inches and falling. Weather clear and warm. Up—Sam Brown at 6 a. m.; Josh Cook at 7 a. m.; Mariner at 10 a. m., and Ed Roberts at 11.15 a. m.

WHEELING—River 5 feet 7 inches and falling. Clear, cooler. Departed—Bessie Smith, Parkersburg, 10 a. m.; Virginia, Pittsburgh, 10 a. m.; E. A. Woodcuff, down, 10 a. m. Up with empties, Jim Wood, 5 a. m.

COLUMBUS PEOPLE VISITING.

Steamer Lorena Brings a Large Party from the Ohio Capital.

The Muskingum valley packet steamer Lorena brought a large party of Columbus, O., people to Pittsburgh yesterday who had engaged passage for the round trip. This is the first large party which has come from the Ohio capital via the Muskingum valley route, and the members were all delighted with the trip. The people of Central Ohio have just discovered that Pittsburgh can be approached by river. Several weeks ago a large party of city councilmen and officials from Columbus made the trip to Pittsburgh from Cincinnati by boat. They returned home and spread the news of the delights of a river voyage. Now half of Columbus is saving its money to take its vacation on the rivers.

The Greenland got in from Charleston yesterday with a heavy consignment of freight and a number of passengers.

Capt. John F. Klein's here side wheel excursion boat, Liberty, arrived early yesterday morning from Charleston and went to the Dravosburg docks for some slight repairs. She will make her initial trip Monday, when the Harvard club, with President Charles Eliot of Harvard university and a number of guests of the club, will make a trip up and down the river on her.

The I. C. Woodward, the Morgantown side wheel racket, will not go into commission until June 1. It had been intended to put her into the trade today.

Harbor 25 held a special meeting yesterday and transacted a lot of extra business. Nominations for officers will be made at the meeting two weeks from next Monday and the election will follow a week later.

Capt. Ira B. Huntington of Gallipolis, traveling passenger and freight agent of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati packet line, is in Pittsburgh on business.

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies; those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in over
